INTERVENTION.

the intervention of the for the purpose of preventing interruption to shipbuilding work now in progress does not concern the strike vote, Burton said. The men contend they are working for their employers and not for the government.

Membership of unions affiliated with the council totals 24,000, it was said. Ninety per cent. of these men are working on emergency shipbuilding for the government. The demands include a 50 per cent. increase in wages, or a minimum of $6 a day. A 10 per cent. increase has been offered.

UNITED RAILROADS.

The strike of platform men of the United Railroads for higher wages, shorter hours and recognition of the Carmen's Union was marked today by cessation of disturbances and an apparently unbreakable deadlock of all efforts toward arbitration of differences.

Police vigilance was maintained in all sections of the city.

The San Francisco Board of Supervisors today formally called upon the State Railroad Commission to ascertain upon what ground the United Railroads here based its statement that its financial condition precluded the granting of the demands of platform employees.

The board of health announced it will immediately bring to the attention of Dist.-Atty. Charles M. Fickert alleged continual violations of the new State housing law at the company's barns.

More cars were run today than at any other time since the beginning of the strike, company officials announced.

The day was marked by an absence of violence. The stoning of several cars and an attack upon a substitute motorman were the only lawless acts reported to the police.

BERNSTORFF ARRIVES AT CONSTANTINOPLE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Count von Bernstorff, former German Ambassador at Washington, recently appointed Ambassador to Turkey, has arrived at Constantinople, according to a dispatch from Amsterdam to the Central News Agency.

Count Czernin von Chudenitz, the Austro-Hungarian Foreign Minister, has returned to Vienna from Berlin, where he went to confer with the German authorities regarding the reply of the Central Powers to the peace note of Pope Benedict.

JAPANESE RESTLESS.

Ishii Mission is not Quite Pleased.

Lansing Wards Off All Their Efforts to Bring up the "Vital" Issues.

Americans may be Asked to Send a Delegation to the Land of Nippon.

BY CHARLES MICHELSON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 11.—The Japanese mission is not entirely happy over the progress it has made. It has had a delightful time socially, and its conferences with our executive departments, though vague and sketchy, have been cordial and agreeable.

They have talked generalities about the common aims and objects of the two countries. They have been almost definite about the need of Japan for our steel in order that she might contribute adequately to the restoration of the world's shipping, slaughtered by the submarines, and that is as far as they have been able to get.

VITAL MATTERS.

The Japanese would like to talk about some matters of more vital and immediate importance in their relations, to us in particular, and the rest of the world in general. But when they bring up those topics our Mr. Lansing, no tyro in the art of steering away from subjects that might lead where he does not wish to go, cheerfully abstains from bringing them up himself.

It is not a question of sending Japanese troops to the European fronts. They could not reach the Russian front, for the Trans-Siberian Railway could not handle half a million men and the supplies they need, even if Russia wanted them, which she does not. There are no ships available to get them to the western front, if they were wanted there.

Japan intends to make its power felt in the war by adding to its fleet of destroyers that are already helping to clear the Mediterranean of submarines; she means to place her merchant ships at the disposal of the Allies even more completely than she has done; in fact, she is willing to do pretty much anything the Allies suggest.

As a preliminary, Japan would like an American commission to visit Nippon. They want to return the courtesies that have been extended their mission, and want the United States to understand their situation—and incidentally when they are the hosts the initiative will be with them and the subjects that have been taboo over here can naturally be brought up.

ANOTHER COMING.

There is another commission forming in Japan to visit this country. It is to be composed of representatives of the four Japanese political parties, and two representatives of the Japanese government. It is to spend some months in this country studying our war preparations in order to advise its own government how it can co-operate to the best advantage.

Our Japanese friends are a little bit more astute than any diplomat in the world. They cannot be put off by amiable entertainment. The questions they want to ask they are going to have answered, and it is a question if this country is going to gain anything by postponing the discussion of the real matters that brought the mission to America.

With an American delegation in Tokio—and we can hardly decline the cordial invitation that will be extended—and a representative Japanese mission touring America looking into our national army camps and making ingenuous inquiries, we are bound to understand each other before the year is out.

THE NAVAL ROW.

War time is not a good time to get even. For years the Navy League—or some of its officers, for like all other volunteer organizations, it consisted of a governing few who sail the ship and a flock of passengers who pay no attention to the steamship—nourished a grouch against Secretary Daniels. The why of that grouch is too long and too technical to be gone into. It is complicated with social and professional rivalries and it became involved in the navy feud—that mysterious division of the fleet officers into pro-Daniels and anti-Daniels factions, which in turn has its roots in a professional feeling that no civilian can know anything about a ship and that any departure from the customs of the days of John Paul Jones is profane, sacrilegious and treasonable bourgeoise and bounderish.

The explosion at Mare Island navy yard furnished the occasion that somebody had been looking for. One of the grouchy officers told somebody in the league that a fuse had been discovered leading to the exploded magazine and the Navy League came out with a bulletin accusing the head of the navy with hampering an investigation because

KORNILOFF REBELLION RUSSIA'S SUPER-CRISIS.

Heavy Guns of the Insurgents Said to be Bombarding the Positions of Government Troops.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PETROGRAD, Sept. 12, 10 a.m.—Gen. Korniloff's march toward Petrograd continues. According to a statement circulated at the Winter Palace early this morning and which is repeated in today's newspapers, but which has not been officially confirmed or denied, the first collision between the troops and the government forces already has taken place, the followers of Korniloff having begun the hostilities by bombarding government positions with heavy guns.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 10.—In answer to a request, Premier Kerensky has made the following statement to the Associated Press for transmission to the American people:

"In view of the fact that the Cabinet is sitting uninterruptedly, discussing measures, the premature announcement of which is impossible, I am obliged to withhold a general statement until later when conditions and prospects may be clearer than now. You may nevertheless announce the following:

"The situation with respect to the conflict between the provisional government and the revolting commander-in-chief is more serious than we earlier contemplated, and it is impossible to predict what developments may ensue in the next few hours. But as regards the fundamental position there is no doubt. The fundamental position is that the Petrograd supreme government is absolutely unanimous in favor of all decisive measures which we have prepared and are preparing against the present attempt by a military rebel in alliance with the reactionary elements of the country to exploit the fatherland's internal troubles in order to effect a counter-revolution with the design of robbing the Russian peoples of their hard-won liberties.

"So much for the government. Regarding the nation, I declare that I have no doubt whatever that the mass of the population is behind the government in its new fight for freedom, and, that being so, I have no doubt whatever about the triumph of our cause. In that triumph I have absolute and unqualified faith."

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

PETROGRAD (via London) Sept. 12.—An official announcement says:

"The superior officers everywhere are acting in agreement with the revolutionary commissaries of the government and the committees at the front. Gen. Denikine, commander of the southwestern front, and the whole of his staff have been arrested. Gen. Erdelli, formerly military Governor of Petrograd, who disobeyed army commands, has also been arrested, together with several members of his staff.

"The Baltic fleet, with its officers, has unanimously placed itself on the side of the provisional government.

"Only small detachments of troops have been moved toward Petrograd by Korniloff. Through deception they have remained deluded regarding their position. The further advance of these echelons has been arrested, and the bonds between them broken. Individual units of them have sent delegates to Petrograd with the request that they be furnished with orders to arrest those commanders who have betrayed the provisional government.

"The government has taken measures to put Petrograd in a state of defense against attacks, and the hope is entertained that all bloodshed of civil war will be avoided.

"Evidence of the loyalty of the troops and people to the provisional government is being received from all provinces, while all public organizations have announced their determination to support the revolutionary government by every possible means.

"It is essential to the safety of the fatherland that complete unity of action be preserved. The government enjoins absolute calm and urges complete submission to the government and its representatives.

[Signed] "KERENSKY."

The government is still withholding news concerning the military situation. A further report is to the effect that at 10 o'clock last night two columns of Korniloff's troops entered Gatchina, thirty-five miles from Petrograd, without opposition, and that other forces are moving on Tosno with the aim of cutting the Petrograd railroad.

LINES CUT OFF

During the night telephone communication with Tver (Central Russia) ceased.

It is stated that former Minister of War Savenkoff intends to command the government troops, the other generals having refused to do so, while Gen. Klembovsky, commander of the northern army, has now definitely championed Korniloff's cause.

The army of Gen. Korniloff operating against the capital is believed to consist of the following:

Several Cossack regiments, the first cavalry corps, "The Savage division;" Tekké Turkoman horsemen, a so-called "striking battalion" of picked men organized to fight against Germany, so-called Korni-

PEACE BY AGREEMENT IS URGED BY SCHEIDEMANN.

Reichstag Leader Ridicules the Bloody Programme of Pan-Germans.

THE HAGUE, Sept. 11.—Under the heading, "Verstaendige fuer Verstaendigungsfriede" (Sensible People for Peace by Agreement) Philip Scheidemann, Vice-President of the German Reichstag, writes in Vorwaerts:

"The ridiculously small pan-German army, making a row again as if hundreds of thousands were behind it, is in fact much ado about nothing. If it were possible to count the number of those willing to risk their lives for the war purposes of Reventlow and the Lehman bunch, it should be done at once to show how few the minority of row-makers are.

REVENTLOW'S CONTENTION.

"Reventlow tries to prove that Germany would become the most unimportant empire in which the people would be in continuous misery if a peace by agreement is concluded, while a Reventlow peace would make the empire a paradise flowing with milk and honey. It is bootless trouble to try to convince pan-Germans of the absurdity of their behavior. It is enough for our readers to repeat once more our principle that no nation may be violated. Every sensible man knows that this is impossible without forcing Germany into a new war. Germany would not tolerate being divided up by annexation to live in a sort of sponging house on the order of other nations and to see her political autonomy jeopardized, and that after such a peace Germany would begin preparation for a new war.

"The same thing would be done by every other nation forced into the same position. We fought three years with all our force to keep away such a peace from us. Therefore, we insist on no peace by a knockout, but by agreement which promises to be durable and makes possible the reconciliation of nations and their peaceful association. All who live here and who have contact with the army and navy know that the German nation decided to spend the last breath for defense of the home states, to give the last drop of blood to prevent Germany from being violated; but they also know that the nation is ready to make peace by agreement to end this horrible wholesale murder—a peace which leaves every nation a chance to live.

THE LOST.

"May those whose conception of peace changes with war events not forget to figure out how long the war must last to make possible a peace after Reventlow's ideals. Everybody must feel sure it would be necessary at least for Russia, Italy, France and England to be knocked out, to say nothing of Japan, America and our other enemies. May they not forget that every day costs the imperial treasury nearly 100,000,000 marks (about $25,000,000.) Every day demands so many human lives and limbs—in peace times a great catastrophe, the story of which nobody can read without being shocked, so that everybody is convinced that everything should be done to prevent repetition of it—and this catastrophe happens daily for three years long.

GERMANY FIGHTING US WITH PEACE PROPAGANDA?

Sensational Arrests for Treason are Expected—Lansing Issues Warning.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 11.—Germany is fighting the United States now with the dissemination of insidious peace propaganda in this country designed to halt America's stupendous preparations for war.

This was the warning to loyal Americans uttered today by Secretary of State Lansing. The American Premier is in possession of evidence of the scope of this propaganda and of the machinery for its dissemination, which he contemplates making public as soon as the secret service completes important investigations expected to result in some sensational arrests.

Mr. Lansing said that the headquarters of the German organization intrusted with the promotion of peace propaganda and dissemination of peace feelers is in Zurich, Switzerland. He absolves the Swiss government and the Swiss people from complicity in the German intrigues, but asserts that the Berlin agents in Zurich have no difficulty in transmitting their peace lures to this country in various ways.

PACIFISTS INVOLVED.

The evidence obtained by Mr. Lansing, which involves German agents, certain German-Americans and pacifists of dubious reputation in the German peace intrigue has been turned over to the Department of Justice to form the basis of prosecution on charges of treasonable activities.

The Secretary uttered his warning because the administration decided several days ago to reveal the true purposes of the German peace maneuvering, which, as I stated in my dispatch last Saturday, is to enlist the pacifist element in this country in a concerted peace movement designed to weaken the hand of the President in carrying out his great war programme.

The administration desires the people to be on their guard against the anticipated German peace tricks. There is to be a German answer to the Pope's peace plea and there is to be a speech at the Reichstag by Chancellor Michaelis on peace, in either or both of which it is said that the German autocracy will contrive to arouse the hope in America that the war will be ended before the American armies go into action next spring.

AROUSING FALSE HOPES.

There is no doubt that the Prussians have been impressed by the magnitude of America's preparation for war. They have been given ample evidence that the United States will have an army of 3,000,000 men by next summer, and is preparing for a war of several years' duration, if necessary, to overthrow the Prussian autocracy. If Germany could contrive to inspire false hopes of peace in America and cause a slowing down of the machinery of war preparations in the slightest degree, Germany would be the gainer when the 1918 campaign opens next spring.

Germany has its miners and sappers hard at work among all the people with which it is at war. They are relied upon to undermine public opinion and weaken the resolution to fight the war to a successful conclusion.

Berlin has expended millions of dollars upon this propaganda, with conspicuous success in Russia and some success in France, where the fall of the Ribot ministry was attributed to its failure to check the German intrigues.

WILLING HELPERS HERE.

It remains to be seen whether Germany will succeed in these activities in the United States. In this

OFFICER SAYS AMERICANS WILL "GO RIGHT THROUGH."

Morale of United States Soldiers in France "Wonderful," According to Commissioned Man Returning from Pershing's Camp. Says Men are Eager for Action.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

AN ATLANTIC PORT, Sept. 11.—Seven United States army officers, promoted to majors or lieutenant-colonels, returned here today on a French steamship from the American training camp in France to take commands in the national army to teach the new men the modern methods of warfare.

"We will go right through that German line," said a lieutenant-colonel in answer to a question as to the condition of the troops in the American expeditionary force. The morale of the American troops was "wonderful," the officer declared, and every man from the youngest recruit up to the veterans who had seen service in the Philippines and Mexico was anxious for the day to arrive when he could take his place on the front.

PARIS, Sept. 11.—An agreement obtained from the belligerent powers by King Alfonso permitting the free movement of French and English hospital ships also provides, it was announced today, for the removal from French hospital ships of German officer prisoners after today. On its part the German government will remove French prisoners from exposed positions on the front, where they were placed as acts of reprisal.

Korniloff's Revolt is a Surprise to Russia; Dangerous Ferment in Petrograd Reported

Seething.

KERENSKY IS CONFIDENT; NO FORCE IS DISPLAYED.

Special Measures Taken in Moscow to Prevent Counter-revolutionary Demonstrations.

PETROGRAD (Monday) Sept. 10.—The mass of Petrograd's population knew nothing of Gen. Korniloff's revolt until today, when the newspapers, contrary to their Monday custom, published morning editions. The government is apparently confident of its position, as no display of force is being made.

The population of Moscow was also ignorant as to the revolt, but the Council of Deputies there heard of it Saturday night and the next day declared itself in permanent session. The council, in accord with the local military and executive authorities, including the commander of the troops, Gen. Verkhovsky, whose loyalty to the Petrograd government seems beyond doubt, took special measures against counter-revolutionary manifestations.

DETAILS OF THE PLOT.

In this connection the Council of Deputies declares that Gen. Verkhovsky was recently summoned to headquarters at Mohilev by Gen. Korniloff, who expounded the details of the plot and invited the general to join. Gen. Verkhovsky refused.

Regarding military prospects of the revolt it was stated today that weeks ago Gen. Korniloff, declaring that he desired to prevent military congestion, withdrew from the capital troops devoted to the provisional government, but at the same time sent to Petrograd various units which he considered certain to support him.

Gen. Korniloff had not had time to remove all governmental troops, it appears, and the superiority of the forces in Petrograd is believed to be on the side of the provisional government.

NO PRIOR KNOWLEDGE.

It is stated also that the pro-Korniloff troops in Petrograd had no prior knowledge of the plot. They have so far been quiet, but among them is proceeding a dangerous ferment, primarily directed against the Bolshiviki majority of the garrison.

In conversation with the Associated Press today leaders of the Petrograd Council of Deputies declared that the provisional government's trump card was that the railroad employees were entirely on its side and that obduracy by Gen. Korniloff would result in a general strike, depriving Korniloff of all supplies and of all means of imposing his will on the rest of Russia.

Gen. Korniloff's "Bikaya" division, which was formerly stationed at Pskoff and consists of Georgians and other Caucasus tribesmen, is reported to have occupied Writza or Little Vyrayn, on the Petrograd-Rybinsk Railway, fifty-four versts from Petrograd.

Premier Kerensky is having difficulties within the capital from the extremists on both sides. Following the ultimatum of Gen. Korniloff, the whole Russian Cabinet resigned to give Premier Kerensky full liberty of action. All the ministers for the time being will remain in their offices.

ARREST OF PHILONINKO.

Gen. Korniloff, in addition to refusing to abandon his command, ordered the arrest of M. Philoninko, the government commissioner. The provisional government, besides arresting Vladimir N. Lvoff, who brought Korniloff's ultimatum to the provisional government, took into custody eighty other persons.

The newspaper Ishvestia announces that the constitutional democratic ministers relinquished their portfolios on the ground that the Korniloff affair was one for decision by the entire Cabinet and not by a directorate. Trouble for the Kerensky government is threatened, also, by the Maximalists. At yesterday's sitting of the Council of Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegates, they again urged that all power should pass into the hands of the Socialists. It was resolved at the meeting, however, that Premier Kerensky should be supported unconditionally.

Monday night the capital was quiet and traffic was normal.

Gen. Savonkoff has taken over the office of Military Governor of Petrograd in place of Gen. Vasilkovsky, resigned. Gen. Savonkoff has addressed a reassuring proclamation to the population, stating that all necessary measures were being taken for the defense of the fatherland and of freedom.

ON RIGA FRONT.

Gen. Klembovsky, the commander on the Riga front, has not yet been commissioned chief of all the armies of Russia, which post was refused by Gen. Tokomsky, on account of the impossibility of Klembovsky reaching grand headquarters.

Explaining to the Council of Soldiers' and Workmen Premier Kerensky's reasons for desiring the appointment of a directory, M. Skobeleff, the Minister of Labor, said the provisional government was incapable of dealing with the situation, as some of its members were Germanophile, and at an hour when the country was threatened with disaster the Premier believed it necessary to take the power into his own hands and get rid of the present government.

The arrest of certain persons, including Vladimir Purishkevich, a well-known reactionary under the old regime, is expected.

Gen. Savonkoff, the new military governor of Petrograd, in his proclamation, urged the population to remain calm. He declared every person caught acting against the revolution would be treated as a traitor.

Gen. Korniloff, in his second proclamation, declared that he was the son of a simple Cossack; that he could not tolerate Russia's shame and preferred death. The proclamation accused the government of acting in the interests of the German General Staff.

On Saturday night the provisional government was unable to get further news from the headquarters of Gen. Korniloff, but early Sunday morning some telegrams were received. The most important was from the supreme commissary, Filipenko, who declared categorically that the higher command of the army had determined to seize all power and that a sanguinary conflict would probably result.

TOKOMSKY HEARD FROM.

Another message came from the chief of the General Staff at the front, Gen. Tokomsky. According to statements made to the Associated Press, Gen. Tokomsky is the real brains and soul of the revolt. His telegram declared that if the government refused to accede to Gen. Korniloff's demands, the results would be serious.

The Cabinet then discussed measures necessary for the security of Petrograd, deciding to declare martial law and to appoint a new commander of the Petrograd military district in place of Gen. Vasilkovsky. Next, the Cabinet debated a series of measures necessary for the protection of the Petrograd government buildings and the defense of the city in case Gen. Korniloff sent against it part of his army. It is stated that some of Korniloff's troops already have begun their march, and have reached the railroad station at Dno, the junction point of the Petrograd-Vitebsk railway, eighty miles east of Pskoff, where the deposed Emperor Nicholas halted while on his way to the capital during the revolution.

On the afternoon of Sunday Premier Kerensky again was in communication with the headquarters in the field, speaking with both Gens. Korniloff and Tokomsky, and reiterating his demands that Korniloff surrender his post as commander-in-chief to Gen. Klembovsky.

On Gen. Korniloff giving an evasive answer, Premier Kerensky categorically ordered him to come to Petrograd. To this Korniloff gave an of fear of political influence of organized labor.

If this had been done in peace times it would have given rise to a delightful row, recrimination and rebuttal and an investigation and perhaps the Daniels scalp would have dangled at the belt of Col. Thompson, president of the Navy League.

But in war time people do not care so much to have their chiefs hunted. Daniels, who, despite his softness and his insistence on making the navy moral and abstemious, has a Philistine capacity for implacability, could not overlook or forgive that suggestion of political expediency. He began making war medicine on his own account and proceeded to put the Navy League out of business. If they had sacrificed their not overwise chiefs it might have been patched up, but the Navy League thought it was a good time for defiance.

Then things began to happen to the Navy League. Rich and influential members of the organization began to drop out; they did not relish being part of a Navy League that was denied access to a navy and did not see their way to continue subscribing for bluejackets' comfort kits that bluejackets were not permitted to accept.

They tried to compromise on an apology that did not mention the political feature which was the sting of it all. That did no good. They offered up their secretary on the altar, the sacrifice pacified not Daniels. With a grimness that does not fit with the Secretary's rather cherubic features, Mr. Daniels invited the Red Cross to organize a navy department. The Red Cross has recognition here and abroad; it has raised $100,000,000 and its officers wear uniforms and military commissions. Where it steps in any other organization in the same line of business has as much chance as a one-well refinery in Standard Oil territory.

The Comforts Committee of the Navy League, representing 300,000 women who have been doing wonderful work, issued a hopeful little bulletin this evening, quoting Secretary Daniels's statement, "If the group of ladies want to send gifts to the sailors they have the right to do so."

They may send the gifts—through the Red Cross. Daniels this afternoon made it quite plain that he meant to pursue a policy of frightfulness toward the organization that offended him. As he put it icily: "When the Red Cross organization has concluded its preparations it will make its own regulations."

BURGLAR FRIEND OF THE POLICE?

SUPER THIEF TELLS HOW THEY HELPED HIM ALONG.

George Frank in Feeling Confession Declares it is Impossible to Operate Successfully Without Them and is Grateful for Their Co-operation.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Sept. 11.—George Frank, pronounced by detectives as a "Super-burglar," today made an amazing confession here regarding the case with which criminals of the "better class" operate and how easily they can purchase police protection, without which, he declares, it is impossible to work very long without being captured.

Frank is testifying in St. Louis regarding his association with members of the St. Louis police department and his nightly revels with them during the several months that he was robbing West End homes.

Frank is now serving a six-year term in the penitentiary.

"Don't think I am an egotist, because I'm not," Frank declared in his interview.

"At the outset let me say that no thief can steal successfully and keep it up for any length of time unless he has police co-operation. When I started out in Chicago I had a hard opinion of the police. I believed they were better left alone—but it didn't take me long to find out that they were my very best friends, provided I was willing to slip them theirs as often as they held their hands out.

"My six years of scientific study of the subject of thievery taught me a great deal about it," he said. "I was at work every day by noon when I intended to do a job and I never worked at night. My evenings were spent around the better class cabarets.

"Sometimes I'd get the names of prospects out of the society column in the newspapers, sometimes out of the news columns. Then I'd refer to the city directory and get a line on the man's business, to see if the thing was going to be worth while."

GERMANY STOPS COAL OUTPUT TO HOLLAND.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 11—The Telegraaf says Germany has stopped sending coal to Holland. The paper expresses the belief that Germany's attitude is intended as pressure on Holland to grant a loan, which thus far has been refused.

Disposition Among Allies to Let Situation Alone.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 11.—Baron Lowen, the Swedish Minister to Argentina, will not be recalled, according to a statement made to the press tonight by Admiral Liniman, Minister of Foreign Affairs.

The Foreign Minister told the newspaper men that Baron Lowen was not blamable for the tenor of the messages which passed through the Swedish Legation, sent by the German charge of the Berlin Foreign Office, and as he had acted in good faith and did not know the contents of the dispatches, he would not be recalled.

WASHINGTON SURPRISED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Sweden's acknowledgement that her diplomatic service acted as a channel of communication between the Berlin Foreign Office and Count Luxburg, German charge in Argentina, but was ignorant of the contents of the dispatches, was received by State Department officials without surprise, as was the declaration that steps will be taken to prevent a repetition of the incident.

But it was made clear that these simple declarations will not be enough. Sweden, it was said, is expected to go further and correct the principle. Readjustment of the conditions bearing on the situation must be extended, it was said, until the Allied Powers feel certain that military information cannot be sent to the enemy from any neutral country where agents of the Kaiser may be taking advantage of the diplomatic privileges of the Stockholm Foreign Office and its representatives.

FEELING IN ARGENTINE.

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 11.—News dispatches to the effect that passports may be handed to the German and Swedish diplomatic representatives to Argentina are declared by the Foreign Minister to be premature, as the government is unable even to consider such a procedure unless it receives official details respecting the Washington revelations.

The Foreign Minister announces that the steamers Oran and Guazo referred to in one of the messages sent by Count Luxburg through the Swedish Legation to the German Foreign Office arrived at French ports in June after Luxburg had sent his dispatch.

An Argentine patriotic society has issued a statement that Count Luxburg must not be given his passports but tried for a criminal offense of inciting the assassination of Argentine citizens. This action is impossible, however, as diplomatic representatives are immune from court summonses.

DOCUMENTS PUBLISHED.

All documents relating to questions between Argentina and Germany have been published, the Foreign Minister declared, adding that nothing had been held in reserve and that there is not now and never had been a pact, written or verbal, with Germany, limiting in any way the freedom of Argentine shipping.

"Further doubt concerning Argentina's faith and truthfulness after this declaration must be considered a national offense," the Foreign Minister declared. He added that the best proof of the inexactness of Count Luxburg's May 19 dispatch was that eight Argentine steamers cleared for the war zone during June.

The long-delayed dispatches from Ambassador Naon at Washington were received by the Foreign Minister late this afternoon. The Ambassador sent these dispatches relating to the revelations regarding the Swedish Legation here on Friday, but they had been delayed along the road. They did not contain all the information the Foreign Minister desired, and the Argentine Ambassador was instructed to see Secretary Lansing immediately, presumably for the purpose of obtaining more details.

A high official of the Foreign Office said this afternoon that Count Luxburg, the German charge, would be handed his passports, but action by the government awaits the result of the conference between Ambassador Naon and Secretary Lansing.

STOCKHOLM STATEMENT.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The Swedish Foreign Office, according to a dispatch from Copenhagen to the Exchange Telegraph Company, has issued the following statement regarding the Swedish-Argentine revelations:

"The Swedish Foreign Office has not received any account regarding the transmission of the telegrams mentioned in the statements of the government of the United States, and the Swedish government therefor is unable at present to determine what its position should be on the questions opened up by these statements.

"It is, however, accurate to say, that just after the world war broke out the Swedish Foreign Minister expressed the opinion that he ought to transmit a German telegram concerning the civil population of Kiao Chow (the former German fortress in the Chinese peninsula of Shantung.)

"Statements to the same effect were made to the representatives of both belligerent groups without there being any question of Sweden taking over representation of any power's interests.

"As regards the United States in particular, the United States Minister here has this year, in certain special cases, demanded and obtained permission to transmit letters to and from Turkey and at a time when Turkey was not in a state of war with America and when Sweden had not yet taken over the protection of American interests.

"In the summer of 1915 the wish was expressed from the British side that the transmission of telegrams between Germany and North America should cease. No formal demand was made, but notwithstanding this, the Foreign Minister acceded to the wish. The Swedish Minister, who was cognizant of all the negotiations, was of the opinion that this was no bar to the continued transmission of telegrams to neutral states other than the United States, and therefore to Argentina. Since then, Sweden has continued to be the intermediary for communications between Germany and Argentina.

"The telegram mentioned in the American statement was written in code and in transmitting it the Swedish Minister was by that reason unable to copy it. Whether its contents were as reported is a point which the first duty of the Swedish government must be to confirm, and its next action must be to get an explanation from Germany if it be found that any misuse has taken place. Sweden will also, without regard to any reference made to her, take measures to prevent any repetition of the incident.

"No application as to the cessation of the transmission of telegrams from Germany to the Argentine republic has yet been made either by the British or American governments, even now or at any earlier period.

"The whole affair has only become known to the public through the press, but in spite of this, the wishes, officially and semi-officially expressed by the interested parties, would immediately have been acceded to."

NO NEED FOR ACTION.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The following statement from an authoritative source was made to the Associated Press today with reference to the revelations concerning Sweden:

"There is no need for any action on the part of the Allies regarding the Swedish exposures, nor is any action, joint or otherwise, contemplated. The facts speak for themselves.

"This is not a case of any quarrel on the part of the Allies with the Swedish people, but of individual action by individual officials, which it is confidently believed will be strongly resented by the Swedish people. There can be no doubt that Sweden will take the earliest opportunity to explain her position, and this, it is hoped, will clear the air and even lead to a better understanding."

In Swedish circles in London the view is expressed that the revelations came just in time to insure a big victory for the Liberal Socialists bloc, in the Swedish elections, which are now under way, and which will continue until September 21. This should be followed by the fall of the present Conservative government as soon as Parliament reassembles in January, and its replacement by a Cabinet headed by Hjalmar Branting, the Socialist leader.

SLAVS LEAVE APPEAL TO GERMAN TROOPS.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 10.—The committee of the Twelfth Russian army, before leaving Riga, left an appeal printed in German, and addressed to the German soldiers, pointing out that the latter were making war on the side of autocracy and against a revolution of liberty and justice. The appeal said:

"A victory for Kaiser Wilhelm would mean the end of democracy and liberty. We are leaving Riga, but we know the revolutionary spirit will prove stronger than your cannon; we know that in the end your conscience will see more clearly and that you will march on to victory and liberty, side by side with the revolutionary army.

"Your strength is greater than ours, but your superiority is merely of physical and material force. Moral force is on our side. History will relate that the German proletariat marched against their Russian brothers, forgetting the dictates of international solidarity."

Democratization of Army may Stop the Revolt.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Whether Russia faces anarchy and a reign of terror as the fruit of Gen. Korniloff's revolt against Premier Kerensky's provisional government, depends largely, in the opinion of officials and diplomats here, on the speed with which the situation develops.

If the deposed commander-in-chief now reported marching on Petrograd with troops personally loyal to him, makes a spectacular show of strength within the next few days, it is believed strong political influences, now secretly wavering in allegiance to the government, may swing over, give him a preponderance of authority and pave the way for a powerful dictatorship.

If Premier Kerensky, on the other hand, is able to hold fast to the support of enough of the various political groups on whose attitude the allegiance of the army largely depends, he may crush the revolt quickly, adopt some of the strict disciplinary rules advocated by the Korniloff element and the democratic forces [illegible] instrument to [illegible]

ALIVE TO THEIR OPPORTUNITIES

Productive advertising has been responsible for more merchandising and other business successes than any other known agency.

As a result of the universal recognition of this truth, every merchant and business man studies and analyzes the advertising situation in the territory in which he does business, and each spends his advertising appropriation with the newsvaper, or other publicity medium, that brings him the most satisfactory returns on the money invested.

Every week in the month and every month in the year, for more than a quarter of a century, the LOS ANGELES TIMES has printed a greater volume of classified and display advertising and a greater number of separate advertising announcements than any other Los Angeles newspaper.

No one dares deny or dispute this statement, and for any other local newspaper to claim that its advertising columns are even approximately as productive as those of THE TIMES is to attempt to disregard the experience and discredit the intelligence of the vast army of successful business builders whose patronage has made possible the year-in and year-out advertising supremacy of THE TIMES.

The first of the following tables is an eloquent testimonial to the fact that THE TIMES is constantly growing in the confidence and patronage of the local merchants and business men who wish to reach the buying public, and the second tabulation shows the extent to which THE TIMES dominates this advertising field both in the volume of advertising and in the number of separate announcements.

emphatic refusal. He declared in general that he would not accept orders from the Premier.

KERENSKY'S REPORT.

Premier Kerensky then made to the Cabinet a prolonged report on the situation, repeating his proposal to form a directory composed of a small number of persons. Here the Premier met his first opposition from the constitutional democratic ministers, who declared they were unable to accept the dictatorship of the directory and would consent to remain in the Cabinet only if all the material concerning the revolt and all the plans for the liquidation thereof were submitted to the Cabinet in full.

After a heated debate, during which Kerensky and the Socialist ministers held to the concentration scheme, the constitutional democratic ministers announced that they would resign.

Among the Socialists at the Winter Palace the action of the constitutional democratic ministers was commented upon as indicating their dubious attitude, which was said to be natural in view of the fact that a majority of their party emphatically supported Gen. Korniloff during the Moscow conference.

When the Cabinet Ministers discussed, as an alternative to or a complement to a directory, the formation of a permanent national assembly on the lines of the Moscow conference, the Socialists insisted that representatives of the bourgeois interests, which were assumed to be in sympathy with Gen. Korniloff, should be excluded from the national assembly. They also demanded that members of the Duma and Cavaliers of St. George and other organizations suspected of counter-revolutionary leanings be barred. The provisional government declared that if the Assembly was convoked it would consider itself responsible to that body.

ITALY IS GRANTED ADDITIONAL CREDIT.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The government today advanced Italy another credit of $55,000,000, bringing the total advanced that government up to $255,000,000, and the total advanced the Allies up to $2,321,400,000.

GOVERNMENT SEIZES MIDDLE WEST WHEAT.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Sept. 11.—All wheat on track in the nine States under the control of the St. Louis office of the Federal grain control was seized Monday, it was announced today by Edward M. Flesch, in charge of this district.

The amount seized was more than 100 carloads. It was apportioned among millers according to their needs.

TRIAL OF ALLEGED PLOTTERS DELAYED.

ABILENE (Tex.) Sept. 11.—On a plea of the defense that further time was needed to prepare for trial, the formal beginning of the trials of fifty-two men, charged with conspiracy against the government as a result of alleged activities of the Farmers' and Laborers' Protective Association of America, today was postponed until Thursday. Indictments against three of the defendants were quashed today, two of these having joined the army since the indictments were returned, and the third man was never arrested.

NORTHWEST REFUSED NEW GRAIN MARKET.

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 11.—Dispatches to Portland from Washington today stated that Food Administrator Herbert Hoover has advised Senator Charles McNary of Oregon that the administration will not grant the request of northwest grain men for a primary market in Portland or Seattle.

Mr. Hoover asserted if Portland was made a primary market northwest wheat would flow here instead of to Chicago and would then have to be shipped back to the Mississippi Valley, thus accumulating a 60-cent differential in freight rates.

WAR TAX BILL TO CONFERENCE.

Three Outstanding Points of Difference Reported.

McAdoo Explains Necessity for Big Bond Issue.

Measure to be Given Right of Way in the Senate.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Three outstanding points of difference will exist between Senate and House conferees on the war tax bill when they begin their work, probably tomorrow. They are on the income, excess profits and second-class mail matter sections.

Democratic Leader Kitchin announced tonight that he would ask unanimous consent tomorrow to send the bill to conference and none of the Republican members indicated that they would object. The Senate already has named its conferees.

Some House members say the Senate income tax sections provision for collecting information instead of taxes at the source, gives corporations an opportunity to escape taxation and shift it to the people who supply their funds. They also oppose the Senate plan for excess profits tax assessments.

A compromise on the second-class mail rates is expected by the House leaders. The Senate eliminated entirely the House proposal to raise the rates enormously.

M'ADOO EXPLAINS.

For three hours today Secretary McAdoo explained to the Senate Finance Committee the necessities for the eleven-billion-dollar war credit bill passed last week by the House. He will complete his statement tomorrow.

The Senate committee hopes to complete the bill tomorrow and report it Thursday to the Senate, where it will be given the right of way over all other legislation.

Secretary McAdoo was closely questioned by committee members, but it was said no serious opposition developed. It is believed the bill can be passed after minor committee changes are made with comparative brief debate.

Secretary McAdoo said that all of the $4,000,000,000 new bonds proposed in the bill for loans to the Allies probably would not be needed, but that it was desired to make the amount ample to meet any emergency.

MAXIMUM INTEREST.

The new maximum interest rate of 4 per cent, authorized in the bill for the new bonds appeared to meet with general approval, but some committeemen expressed doubt of the wisdom of the convertibility proposal and also of the taxation authorized.

DECLARES FRENCH CANTEEN LAWS LAX.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Acting upon representations from Herbert K. Caskey, executive secretary of the board of foreign missions of the Presbyterian Church, Representative Cooper of Ohio today complained to Secretary Baker that restrictions on sale of intoxicating liquors at army canteens in France are very lax; that the statement has been made in the British House of Commons that the American canteens are to be run on the British model, which permits the sale of liquor, and that French officers are not making any strong efforts to keep liquor away from the American forces.

SENATOR URGES DAY FOR WAR PRAYERS.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Proclamation by the President of a day of prayer for American success in the war is proposed in a bill by Senator Myers of Montana, passed today by the Senate

Other war measures passed by the Senate without debate or objection today included Senator Weeks's bill to keep secret until the end of the war patents of inventions which might aid the enemy; a bill by Senator Fletcher providing that Americans serving with the Allies shall not lose their citizenship, and another by Senator Wadsworth of New York authorizing payment of expenses of foreign officers and enlisted men serving with the American forces.

INCREASED FREIGHT RATES SUSPENDED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11. — Proposed general increases in freight rates on live stock and fresh and dressed meats on virtually all lines east of the Mississippi, which were to have become effective September 18, were suspended today by the Interstate Commerce Commission until January 13 next.

The proposed rates covered virtually all territory east of the Mississippi and north of the Ohio River. They were the outgrowth of the 15 per cent. rate case, in which the railroads sought to obtain a flat increase of 15 per cent. on virtually all products handled.

Failing to receive the 15 per cent. increase, the railroads filed new tariffs proposing increases in the rates of live stock and meats.

RAILWAY DECLARES DIVIDEND.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—The Southern Railway today declared a dividend of 2½ per cent. on the preferred stock. This is the first dividend declared on this issue since October, 1914.

FIRE WRECKS ASYLUM.

Lives of More Than Hundred Inmates Imperilled by Blaze at Wyoming Institution.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]
OGDEN (Utah) Sept. 11.—The lives of 120 inmates of the Evanston (Wyo.) insane asylum were in peril this afternoon when fire destroyed one of the institution buildings. The fire started in the third story and burned its way to the basement, gutting the entire building. The guards of the asylum, with volunteers from the city, were able to get all the inmates to a new building without any loss of life. The origin of the fire is a mystery. The loss is estimated at $75,000, covered by insurance in full.

CORN IS DAMAGED BY HEAVY FROSTS.

LOSS IN FIVE STATES WILL RUN INTO HEAVY FIGURES.

Tomatoes and Other Tender Garden Truck Also Suffer Severely from Cold, and Bean Crop in Michigan is Hard Hit—Washington Predicts Warmer Today.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 11.—Heavy frost over five States in the corn belt did damage last night which will run into large figures. The frost damage is "spotty," many sections escaping entirely, due to clouds, while adjacent fields suffer. Tomatoes and other tender garden products were badly damaged, and the Michigan bean crop suffered heavily.

The maximum temperature in Chicago was 64 deg., minimum 45 deg. No frost is feared tonight.

Eastern States were slightly cooler today, while the Middle West warmed several degrees. The Southern States show little change from yesterday.

WASHINGTON FORECAST.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—The present cold snap, extending from the Mississippi River eastward to the Atlantic Coast and south as far as Virginia, is expected to moderate by Wednesday, when, the Weather Bureau predicts, a general rise in temperatures will be felt.

There were general frosts this morning from the upper Mississippi Valley eastward to the New England States and as far south as the District of Columbia and Northern Virginia. More frost is predicted for tonight.

Temperatures generally yesterday throughout the United States, as officially reported by the Los Angeles Weather Bureau, were as follows:

Espionage.

SENATOR'S LETTERS IN GERMAN FILES.

FOUR OF "TAGEBLATT" STAFF NOW UNDER ARREST.

Editor-in-chief Surrenders to the Federal Authorities in Philadelphia and is Held in $10,000 Bail. Hearing of the Matter has been Set for Tomorrow.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 11.—Four members of the staff of the Philadelphia Tageblatt, whose offices were raided yesterday by government agents, are now under arrest, and the remaining two, for whom warrants have been issued, will appear in time for hearing on Thursday. All are charged with violating the espionage act through the publication of articles alleged to be inimical to the interests of the United States.

Louis Weiner, editor-in-chief, and Waldamir Alfredo, an editorial writer, surrendered to the Federal authorities today and were held in $10,000 bail each. Peter Schaerr, president of the publishing company, and Paul Vogel, treasurer, the other two men wanted, are in Cincinnati. It was said, and their counsel promised they would be here Thursday. The men arrested yesterday are Dr. Martin Darkow, managing editor, and Herman Lemke, business manager.

Until the examination of files, papers and documents taken from the Tageblatt office yesterday has been completed government official will not indicate all specific instances of violations of the espionage act. Among the documents were minutes of directors' meetings, which, according to Federal agents, show that two directors complained that the editorials in the paper were not vigorous enough.

Agents of the Department of Justice reported that other articles seized included a number of letters from a United States Senator from a Western State. The contents of the letters were not revealed.

SILVER CONTINUES ITS UPWARD CLIMB.

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 11.—Silver reached its highest point today since 1891, when the government authorized officials at the local assay office to pay 97 cents an ounce for it. Only a week ago the price was raised here to 95 cents, or five-eighths of a cent below the New York quotation. This was believed to be an exceptionally high price, but with the developments in the last week local silver men were unwilling to give any opinion as to the top price which might be obtained.

HOW IT FEELS TO BE BOMBED.

Physician of Neenah, Wis., has Close Call with Death.

Partner is Blown to Pieces by the Same Missile.

German Airplane Appeared on a Moonlight Night.

BY RING W. LARDNER.
[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
PARIS, Sept. 10.—They took us the other day to a certain place where certain hospitals were bombed on a certain night last week by certain Germans. We visited one of the hospitals and talked to a nurse, from whom we learned that one of the doctors wounded by a bomb was Dr. Smith of Neenah, Wis. You must call a man something, so why not Smith? I had heard of Neenah, and I asked the nurse if I might see its wounded citizen. She was a nice nurse, and she said yes. Dr. Smith proved to be a nice doctor and was glad to see me.

Dr. Smith has been over here a little over three weeks. The boat on which he crossed was the target for a submarine, but the darn thing missed fire. The sub was sighted and all the passengers were warned to get busy. Dr. Smith was out on deck in time to see the torpedo's wake and he confessed that the narrow squeak kept him nervous for some time thereafter. Well, on a certain night last week a Boche came over this certain place and began dropping bombs, probably in the hope of killing somebody or of destroying property or perhaps it was for some other laudable motive. The first warning brought out all who were able to leave their beds. They scanned the air and they distinctly saw the Fritz flier. It was a moonlight night.

It happened that Dr. Smith of Neenah was standing next to Dr. William Fitzgibbons of Kansas City, Mo.

"We're in a pretty dangerous spot," said Dr. Smith.

"We might as well be here as anywhere else," said Dr. Fitzgibbons, and an instant later the Kansas City man was blown to atoms and Dr. Smith was laid out with a cracked knee. Dr. Smith was still laid up as he told me about it.

"From now on," he said, "Fear and I are strangers. The sub scared me and scared me good, but it missed me and the bomb took the poor fellow next to me and left me with a bad knee. I'm too lucky to be badly hurt and I don't believe I'll ever be scared again."

A piece of shrapnel had been removed from the Neenah man's knee and with it a piece of clothing he had worn at the time of the crash. I saw them both and I am glad that it wasn't my knee they entered so unceremoniously. Dr. Smith is resting comfortably and he wants me to tell his partner, whom we will call by the grand old name of Donovan, that he has been having a grand time and he wishes you was he.

ACCUSED ANARCHIST HELD WITHOUT BAIL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—Alexander Berkman, anarchist, arraigned in the Tombs court here today, was remanded without bail for a hearing tomorrow on the warrant issued in San Francisco charging complicity in the deaths of three persons in that city July 22, 1916. Berkman's attorney told the court "organized labor" stood behind his client, and that he would fight extradition to California.

Berkman was arrested yesterday after he had furnished bail for his release, pending a decision by the Supreme Court of his appeal on the charge of violating the selective draft act.

ARREST FIRST WOMAN FOR RACE RIOTING.

BELLEVILLE (Ill.) Sept. 11.—The first woman to be arrested in connection with the recent race riots in East St. Louis was taken into custody today. She was Mrs. Alice Taylor, 18 years old, who was locked up on an indictment charging conspiracy and rioting.

DECLARE VILLA IS WILLING TO QUIT.

JUAREZ (Mex.) Sept. 11.—La Lucha, a Mexican daily newspaper published here, printed a story today from Chihuahua City saying Francisco Villa had sent a letter to Gen. Francisco Murguia, commander of the northeastern military zone, offering to surrender if he was given personal guarantees of amnesty. Villa is now in the Durango Mountains.

Inspector-General Andres G. Garcia of the Mexican consular service said he had received no information regarding the report.

HINDENBURG URGES GERMANS TO STICK.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 11.—The Wurttemburg chambers of commerce having recorded their rejection of "President Wilson's presumptuous attempt to interfere with Germany's domestic affairs," Field Marshal Von Hindenburg, according to the German newspapers, replied as follows:

"Answering the presumptuous words of President Wilson, the German nation has placed itself unitedly and firmly behind its Emperor and his words, and has rejected all foreign interference of German affairs.

"We must now remain united, steel-hard and determined to achieve victory. Thereby we shall shorten the war. Let this be the feeling of every German."

BRITISH LOSSES FOR ONE WEEK.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Casualties in the British ranks reported during the week ending today show a total of 26,626 officers and men, as follows:

Officers, killed and died of wounds, 184; men, 4183.

Officers, wounded or missing, 581; men, 21,678.

ORDER WOODEN HUTS FOR AMERICAN ARMY.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
BERNE (Switzerland) Sept. 11.—The American military authorities in France have placed, through the Swedish Contracting Association, an order for a 1,000,000 francs' worth of wooden huts to house troops.

SALOONS AT DALLAS CLOSE NEXT MONTH.

DALLAS (Tex.) Sept. 11.—Complete figures in yesterday's local option election in Dallas county, received today, show that the prohibitionists polled 10,516 votes and the anti-prohibitionists 8564, making a "dry" majority of 1952. The saloons will be closed October 20, it was stated today.

In the city of Dallas, the only part of the county that has been "wet" for twenty-five years, 220 saloons, one brewery and twelve wholesale houses will be forced to quit business.

Lemons Beautify! Make Quarter Pint of Lotion, Cheap

What girl or woman hasn't heard of lemon juice to remove complexion blemishes; to bleach the skin and to bring out the roses, the freshness and the hidden beauty? But lemon juice alone is acid, therefore irritating, and should be mixed with orchard white this way: Strain through a fine cloth the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing about three ounces of orchard white, then shake well and you have a whole quarter pint of skin and complexion lotion at about the cost one usually pays for a small jar of ordinary cold cream. Be sure to strain the lemon juice so no pulp gets into the bottle, then this lotion will remain pure and fresh for months. When applied daily to the face, neck, arms and hands, it should help to bleach, clear, smoothen and beautify the skin.

Any druggist will supply three ounces of orchard white at very little cost and the grocer has the lemons.

SICK WOMAN HAD CRYING SPELLS

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Enhaut, Pa.—"I was all run down and weak inwardly. I had female troubles and nervous feelings and my head bothered me. I would often have crying spells and feel as if I was not safe. If I heard anyone coming I would run and lock the door so they would not see me. I tried several doctors and they did not help me so I said to my mother 'I guess I will have to die as there is no help for me.' She got me one of your little books and my husband said I should try one bottle. I stopped the doctor's medicine and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It soon made a change in me and now I am strong and do all my work."—MRS. AUGUSTUS BAUGHMAN, Box 86, Enhaut, Pa.

Why will women continue to suffer day in and day out and drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

Labor.

ILLINOIS FAIR MAY BE HALTED

General Strike is Threatened; Troops in Readiness.

Big Influx of Visitors Today may Witness Trouble.

Unions Hope to Stop Running of Street-car System.

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) Sept. 11.—Springfield and the Illinois State fair are at the edge of a volcano tonight. A general strike of the bulk of organized labor in the State capital is imminent. The industries are following the lead of the local miners one by one and a complete tie-up of the city is expected before tomorrow night.

Gov. Lowden has been working for forty-eight hours without a stop to get an agreement whereby the original differences between the street car employees and the owners of the car lines can be composed. Late tonight the word from the Williams Boulevard home, that is the temporary residence of Gov. Lowden while the executive mansion is under repairs, was that an adjustment is impossible.

Meanwhile, State, county and city authorities are taking every precaution to take care of any emergency that may arise. Trouble, it is admitted by the officials, is expected at any minute. Three regiments of the reserve National Guard are under arms. Sheriff Wheeler has an augmented force of deputy sheriffs backed up by a home guard organization and is also prepared to use the enlarged police department.

VISITORS TODAY.

The arrival of the main body of State fair visitors tomorrow and Thursday, it is apprehended, will be the signal for the strikers and their sympathizers to play their trump cards and attempt to stop completely the operation of the Springfield street cars. The first overt move in this direction, the authorities say, means trouble of the most dangerous type.

The strike and the threatened trouble has put a big crimp in the State fair. The meager supply of street cars has been unable to handle enough traffic to make much of a dent in the fair grounds. Springfield's streets are almost impassable because of the tremendous influx of automobiles of all descriptions from surrounding towns and country districts eager to carry the people to and from the fair. Federal investigation and action was requested directly by the coal operators in a telegram sent to Washington today addressed to F. S. Peabody.

ACCEPT TERMS AT ANACONDA.

ANACONDA (Mont.) Sept. 11.—At a mass meeting of members of the Anaconda Mill and Smeltermen's Union tonight, it was decided by practically unanimous vote that the terms offered by the Anaconda Copper Mining Company should be accepted and that the men should return to work immediately.

END OMAHA STRIKE.

OMAHA (Neb.) Sept. 11. — The most extensive strike in the packing-house industries in the history of South Omaha was settled satisfactorily late today through the efforts of Frederick L. Feick, government mediator, and the men will all return to work tomorrow morning.

All employees are to receive an advance of 2½ cents an hour in wages; all strikers are to be reinstated without discrimination; the employees are to be permitted to organize unions; packing-house managers agree to meet committees of their employees to adjust grievances; hiring for each plant is to be done by one man.

AT KANSAS CITY.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) Sept. 11.—Six hundred employees of Armour & Co. and 400 from the Morris & Co. packing plant today joined the 2000 packing plant operatives from Wilson & Co., Swift & Co., Cudahy's and the Ruddy plant, raising the total of workmen out to 4000.

TWO THOUSAND IRON MOLDERS ON STRIKE.

HAMILTON (O.) Sept. 11.—Following a demonstration by a number of molders at the Niles Tool Works here last night, 2000 molders employed at a dozen plants in this city went on strike today. Two men were injured during the excitement last night.

THE FIRST LINE OF DEFENSE

Pure blood is the body's first line of defense against disease.

Healthy blood contains small amounts of antitoxins that neutralize the poisons of invading germs or destroy the germs themselves. That is why so many people exposed to disease do not contract it. Those whose blood is weak and therefore lacking in defensive power are most liable to infection. Everybody may observe that healthy, red-blooded people are less liable to attacks of cold and the grip than are pale, bloodless people.

To build up the blood there is one remedy that has been a household word for a generation, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They tone up the entire system, make the blood rich and red, strengthen the nerves, increase the appetite, put color in the cheeks and lips and drive away that unnatural tired feeling. Plenty of sunlight, good wholesome food and fresh air will do the rest.

Two books, "Building Up the Blood" and "What to Eat and How to Eat" give just the information that every mother of a growing girl needs. They are free. Write for them today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Troops Called Out in Southern Strike.

CHATTANOOGA (Tenn.) Sept. 11.—Two troops of cavalry and a machine gun company from Fort Oglethorpe were rushed here early today in response to an appeal from city and county officials, who were unable to cope with the street-car strike. The presence of the soldiers has had the effect of quieting the situation.

WASH DIVINITIES FORM A UNION.

EMPRESSES OF THE BASEMENT ORGANIZE IN CHICAGO.

Call of the Agitator has at Last Reached Ears of Hard-working Woman Who Competes with the Laundry—Charter Soon to be Granted.

CHICAGO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 11.—Milady of the tub, empress of the washboard, toiling naiad of the suds makes her first timid bow today as an organized unit of labor. The call of unionism has after many years drifted to her ears. Throughout the city these basement divinities are gathering and the washerwoman's union is now in process of organization.

Since time immemorial the washerwoman has been the free lance of labor. Monday upon Monday she remained at her post. The janitors organized. The milkmen organized. The butcher boys and all the backyard acquaintances of the washerwoman banded in the name of higher wages and autonomy. But she of the washboard went her stolid way, unsung and contented.

"Stitch, stitch, stitch," celebrated her toil. The ironing board and the washtub were two props consistently absent in the soul of the lyric poet.

At the office of the Women's Trade Union League Miss Agnes Nestor announced today that the movement among the washerwomen had gained a strong foothold.

"We are out working now to solidify the organization," she said. "The high cost of living has struck hardest at the most humble. The $2.10 which has been the price for doing up Monday's wash, a sum usually half of what the regular laundries would charge, is insufficient in this day of 15-cent loaves of bread and 12-cent bottles of milk."

"Among all the various trades the washerwomen have remained longest out of unionism. In Glencoe an organization was perfected and we assisted the day cleaners there, most of them colored, to obtain a charter. Last year the effort to organize the washerwomen failed. But the consistent increase of food prices has at length been felt. The price of the washings has gone up to $2.60, an increase of half a dollar. This will be the first demand of the washerwomen's union as soon as we obtain its charter."

Charter or no charter, however, the damage from the housewife's point of view, is already done. For several weeks washerwomen have popped up with new schedules and new price lists. The great decrease in immigration has partially cleared the field and made the tub lady somewhat more difficult to command.

LONDON PRESS GLOOMY AT RUSSIAN SITUATION.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—The Russian crisis overshadows all else in the news and editorial columns of the morning newspapers.

"Germany may enjoy the satisfaction of knowing," declares the Post, "that her sinister intrigues have produced a cataclysm in the revolution, which, in whatever its other results may consist, must, we continue to believe, ultimately destroy and eradicate German predominance in Russia."

The Times says the outlook is dark and that it affects the war on every front, "for the Allies begin to realize that even in the most favorable circumstances the revival of the Russian military efficiency is bound to be remote."

The Times declares that Gen. Kornilloff is not a traitor and says that if his ultimatum to the Petrograd authorities Saturday was tantamount to dictatorship, it was evidently because he felt there was no alternative left.

The Chronicle says it is obvious that Gen. Kornilloff "would scarcely put a pistol to the government's head Saturday unless he believed he could fire it," and adds that "the immediate future should show whether he can."

PREPARE FOR LONG WAR, ADVISES DANE.

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 11.—Alexander Foss, head of the Danish export and import control organization, in an address before the industrial congress here today, said members of the Danish trade and industry should adjust themselves to war conditions which might last years, it being unwise to count on a speedy termination of the war.

Denmark, the speaker contended, no longer could count on receiving various American products upon which the Danish industrial life was dependent. The solution, he continued, was to build up a Scandinavian interchange of raw materials and products.

BAVARIAN GENERAL KILLED IN ACTION.

DIVA IN NEW ROLE.

Mme. Schumann-Heink Sucks Blood from Wrist of Mexican Boy Bitten by Rattlesnake.

PHOENIX, Sept. 11.—Mme. Schumann-Heink appeared yesterday in the role of a heroine, sucking at the gashed wrist of a Mexican boy in what appears to have been an effective effort to extract the venom of a rattlesnake bite. The lad has been brought here for treatment, and is reported out of danger.

The story comes from Wenden, a desert station on the Arizona and California Railroad, where the diva was visiting her son and had appeared in concert. There is indefinite information that she went to her son's ranch, six miles from the station, there finding that her daughter-in-law had been stung by a scorpion. The Mexican volunteered to secure a piece of rattlesnake flesh to bind as a cure on the sting, which was painful, though not serious. The snake was found, but the lad was bitten as he tried to capture it. Then it was that the great singer took on the new character of first-aid nurse at possible danger to herself.

BRITISH DENY TROOPS HELD BACK.

Foreign Office Also Spikes the Fable that There are no More to Draw from—Six from United Kingdom to One from Dominion is the Proportion.

BY FLOYD P. GIBBONS.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—There is a story that acknowledges the existence of a rumor in the United States to the effect that England is withholding 3,000,000 men from duty in France and is keeping them in the British Isles.

Having received a number of letters asking for information on this subject, I laid the entire matter bluntly before the British Foreign Office.

The British Foreign Office in answer to my query has prepared the following statement:

"In America and elsewhere a fable appears to be current that there are very large numbers of trained soldiers fit for service overseas who have remained in idleness in the United Kingdom. The author of this fable would be equally pleased to spread the report that Great Britain's reserves of men are wholly exhausted.

"The fact is that the fictitious millions of men stated to be in reserve in this country include not only men now under training and trained men who were drawn from every part of the empire standing ready to provide drafts for British units in five theaters of war, but also sick and wounded men unfit for general service as well as training staffs and labor and administrative units that must be found at the main base of the empire.

"As regards the comparative effort of the motherland and dominions if we take the actual theaters of war, excluding the troops garrisoning India and defended ports throughout the world, it is found that the proportion of troops from the motherland and those from the dominions is between five and six to one; that is of every six British soldiers serving at the front at least five have been recruited in the United Kingdom."

GERMAN COMMISSION PLANS PEACE NOTE.

BERLIN, Sept. 10 (via London.)—The special commission of seven Reichstag Deputies selected to confer with Chancellor Michaelis in conjunction with a similar number of members of the Federal Council, met late this afternoon for a final conference on the German reply to Pope Benedict's peace proposals.

As the sessions of this body have been primarily of a consulting nature it is not supposed that a vote on the final draft of the German government's answer to the Vatican was taken.

BRITON FREED UNDER "UNWRITTEN LAW."

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Lieut. Douglas Malcolm, who was being tried for the murder of Anton Baumberg, a pseudo count, was today found not guilty by a jury at the Old Bailey Police Court. The case, which had been characterized as a "dream of passion," was the first to be tried here in which the "unwritten law" was the sole defense.

A Coroner's jury had returned a verdict of "justifiable homicide" after hearing Lieut. Malcolm's plea that he had killed Baumberg "in defense of his wife's honor." The case is one of the most sensational in London in many years.

JAILED FOR SELLING LIQUOR TO SOLDIERS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—Despite his plea that "it will kill my wife if you send me to jail," United States District Judge William C. Van Fleet today sentenced William R. Elliott, a bartender, 73, to the County Jail for six months, after Elliott had admitted that he had sold liquor to soldiers in uniform, in violation of the Federal law.

"Our soldiers must be protected and kept from contamination," Judge Van Fleet declared.

California will be Put Upon Thorough War Basis.

State Council of Defense in Executive Session.

How Government will Handle Crops Explained.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 11.—Plans for putting California on a thorough war basis by active participation in the Federal war programme were discussed today by the State Council of Defense and representatives of all fifty-eight county defense councils. After hearing from Ralph W. Merritt, Herbert Hoover's representative in this State, and from Walter A. Starr, who, with R. A. Lewin, represents the Federal Grain Corporation's activities in California, the council went into executive session to plan for more effective efforts in assisting the government. Reports from all eighteen committees of the State council were heard.

This was the first conference between the State and county councils of defense. Gov. Stephens presided.

Mr. Merritt pointed out that the immediate elimination of all speculators and excess middlemen in the handling of California's crop and foodstuffs is to be the keynote of the food administration's policy. He also declared that women thus far have done their full share in the conservation of food supplies, and that the men of the State will be called on now to exert themselves to an equal extent.

SPECULATOR MUST GO.

"To increase food," said Mr. Merritt, "the food administration has recognized that the farmer must receive a sufficient return to enable him to continue to produce. To restore industry to normal conditions and to enable our people to live at prices within reason, the speculator and food gambler must go. Waste and destruction of foodstuffs in order to maintain high prices have become a crime before the law.

"The great majority of business men in America are sincere patriots. The power of the law is reserved for use against the unpatriotic minority, the profiteer, the speculator and the exploiter of the country's need. These contemners of the flag, these coiners of the nation's blood into selfish gold, must learn their lesson."

PROCEDURE INDICATED.

How the government will run flour mills and warehouses was indicated by Starr, who stated that wheat and rye and their products are the only staples the food administration thus far has decided to handle directly. Whatever price finally is fixed in California for wheat must be an artificial one under the circumstances, he said. When fixed, it is intended that the price shall remain the same for the entire season. From a business standpoint, therefore, it will be to the advantage of the farmer to sell at once and save carrying charges.

Prices are to be based upon quality, according to the rules of Federal grain inspection. This will be something new for the California farmer, who will be paid for his wheat according to the type and grade determined by the inspector. The grades run from hard white wheat, at sixty pounds to the bushel, down as low as fifty-two pounds for the poorer grades, and the farmer will be penalized on price for foreign matter included.

LICENSES NECESSARY.

All warehouses and flour mills of over 100 barrels' capacity will be licensed, and it will be illegal for them to operate without such license.

The flour mills have surrendered their business and agreed to operate under orders of a committee of their own people, in full co-operation with the food administration. The grain trade has shown a like attitude.

Warehouse rules provide for all buying through the food administration; not more than a thirty days' supply of wheat on hand without special permission; not over thirty-day future selling contracts on flour; maximum limit of 25 cents a barrel profit on all flour products, certain arrangements for selling flour to the food administration for export purposes; mills to run to capacity, export flour instead of wheat and thus have the feed offals left at home to produce more and cheaper milk and fats.

ZONE SYSTEM USED.

The United States has been divided into twelve zones, Mr. Merritt said, each with executives having considerable power in their territory, and with a central office in New York, under the administration of Julius Barnes, a grain exporter of Duluth, who now is the chief grain executive for the food administration. California, Nevada and Arizona are included in one zone, with headquarters at San Francisco.

As to the plan as it will work out in California, Mr. Starr declared the food administration will buy wheat and rye at or when delivered at San Francisco bay terminals, but only after arrival, payment being made on warehouse receipts and Federal grade and all owners except mills may sell only to the food administration.

PROTECTION FOR DEALERS.

In case a producer consigns wheat or rye direct to the food administration at bay terminals and in all cases where purchase is made direct from the producer, a charge of 1 per cent. commission will be made, as it is desired that the grain pass through the usual channels and that legitimate dealers be protected in a fair commission.

Probably it will be to the advantage of the farmer, however, to sell his grain in the country warehouse in which it is stored, Mr. Starr declared, as in most cases the price there will be above the San Francisco price when the freight is considered.

WOMEN'S PART.

Miss Ethel Moore, member of the State Council of Defense, and chairman of the Food Conservation Committee spoke to the conference on "food conservation and the women of California."

Forty thousand women in this State, she said, have signed the pledge to follow the directions of the food administration.

Miss Charlotte Ebbets, director of household economics, was another speaker discussing her part in explanation of the work of various products. Every soldier would be a fighting unit when properly fed.

CALIFORNIA TO DO.

In the course of his address of how the food problem was to be solved, Merritt declared that food production increased seventy per cent. done in California was by of national economy and compliment to Gov. Stephens the California State Council fense for their work in the movement to help Mr. Merritt, Chairman very first result of their responded to the President increased production of tion.

LAWYER'S ATTACK DRAFT LAW

SAN FRANCISCO, demurrer attacking the constitutionality of the selective draft and declaring that Congress cannot compel troops for defense of the United States, was filed in the United States District Court today by Attorney O'Connell, under whose leadership attempts to obstruct the draft have been made. The demurrer was overruled by Judge William C. Van Fleet, who characterized it as a "frivolous attack on the Congressional institution."

Following the filing of the demurrer, Attorney J. P. Hume, associated with the O'Connell defense, withdrew from the case, declaring he had signed the demurrer without knowledge of its contents and wish to be relieved of any connection with the attacks on the draft law. Attorney O'Connell's trial was set for tomorrow.

CA'S CHEMICAL SUPPLY IS ASSURED.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Dr. William chairman of the Committee on Chemicals of the Council of National Defense, speaking today before the opening session of the American Chemical Society convention, declared the chemical industry of the country was mobilized to meet the needs regarding war needs of the nation. He said that engineers and industrial chemists had developed new products and substitutes for the many dyestuffs formerly received in bulk from Germany. The greatest known deposit of potash in the world, he said, is located in Searles Lake, Southern California, and contains 23,000 acres of this well known product, the use of which, he added, has been urged upon Congress, to which an appeal has been made by the Chemical Society.

H. B. RICHMOND
An American Tailor.

Reprint from the Famous Theatrical Magazine — The Rounder and Show Bill—Sept. 8th, 1917.

There is a tailor in this city whom we regard as one of the most prominent citizens in our midst. We are referring to H. B. Richmond, known throughout Southern California as "An American Tailor." The title suits him in the same sense as his suits suit his customers. He is one of the cleverest adv writers in the U. S. and he knows the full value of its potency. He is ready to spend much to gain a fair profit. Unlike the majority of tailors, he is satisfied with results, knowing that with a little less profit accruing to himself, he will in the long run, draw to his establishment a greater percentage of the population, satisfied with the value they have received. In other words, by increasing the volume of his business in the long run his profits will have materially run in the same ratio. Hence you will see that by following his methods to the end, he will have deserved the utmost confidence from his trade, and this is legion at the present writing.

He has at present two large, established, one situated at the Hayward Hotel, and the other at the Angelus Hotel. He has a corps of efficient experts who are ablest designers and cutters here-abouts, and Mr. Richmond personally oversees every suit bought. We personally can recommend his suits to any professional entering the city of Los Angeles, for we have yet to find an unsatisfied customer. And this is saying a great deal. Knowing this, we congratulate this worthy merchant tailor.

"Excepting some such eccentrics as live in all countries, nobody wants peace at any price, but for peace by agreement undoubtedly a tremendous majority of the German people stand.

SINNERS AGAINST NATION.

"It is therefore the duty of every sensible man to work for such a peace, to fight the desperate politics of the Pan-German conservatives, the heavy industrials, the professors and the journalists. Any one who increases the difficulty of the coming of such a peace sins against the empire and the nation. As outside of Germany the loud screaming of the Pan-Germans is used with effect against Germany, we think it to be an urgent duty for the government to state plainly that she has nothing to do with it.

"Pan-Germans have loudly welcomed the new Chancellor. He still has avoided much too long already to show that he does not want their applause. He has until now, alas and alack, avoided giving the German public the change in politics he intends to make. He declared July 18 that he had no intentions which could not be realized within the peace resolution passed by the Reichstag. After that somewhat roundabout but clear concession to the resolution he later in the main committee stated that he expressly had not put himself on the basis of that resolution. When called to order he said solemnly that he had agreed with the resolution.

"Michaelis was praised as a man of strict sincerity and deep religiosity, according to the Bible, whose word to your 'yes' would be 'yes;' to your 'no,' 'no,' and now he has provoked misunderstandings by the fact that he has not spoken plain 'yes' or 'no.'

"If this should be his first step on the difficult and slippery field of diplomacy he has been derailed at once in a horrible way. What is most regrettable is that his clear concession to the Reichstag resolution now is much less valuable on account of his general behavior.

"What is most regrettable is the fact that the Chancellor still constantly avoids giving a clear answer to Asquith's question in the British Commons about the fate of Belgium.

"We in Germany do not need this answer any longer. The enemies and the neutrals cannot be reminded with enough clearness that we cannot think of the violation of Belgium in any form whatever.

"Many things have been neglected by Michaelis, but in the answer to the Pope's note many things may be made good.

"Let us hope this will happen. Against Pan-German politics it is necessary to show our colors in the interest of Germany and a speedy peace."

KERENSKY COMBATING KORNILOFF AGITATION.

Premier Instructs Commissaries at the Front to Oppose Agitation.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PETROGRAD, Sept. 11.—Premier Kerensky is in hourly communication with his commissaries at the front who are instructed firmly to oppose the pro-Korniloff agitation among the soldiers and in particular to prevent the disaffection spreading among regiments as are known to belong to the side of the government.

While the Cabinet was debating the form the new government should assume, the Central Executive Committee of the all-Russian councils of deputies held an excited session, at which the determination to support the Kerensky government was unanimously expressed. Speeches were delivered in behalf of all parties represented and resolutions as to necessary measures were passed.

After much debate the committee accepted unanimously the proposal of the social revolutionaries to retain the present form of government, replacing the Constitutional Democrats with more democratic elements.

M. Tcheidse, president of the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Deputies, thereupon went to the Winter Palace and reported the resolutions to Premier Kerensky.

Suspect Conspiracy.

RED INVESTIGATION INDICATES BIG PLOT.

CHICAGO GRAND JURY FINDS DAMAGING EVIDENCE.

Believed that Coterie of I.W.W. Planned Destruction of Property, Resistance to the Draft Law and Spread of Alleged Seditious Utterances Throughout Country.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Progress of the grand jury investigation at Chicago into the I.W.W., whose offices were recently raided throughout the country, indicates that revelations of a nature not previously disclosed are being brought to light.

Reports to the Department of Justice from Frank Knebeker of Salt Lake City and Frank C. Dailey of Indianapolis, who are assisting Dist.-Atty. Clyne in conducting the investigation, are to the effect, it was said today, that "satisfactory progress is being made."

Indications point more strongly than ever, it was said, to the conclusion that a small coterie of men directed the anti-war activities and programme throughout the country, which had as phases the destruction of property, resistance to the draft law, the spread of alleged seditious utterances through various publications and other mediums and other numerous methods intended to embarrass the government.

Indictments, it was said today, may be handed down within a short time.

REDS SHORT OF MONEY.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Investigation of books of the I.W.W. seized in recent Federal raids discloses that the organization's funds are too low to pay for the defense of members arrested for anti-government plots, it was learned today.

The records are said to show that the organization at the time of the seizure planned to levy a heavy special assessment to pay court costs. Federal agents are trying to learn how much of the levy was made, if any, and who were the important contributors. Investigation of the books is almost complete. As fast as the examiners finish with them the books are sealed and boxed for production in court.

WILSON ABOARD YACHT.

President Leaves Massachusetts Port on Mayflower After His Visit with Col. House.

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

GLOUCESTER (Mass.) Sept. 11.—The Presidential yacht Mayflower, on which the President came here to view the North Shore and to pay a social visit to Col. E. M. House, left this port early today. The President was favored with perfect weather for the resumption of his vacation trip.

CROWDS CHEER PRESIDENT.

SANDWICH (Mass.) Sept. 11.—President and Mrs. Wilson, who are now cruising on the Presidential yacht Mayflower, received a continuous ovation on their way through the Cape Cod Canal today. At Bournedale and Sagamore school children stood on the banks waving flags and singing, while crowds lined the waterway cheering. The President waved his greetings.

BRECKENRIDGE MADE BATTALION HEAD.

TACOMA (Wash.) Sept. 11.—Maj. Henry Breckenridge, former assistant Secretary of War, is now one of the battalion commanders at Camp Lewis. He quit his high government post with his chief, Lindley H. Garrison, because of the difference of opinion with the administration preparedness policy. When war was declared Maj. Breckenridge was one of the first to respond. He is the ranking officer of the second battalion, Three Hundred and Sixty-third Regiment. After his resignation from the War Department, Maj. Breckenridge went to Los Angeles and entered business. When war was declared he sacrificed his private interests to attend the officers' training camp at the Presidio, San Francisco. When he won his commission he was sent to Camp Lewis.

Germany Fighting.

country conditions are almost as fortunate for Germany as they are in Russia. Helping hands are held out by William Hale Thompson, self-entitled "Mayor of the Sixth German City of the World," and his following, by those German-Americans who fled the oppressor's wrongs and lived to lick the oppressor's hand; by many American Socialists recently condemned by John Spargo as more Prussian than the Prussians, and by the pacifists, who repudiate the high purposes of their nation in this war and strive to commit the country to a German peace.

The raids on the I.W.W. have placed the government on the trail of the pro-German plotters, but the feeling in Washington is that the nation will be sorely tried before it will scotch the serpent within its breast. Then will the internment camps open wide to receive all allies of the Kaiser on American soil.

PRESTON SCHOOL HAS BIG DAY AT FAIR.

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 11.—Preston School figured prominently today in the programme at the State fair, with drills by the 200 boys from the school who are quartered at the fair grounds. A feature on the programme was the reviewing of the boys by Gov. William D. Stephens. The school band also had a concert programme in readiness. Other events for today were bucking bull riding, harness and running races, aviation flights and drills by apprentice seamen.

Cuticura Healed Itching Pimples

On face and neck. Hard, red and scattered. Grew larger forming heads. Itched badly and scratched a lot. Used 3 cakes Cuticura Soap and 2 boxes Cuticura Ointment.

From signed statement of Miss Mattie Cantrell, Eastonville, Colo.

Cheap soaps, harsh soaps, coarse, strongly medicated soaps are responsible for half the skin troubles in the world. They make little irritations into great ones. Stop the use of all doubtful soaps. Use Cuticura, and no other soap, for all toilet purposes. Help it, now and then, with touches of Cuticura Ointment applied to any redness, roughness, pimples or dandruff if any appear. Cuticura Soap has also proved most valuable for all purposes of the toilet.

For Free Sample Each by Return Mail address post-card: "Cuticura, Dept. H, Boston." Sold everywhere. Soap 25c. Ointment 25 and 50c.

RACE MEETS TO RAISE ANIMAL RELIEF FUNDS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—Two thoroughbred horse-racing meets are planned by the American Red Star Animal Relief Society here to secure funds for the care and treatment of horses disabled on the fighting fronts. The first meet will be held in San Francisco and the second in Del Monte.

The dates have not yet been set.

The society, which is the branch of a world-wide organization started in Switzerland two years ago, has been asked to do its part in raising $250,000 for this horse rescue work.

It plans to secure the horses entered for the meet at Reno, and has been promised the co-operation of James W. Coffroth, the Tia Juana racing promoter, and George Wingfield, the millionaire Nevada horseman, in its efforts to have those horses participate in the Red Star affairs while they are en route from Reno to the meet in Tia Juana.

Some new drivers still try to stop their machines by yelling "Whoa!" But the darned flivvers keep rambling right along.

MORE TENNIS TOURNEYS COMING.

An invitational doubles tournament on the courts of the Los Angeles Country Club during the Thanksgiving holidays, was announced yesterday. The best doubles teams of Southern California will compete for challenge and individual trophies.

Frank Winne is endeavoring to arrange a clay court tourney on the Leighton courts for an early October date. If his plans materialise, this competition will be the next in line for local tennis fans.

The cups won by Miss Jessie Greive, city singles champ, and by Hornidge and Adams, doubles winners, were ordered by Winne yesterday and will be presented as soon as completed by the silversmith.

ATLANTA CINCHES SOUTHERN PENNANT.

ATLANTA (Ga.) Sept. 11. — Atlanta won the Southern Association baseball pennant by defeating Mobile here today, and, although the season does not end until September 15, the team already has established three league records, according to unofficial statistics announced here. These show that the steam has won more games, scored nearly 100 more runs and made some 200 hits more than any other club in the seventeen years of the league.

RACE PROVES A HEARTBREAKER

St. Frisco Noses Out Cox's Mable Trask.

Royal Mac Wins the $10,000 Empire Purse.

Ima Jay and Busy's Lassie Finish Well Up.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SYRACUSE (N. Y.) Sept. 11.—Making remarkable time, St. Frisco, world's record trotting stallion, defeated Mabel Trask, Walter Cox's chestnut mare, in three straight heats here today, taking the Battle Royal stake in 2:05 1-4, 2:04 1-2 and 2:08 1-4. Mabel Trask, driven by Cox, gave Geers's great stallion a heartbreaking race in every heat, losting the first by a head, the second by a nose and the third by so small a margin that the spectators did not know which to pick until the announcement was made.

The second heat, trotted in 2:04 1-2, was the fastest over the new track. Miss Directed finished third in each heat.

The $10,000 Empire State stake for 2:12-class trotters was won by Royal Mac, Murphy up, in two of three heats. Ima Jay, piloted by Harvey Ernest, appeared the best horse in the race, but failed to show in top form. Busy's Lassie, big money winner of the year, finished third.

Neile Dillon trotted the fastest mile for two years over a Grand Circuit track thus far this year in the Juvenile $2000 stake, winning handily in straight heats, 2:08 1-2 and 2:08 3-4.

STRACHAN IS BRIGHT LIGHT OF TOURNEY.

CINCINNATI (O.) Sept. 11.—The tennis stars who are touring the country in the interest of the war ambulance fund displayed the highest class of tennis in contests staged here today. Two of the three matches were decided in straight sets.

Harold Throckmorton, Elizabeth, N. J., with Frederick B. Alexander, New York, as his partner, defeated Sam Hardy, California, and C. S. Garland, Pittsburgh, in men's doubles, 2-6, 7-5, 6-2.

A mixed doubles match was won by Miss Molla Bjurstedt, Norway, paired with John Strachan, California, from Throckmorton and Miss Mary Browne, California, 6-4, 7-5.

Strachan also played in a singles match with Alexander and won in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2.

WEAVER TO BOSS THE A.A.U. AGAIN.

Bob Weaver was elected President of the Southern Pacific Association of the Amateur Athletic Union for the third successive time at a meeting last night of that body. He was also chosen to represent this division at the annual meeting in St. Louis next month. Plans for the far western track meet were discussed and a tentative team of twenty-five athletes was chosen. These men will meet in a tryout affair one week from Saturday on the Manual Arts track.

TED KID LEWIS AN EASY WINNER.

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) Sept. 11.—Ted "Kid" Lewis of England, the welterweight champion, outclassed Soldier Bartfield of Brooklyn in the majority of the ten rounds here tonight. Lewis weighed 145½ and Bartfield 146.

CROAKER CATCHES SEIZED.

Seizures of spotfin croakers amounting to several hundred pounds were made yesterday in San Pedro and local markets by Deputies H. B. Nidever, C. S. Bauder and E. A. McKee of the Fish and Game Commission, as these fish are not to be sold, being sacred to alongshore anglers. The markets do not care much about handling them as they are bad slicers and poor keepers.

BIG LEAGUE BASEBALL.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—While Chicago remained idle today, they increased their lead in the American League pennant race by half a game, because of the defeat of Boston by Washington. Chicago is now leading Boston by seven and a half games. Chicago has sixteen more games to play, while Boston's schedule calls for twenty.

RED SOX OUT OF IT.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Boston virtually was eliminated from the American League pennant race by losing the third game of the series to Washington 5 to 4. In order to win the championship the Red Sox, it is said here, must take nineteen of their remaining twenty games if Chicago wins half of the sixteen games in its schedule.

Facing Walter Johnson, Boston made a game uphill fight, tying the score with three runs in the eighth, but Washington won in the ninth on singles by Ainsmith, Johnson and Shanks. Score:

GIANTS ARE SENSATIONAL.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11.—New York twice nosed out Brooklyn in late inning rallies here, winning both sections of a double-header, 3 to 2 and 2 to 1. The first game went ten innings. The Giants appeared beaten in both games, but tied up the first one by scoring runs in the eighth and ninth innings. A home run by Burns then won for New York in the tenth. The veteran Coombs had the Giants shut out, 1 to 0, up to the ninth inning of the second game. Scores:

BRITISH WIN ON THE SOMME.

Seize German Trench of Quarter Mile in Extent.

Teutons are Driven Back West from Lake Garda.

Russians Begin an Offensive Southeast of Bukowina.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Heavy fighting of a local nature has occurred on the British and the Germans on the Somme front, the British capturing a German trench nearly a quarter of a mile in extent. There were artillery duels in the neighborhood of Ypres also, according to the official report from British headquarters in France tonight.

"In the last few days, owing to the unsettled weather," says a British official statement today, "operations by our naval aircraft have been restricted. In operations which occurred, however, one enemy aircraft was driven down and another was driven out of control. Two bombs have been dropped on the Belgian aerodrome. All our machines returned safely."

The official statement issued today follows:

"We captured a few prisoners last night in the course of local fighting in the neighborhood of Villeret, southeast of Hargicourt.

"Considerable artillery activity continued to the east of Ypres during the latter part of the night."

ITALIAN FRONT.

ROME, Sept. 11.—There was little change aside from artillery engagements along the Austro-Italian front, today's War Office statement declares.

"Activity in gaining a foothold on Mount Tumavo, storming which moved against our positions, but was immediately repulsed by the extreme right wing of our troops and put to flight with heavy losses by our efficacious barrage fire."

AUSTRIAN STATEMENT.

VIENNA, Sept. 11 (via London.) — "Activities have begun an offensive against the Austro-German positions on the front of the Austrian Archduke Joseph Ferdinand," says today's official statement. The German official reports that the fighting has been only local advance patrol affairs.

IMPORT AMERICAN COTTON.

NEARLY 200,000 BALES TO BE SHIPPED.

Shortage of Bottoms Has been Increased. Shipments will Also be Slow from India in

TOKIO, Sept. 11.—Contracts have been signed between the Japan Cotton Association and representatives of the shipping firms for shipments from the United States to Japan. According to the Japan Spinners' Association approximately 200,000 bales of cotton will be imported to Japan from America during the next six months beginning this month.

Owing to the shortage of bottoms the freight rate, which was said to have been increased to $60 on some of these bales. The Osaka Kaisha will import 90,000, the Toyo Kisen Kaisha, 60,000, and the Nippon Yusen Kaisha 50,000. Negotiations are going on between the Japan Cotton Association and representatives of the shipping companies for the shipment from India to Japan of 1,500,000 bales, which, it is estimated, will be imported to Japan during the coming season.

The Toyo Kisen Kaisha will be allotted 700,000 bales, the Osaka Shosen Kaisha $00,000, and the Nippon Yusen Kaisha 500,000. The rates are to have been carried by the Japanese and Oriental, but owing to the fact that most of its ships have been commandeered by the government, arrangements will be made by the two Japanese companies to carry the remaining 300,- loff battalions, railroad and sapper units, heavy artillery of four divisions and some batteries of light artillery. All the troops are under command of Gen. Klimoff, former commandant of a cavalry corps.

TROOPS TO DETRAIN.

PETROGRAD, Sept. 11. — Gen. Korniloff has ordered his troops to detrain at the railroad station at Dno and to march on and besiege the city of Petrograd. Government infantry still is moving out of the capital to oppose Korniloff's forces.

Gen. Denikine, commander of the Russian armies on the southwestern front, has telegraphed to Premier Kerensky that he intends to support Gen. Korniloff.

Lieut.-Gen. Dmitri Stecherbatcheff, commander of the Russian forces on the Rumanian front, has ordered his armies and also the Odessa military district to take no part in the conflict, at the same time remaining true to the provisional government.

No report has yet been received of a collision between government troops and the forces of Gen. Korniloff which are coming toward Petrograd. It is officially stated that a part of the rival forces met near Luga and communicated with each other without hostilities breaking out. One of Gen. Korniloff's detachments is said to be advancing from the Narva. Both sides are still organizing and appealing for support.

CAVALRY AT DNO.

The Bourse Gazette says the cavalary which Gen. Korniloff sent against the capital reached Dno, 120 miles from Petrograd. The military section of the Council of Soldiers' and Workmen's Delegate at Petrograd had sent emissaries to explain the character of the movement to the officers of the Korniloff cavalry. The delegates delivered Premier Kerensky's order of the day and the advance of the cavalry stopped at Dno to await further instructions.

Premier Kerensky has sent instructions by wireless telegraphy to all railroad organizations, requiring the officials to refuse to obey any odrer from Gen. Korniloff. The Premier has received a telegram from the commander of the Baltic fleet promising support.

It is stated that Gen. Kaledines, a Taman of the Cossacks, has telegraphed to Premier Kerensky threatening that if he does not accede to Gen. Korniloff's demands the Cossacks will cut the Moscow railway, thus isolating Petrograd.

TEAR UP TRACKS.

Government officials are tearing up the railway track at Semrino, forty versts from Petrograd, in order to stay the approach of Gen. Korniloff's troops. A special train which left Petrograd during the night for Semrino carried the chiefs of the railway departments, a large staff of workmen and representatives of the Council of Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates.

Alexander J. Guchkoff, the Octoberist leader, who formerly held the positions of president of the Duma, chief of the Munitions Bureau and Minister of War and Navy ad interim, has gone over to Gen. Korniloff. M. Guchkoff had left Petrograd on Saturday for the Russian field headquarters.

Members of the Russian provisional government today discussed as an alternative or complement to a directory the formation of a permanent national assembly on the lines of the Moscow conference, which is to be summoned immediately. It appears as though the plan to create a directory has been abandoned by the Petrograd authorities.

ACTION OF BALTIC FLEET.

LONDON, Sept. 11 (British Admiralty, per Wireless Press.) — A Russian message received here this afternoon and signed by the Russian Prime Minister states that the entire Baltic fleet, together with its staff officers, has unanimously placed itself on the side of the provisional government.

The Swedish Aftonbladet, says the correspondent at Copenhagen of the Exchange Telegraph Company, publishes a rumor emanating from persons who have arrived at the Danish capital from Petrograd that Premier Kerensky had been killed by a member of the Bolsheviki. The rumor could not be confirmed.

WHITE SOX RECRUIT ALMOST BEATS THEM.

FORT WAYNE (Ind.) Sept. 11.—The Chicago American League team defeated a team composed of minor league players here today, 7 to 2. Jake Runzer, a local boy, now owned by the White Sox, made both of the local scores with home run smashes over the right-field fence.

AMATEURS DO SOME GENUINE SHOOTING.

ATLANTIC CITY (N. J.) Sept. 11. —Woolfolk Henderson of Lexington, Ky., and A. H. King, Pittsburgh, Pa., tied for high gun honors in the opening day's programme of the eleventh annual shoot of the Westy Hogans. The two amateurs smashed 147 out of 150 targets. Frank Huseman, Rochester, N. Y., and T. H. Fox, Roanoke, Va., were high professionals, each with a total of 145.

Henderson led on the high run calendar for the day, smashing 115 before missing out.

THREE-SIDED FIGHT IN ASSOCIATION BALL.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—Three clubs, Indianapolis, St. Paul and Louisville, are fighting it out for first place in the American Association as a result of today's games. Indianapolis, although beaten, 6 to 1, by Minneapolis, retained a lead of one game over St. Paul and Louisville, which tied for second place. The season closes a week from tomorrow.

Proclamation.

KERENSKY WARNS ARMY OF KORNILOFF'S COUP.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PETROGRAD, Sept. 10 (via London.)—Premier Kerensky today issued a proclamation addressed to the army, the fleet and the nation and also to the committees of the army at the front outlining the attempted coup of Gen. Korniloff through Vladimir Nicolaievitch Loff and the measures that had been taken as a result. Regarding Gen. Lokomsky, the Premier says:

"The Chief of Staff, Gen, Lokomsky, also proved a traitor. He refused to carry out the provisional government's order to assume command of the armies in view of Korniloff's dismissal, indicating to the provisional government the possibility of civil war on the front, the opening up of the front to the Germans and the conclusion of a separate peace. The government is in full agreement with the executive of the Workmen's and Soldiers' Deputies for taking measures for the crushing of the counter-revolutionary plot instituted by traitors to the fatherland."

After announcing the dismissal of Korniloff, and stating that he would be punished for treachery, the proclamation adds:

"Against Korniloff's attempts to direct individual military detachments to Petrograd, most decisive measures have been taken."

The proclamation refers to the statements of the Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates suggesting that the army and navy ignore commands issued by Gens. Korniloff and Lokomsky, and adds:

"All of the army organizations should give the government and the executive of the Workmen's and Soldiers' Delegates decisive co-operation and support in their struggle against counter-revolution. The conspiracy has no deep roots among the commanding force of the army. It is necessary to preserve full calm and firmness and to use every exertion in the struggle with the external enemy. All events and measures taken by army organizations should be indicated to the Workmen's and Soldiers' organization."

SIX HEATS REQUIRED FOR PACE EVENT.

MILWAUKEE (Wis.) Sept. 11.—With the exception of the 2:20 pace, which took six heats to decide, the races at the State Fair, under the auspices of the Great Western Circuit today were won in straight heats. Results:

2:15 pace, purse $1000: Count Marquis, br.g., by Sir Marquis, first; Eggo, second, Miss Charolite M, third. Best time 2:11¼.

2:20 pace, purse $1000: Agnes Kirby, b.m., by John Kirby, first; Harry Warren second, H. T. C. third. Best time 2:09¼.

Three-year-old pace, purse $800: Lord Abbe, ch.h., by the Abbe, first; William Patch second, Don Sunset third. Best time 2:16¼.

2:20 trot, purse $2000: Richard Hunter, br.g., by Golden Hunter, first; Heir Excellent second, Look Ahmaid third. Best time 2:11¼.

BOSTON MAN HAS LOW GOLF CARD.

CHICAGO, Sept. 11.—M. J. Brady of Boston today made the best score in the best ball play for amateurs and professionals, as the first preliminary of the western open golf championship at the Westmoreland Country Club, scoring 36-33-69, with the aid of two strokes taken off by his amateur partner, C. A. Rowe of the home club, who led the large field with 35-32-67. The second best ball score was made by E. E. Foord of St. Joseph, Mo., and Tom Gallagher of Chicago, amateur, who turned in 68.

Six pairs were tied at 69. The best ball score for nine holes was made by Foord and Gallagher, who scored 31, five under par between them.

FISH ARE PLANTED IN LOCAL STREAMS.

Distribution of fish from the northern hatcheries in Southern California creeks and rivers began yesterday when the Fish and Game Commission's fish car No. 2 passed through Los Angeles with 100 big cans of trout for San Gabriel and San Jacinto watersheds, the San Bernardino lakes and streams being already cared for from Bear Valley Hatchery.

Rainbow were planted, thirty-four cans in San Gabriel River, ten in the San Jacinto, eleven in the Big Tejunga, seven in San Dimas Canyon, six in Snow Creek above Whitewater, as an experiment; sixteen cans of eastern brook trout were put in the cold waters of the Santa Anita, where it is thought they can thrive.

Public-spirited anglers took charge of the shipments and planted the fish under direction of the Fish and Game Commission's experts.

BOUTS AT VERNON ARE REAL BATTLES.

Toe-to-toe slugging matches were the order at Vernon last night and better bouts have not been witnessed in these many moons. Billy Capelli and Young Fritz fought a whirlwind main event to a draw, the decision meeting with general approval. In the semi-windup Louie Rees and Leo Rose slugged four rounds with Rees a close winner.

One of the prettiest bouts of the evening was Leo Houck's artistic trimming of Tommy McMahon. Houck outfought a slugger at his own game. Kid Mende and Warren Williams were very fast. Mende won by a shade. In another tangle between Ted Frenchie and Babe Crist, the former lad was returned the victor after a hard bout. Young Frisco smashed his way to a decision over the dark-skinned Johnny Oliver. Lamon won a rather lame fight from White.

JIM SCOTT REPORTS LATE AT PRESIDIO.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—"Jim" Scott of the Chicago American pitching staff was admitted today to the reserve officers' training camp at the Presidio.

Scott showed up one day behind the time he had been ordered by the War Department to report, but camp officers decided, they said, that his "desperate" efforts to arrive from Chicago on time, "entitled him to some consideration." Scott left Chicago on two-hours' notice.

PETE HERRMANN IS AN EASY WINNER.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

TULSA (Okla.) Sept. 10.—Pete Herrmann, claimant of the world's bantamweight championship, had little difficulty defending his honor in a ten-round no-decision bout with Earl Purvear of Denver here tonight. Hermann won six rounds and two were even.

MANY DUCKS; FEW FISH.

Fish and Game Deputies Nidever and Bauder have just returned from a trip up the coast as far as Cayucos, informing kelp and cannery people of the new laws governing their businesses. They say ducks never have been so plentiful at this time of the year in the up-coast counties. Not much fish is coming in anywhere alongshore.

Public Forum Meeting.

With Judge Thomas P. White as speaker, the public forum will meet at the Grand-avenue school building tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. A general discussion will follow Judge White's speech. The public is invited.

Seek Help at Hemet.

Employment for fifty girls and fifteen men can be had at Hemet, according to advices received last night at the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. The peach-canning season is at its height and extra help is needed until October. Application for the work may be made at the Chamber of Commerce, third floor, 130 South Broadway.

Commercial Board Meets.

Harris Weinstock, State market director; Albert Lee Stephens, City Attorney; M. A. Leach, a local automobile man, and others will speak before the Commercial Board of Los Angeles at its regular weekly luncheon meeting today at the Hotel Clark. The meeting will convene at noon and F. B. McCroskey will preside. Covers will be laid for about fifty business men.

Angelenos Wed in North.

According to advices received from Vancouver, Wash., yesterday, marriage licenses were issued to two Angelenos. William Elvie Hardesty of Los Angeles, 24 years old, secured a license to wed Harriett May Tracer, 23 years old, of Portland. Charles G. von Suessenlish, 58 years old, of Duluth, Minn., secured a license to marry Mildred D. Smith Kaheley, 40 years old, also of Los Angeles.

Churchmen to Dine.

The Church Club of the Episcopal Diocese of Los Angeles will hold its thirty-ninth monthly dinner at the Hotel Clark tomorrow evening, convening at 6:30 o'clock. The Rev. George Davidson, D.D., will speak on "Young Men of the Church." Plans for increasing the church membership also will be discussed. E. D. Williams, chairman of the Dinner Committee, expects an attendance of about 100.

Will Visit Oil Fields.

Members of the Engineers and Architects' Association will visit the Whittier-Fullerton oil fields Saturday as guests of the Union Oil Company. The party will leave the Eighth-street entrance to Hamburger's by automobile at noon. Chester Brown will tell of the development of the field, while W. W. Orcutt will explain the geology of the field, and O. B. Kibbele will tell about oil transportation.

For Pennsylvanians.

With addresses by Capt. John D. Fredericks, who was the Republican candidate for Governor at the last election; Justice R. W. McDonald of Pasadena; Rev. Joseph A. Stevenson of Santa Ana, and Dr. Charles Edward Locke, on the programme, members of the Pennsylvania Society are preparing for a big gathering at the organization's annual picnic, Saturday, at Sycamore Grove. President A. W. Frye of the society will preside.

Southerners to Picnic.

Under the leadership of Judge Monta J. Moore of Texas, assisted by the presidents of the Alabama, Florida, Louisiana and Mississippi societies, the five Gulf Coast States will join in a picnic reunion in Sycamore Grove on Saturday, the 29th inst. Coffee, cream and sugar will be provided for all who buy the new souvenir badges, but each one must bring basket dinner, cup and spoon. Old-time southern oratory, genuine colored minstrels and popular patriotic songs will fill the hours.

Course on Readings.

The University of Southern California and the State Normal School of Los Angeles are co-operating in a course on the "Methods and Problems of Readings," which will be given at the university on Saturday mornings from 10 to 12 o'clock, beginning the coming Saturday. Mrs. Alice O. Hunniwell, head of the department of reading at the Normal School, will give the course, through arrangement with Miss Beulah Wright, dean of the college of oratory.

Carnival at Culver.

One of the features of the all-day carnival at Culver City Saturday, celebrating the incorporation victory and the sixteen-acre addition to the Triangle's plant, will be vaudeville in the evening just preceding the grand ball at which Belle Bennett will be the honored guest. The programme includes a comedy juggling act, Sisto the clown, the Gemini twins, classic and character dancers, Downs, buck-and-wing dancer; Robenson, the magician; Ed Pendleton in a pianologue, and Hazel Schertzinger, harpist. Later comedy motion pictures of the carnival will be shown.

WILL CUT FREIGHT RATES TO ORIENT.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—The Pacific Coast is to receive reduced freight rates to the Orient, and there is a possibility of the transference of Japanese ships to the trans-Pacific run, according to dispatches received tonight by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce from its Washington representative. Japan will turn over ships for operation in exchange for steel plates, said the dispatches. There also seems to be no question but that California will become the base for the manufacture of airplanes for export to Japan and Russia, according to the messages.

WESTERN HOTEL MEN FORM ORGANIZATION.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—The Pacific Coast Hotel Association was incorporated here today for the promotion of co-operation among hotel owners of California, Washington, Oregon and Nevada, and to secure legislation favorable to their business in the several States.

KAISER TO CONFER ON ANSWER TO POPE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 11.—A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph from Amsterdam says:

"Emperor William returned to Potsdam today to receive Dr. Georg Michaelis, the imperial Chancellor, and Foreign Minister Von Kuelmann, when the final decision will be reached regarding the answer to the Pope's peace proposal and the status of Poland."

RUSSIAN DIPLOMATS ARE "IN THE DARK."

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 11.—At the Russian Embassy here this evening it was stated that no cable messages had been received there from Petrograd since Monday morning.

"We are absolutely in the dark concerning what is taking place, and are now dependent on the press for our information," said one of the secretaries.

THE WEATHER.

[Official Report.]

LOCAL OFFICE, U. S. WEATHER BUREAU, Los Angeles, Sept. 11.—[Reported by Ford A. Carpenter, Meteorologist.] At 5 o'clock a.m. the barometer registered 29.94; at 5 p.m., 29.85. Thermometer for the corresponding hours showed 67 deg. and 76 deg. Relative humidity, 5 a.m., 85 per cent.; 5 p.m., 31 per cent. Wind, 5 a.m., northeast, velocity 4 miles; 5 p.m., southwest, velocity 8 miles. Highest temperature, 87 deg.; lowest, 65 deg. Barometer reduced to sea level.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.—One of the results of the widespread field of high pressure was the lowering of the temperature generally over the Mississippi Valley. Heavy frost is reported in Minnesota and Illinois. Much cooler weather prevails in the District of Columbia, Oklahoma, Missouri, Florida, Tennessee, Louisiana and Arizona. St. Paul reports a minimum temperature of 34 deg. The northern area of low pressure, in conjunction with the southern depression, gave showery conditions to most of the Pacific States. Except along the immediate coast, the sky over Southern California is uniformly clear.

LOCAL FORECAST.

For Los Angeles and vicinity: Fair Wednesday; moderate westerly winds.

For Southern California: Fair Wednesday; gentle westerly winds.

STATE FORECAST.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 11.—Weather forecast: San Francisco, Oakland and vicinity: Fair Wednesday, except cloudy or foggy in the early morning; moderate southwesterly winds.

Southern California: Fair Wednesday, except cloudy or foggy in the early morning near the coast; moderate westerly winds.

Sacramento Valley: Fair Wednesday; gentle southerly winds.

"All Work and no Play——"

NOT ALL DIG AND DRILL IN THE LIBERTY ARMY.

Chiefs at Camp Lewis Plan for Entertainment of Drafted Men in Off Hours—Sun Comes Out.

BY THOMAS F. FORD,
Staff Correspondent of "The Times" with Draft Troops.
[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CAMP LEWIS, AMERICAN LAKE (Wash.) Sept. 11.—All work and no play makes Jack a dull soldier, in the view of the officials of the great cantonment on American Lake, where the youths of Northern and Southern California are learning to become the kind that will put that W. Hohenzollern does not live on the other side. Maj.-Gen. Hunter Liggett, commanding Camp Lewis, held a conference today with Raymond Fosdick, representing the War Department commission on training camp activities, and Stephen Appleton, who is to have charge of amusements for the men of the cantonment. Nothing was made public but it is understood that telegrams were sent to the War Department asking that the athletic programme for camp Lewis be laid out as soon as possible.

Two hundred and twenty-one more soldiers arrived at the camp. There are now 2331 men of the liberty army quartered here, and about 100 more are expected to come tomorrow. The One Hundred and Sixty-seventh were given another day of recreation. The probability is that a small number of them will be sent home because of disqualification discovered by examination by the examining physicians. Uniforms were issued today to 1200 of the men.

THE MASS DRILL.

The training of the new liberty army began this morning and for the first time the great drill ground was given over to behold. Squad, company and battalion movements marched and countermarched. Officers bawled out their commands, while hundreds of new recruits, eager to learn the mysteries of their new life, sweated and struggled as they clumsily executed the different maneuvers. Some of the men are quick to learn the command and prompt to execute it, and squads, commanded by men who have had military experience, step off right and forward with an alacrity that has won the admiration of every officer in charge. This is reciprocated by the men, who think their officers are about the best in the army. They are all enthusiastic and say that they are going to show their officers how they appreciate them by studying hard, obeying promptly and becoming as proficient as possible in the work which they have dedicated themselves to without reserve.

E. G. Martin, who in civil life is an architect, this morning built a desk in the barracks for the use of Capt. Cook of Co. M. Frank B. Belcher and David Bonner Richardson will probably be assigned to clerical work for the present, as accountants and stenographers are in big demand to handle the wealth of detail that the organizing of this immense camp requires.

SEE MT. RAINIER.

This morning for the first time the men got a full view of Mt. Rainier, (known here as Mt. Tacoma.) The sun came out early and the mist cleared away and this majestic volcanic pile stood out against the clear blue of these northern skies clad half way down to its base in riven snow. The mountain gives the impression of riding a great bank of clouds and was indeed an inspiring sight to those who viewed its pristine glory for the first time.

After the rain of the last four days the country looks green and fresh as an April morning. The dark green of the stately pines forms a skyline around the great camp, over which fleecy white clouds float lazily. If nature had planned to inspire these men with her own sublimity she could not have chosen a more appropriate symbol than this noble pile. It visualizes strength, beauty and calm assurance, that, while all at present may be toil and turmoil, the future is secure.

MEN SETTLE DOWN.

The men have not settled down to the routine of barracks life. Each has had a taste of the various duties that go with this mode of existence. Each day a different man is picked in each squad to act as corporal, so that all have for a brief period that taste of the authority that each man hopes some day will be regularly his. That the men are interested in the work is readily seen by a look into any one of the barrack squadrooms during the brief

Girl's Quick Wit Given Credit for Saving Town.

At yesterday's fire in the town of San Fernando.

At the top is a view of the fighters at work on Porter avenue. The building at the left is that of the San Fernando Democrat, in the rear of which the blaze started. Below is C. A. Reed, a linotype operator for the paper, indicating the gas meters where an explosion is thought to have caused the fire. At the right is Miss Martha Molitz, whose quick-witted work at the telephone was largely instrumental in preventing a much more serious fire.

SAWDUST TRAIL MAY BE THROWN OPEN TONIGHT.

Billy Sunday Corps of Convert-handers Given Final Instructions, and the Subject is Significant.

THIS is the twelfth day since Billy Sunday and his party arrived in Los Angeles. Billy has preached a score of sermons here; the great tabernacle has been filled to overflowing, and thousands have been turned away—yet the "sawdust trail" is still closed; the invitation to "hit" it has not yet been given.

But every one connected with the campaign expects the invitation may be extended at any meeting. Events have shown that the dramatic moment is imminent. To hundreds it seemed almost certain that the invitation would be given at the close of last night's sermon, and that the sawdust-strewn aisles would be crowded with people pressing forward at the call of the evangelist,—yet the meeting ended with a short prayer and Mr. Sunday's cheery call: "Good night, folks. Good night, girls."

"HOUR IS COME."

A significant feature, taken by many as indicating that the "trail" will be thrown open at this evening's meeting, is that at the close of last night's services the personal workers and the secretaries, selected for the purpose of enrolling the people who "hit the trail," and listing their church preferences, were called together and given special instructions as to their work. Another evidence of the nearness of this event may lie in the subjects which Mr. Sunday has selected for today. In the afternoon he will speak on "Personal Work," and his evening subject will be "The Hour is Come."

Last night's meeting was especially marked by the large number of delegations present from organizations and places of business. One after another they arose as they were called; but the liveliest party was a delegation from the harbor. It was headed by a banner-bearer, and it had a special yell, which it gave twice during the evening.

BUSINESS WOMEN THERE.

The largest delegation was that of the business women. It was estimated that about 4000 business women of Los Angeles were gathered in the section reserved for them. This was the result of the work of about 300 women, who have been visiting offices and stores, extending special invitations for the meeting of last night.

Central church district of Long Beach sent a large delegation, as did also Burbank. Among the business places that had special parties at the meeting were the Broadway Department Store, Brownstein-Louis Company, Bullock's, Hamburger's, Robinson's, the Story Building, the telephone girls, Ville de Paris, Hall of Records, Hygienic Laundry, Coulter's, the Santa Fe offices, and others.

HITS THE "HEDGERS."

Miss Frances Miller and Mrs. William Asher each spoke briefly, telling the women of the special work that is to be carried on for them during the present evangelistic campaign. There was a season of lively music by the great choir and the immense audience, and then Mr. Sunday began his sermon on "The Backslider." His text was Jeremiah ii:19, the theme being "Thine own backsliding shall correct thee."

Terrific was the arraignment of the backslider. At times the sharp-pointed barbs of ridicule were used by Mr. Sunday, and then the tender appeal to the highest motives in human life. At times he was severely denunciatory, and again he was pleading with a gentleness that moved his hearers to tears. The audience was moved and swayed by the man and his theme, and in his climax, when he cried out: "No matter what our transgressions may have been 'He was wounded for our transgressions and our iniquities He bore,'" it appears that the thousands of people would readily respond were the invitation given to "hit the trail."

Instead of this, Billy mounted the pulpit, and standing full-stretched above it, with his arms raised over his head and extended toward the crowd he cried out:

"Do you want to know the solution of the problem of the twentieth century? It will come when we have men and women who will stand up and be steadfast and true and loyal to God. How many of you want us to pray for you?"

Hundreds of hands shot up in all parts of the mammoth building, and Mr. Sunday at once began a short prayer in which he pleaded for a conviction of the people for their sins and that they might turn from their evil ways and seek the Lord. Abruptly he closed, and flashed out: "Good night, folks; good night, girls." The service was closed, and Billy plunged down into the "chute" and began ten minutes of handshaking.

SLAMS SALOONS.

As in previous sermons, Mr. Sunday did not fail to take vigorous whacks at the saloons and the liquor traffic. He declared that "it is up to the women of California to put the saloon out of business."

In his plea for an awakening of backsliders he said: "All I can do is to preach and pray. It's up to you whether you accept what is offered or not. It's dead sure that I'm not going to cram it down your throats. When you are sick the doctor comes, and if you don't follow

For Observation.

WEALTHY BANKER SENT TO PSYCHOPATHIC WARD.

WILLIAM G. SCHROEDER, a wealthy retired official of the Continental National Bank of Chicago was sent to the psycopathic ward of the County Hospital for observation yesterday following the filing of an affidavit with Superior Judge Reeve by Attorney Gilbert D. Boalt of San Francisco, trustee for Mr. Schroeder.

Shortly before he retired from the banking business in 1914, Mr. Schroeder suffered a nervous breakdown. He came to California about three years ago, making his home until three months ago in San Francisco. Here he suffered a second attack.

When he filed the affidavit to have Mr. Schroeder placed under observation, Mr. Boalt said that the former banker had suffered the second attack soon after he went to San Francisco and that he fears he may be undergoing another. The ex-banker is 52 years old and divorced. He is under observation in order to protect him financially and physically.

For the past three months Mr. Schroeder has been making his home in Long Beach. His mother came from Cleveland to be with him. Mr. Boalt was made trustee of Mr. Schroeder's affairs by the former banker himself.

George W. Houk.

WIRE-WHEEL MAGNATE CRITICALLY ILL HERE.

GEORGE W. HOUK, millionaire wire automobile wheel manufacturer of Buffalo and owner of the Red Mountain rancho at Fallbrook, is critically ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. F. H. Moody, No. 2448 Inverness street, Hollywood.

He was recently stricken with paralysis of the left side. In the hope that the change of atmosphere would be beneficial his physician Dr. Roland Cummings of this city, had him conveyed from Fallbrook to Hollywood yesterday in an ambulance. He stood the trip well, according to the physician.

Mr. Houk sold a controlling interest in the great wheel factory a few months ago, but since that time he has more than doubled his activities in Southern California. He has perhaps done more for Fallbrook in recent years than any other one man, and has been a tireless worker for the upbuilding of Northern San Diego county. He became interested in that section during the heavy rains of the winter of 1916, when he was marooned near Fallbrook while on his way from San Diego to Los Angeles by auto.

He remained long enough to become interested in Fallbrook, and he bought Red Mountain rancho for $50,000. Since then he has spent another $50,000 in improvements upon it, and he recently let the contract for a $35,000 ranch-house to replace the old one.

Six months ago he joined the Chamber of Commerce of Northern San Diego county and contributed $500 to its treasury. Since then he has paid it and the Escondido Chamber of Commerce dollar for dollar of all money secured in their membership contests, his check to the former being $4700 and to the latter $1600. When he was elected president of the Chamber of Commerce of Northern San Diego county in May he immediately provided the office with a paid secretary, at his own expense.

CRIPPLED WIFE FREED.

Spurned because she is crippled, Mrs. Clara Louise Scott, after vainly waiting for her husband, Henry Scott, to return to her, brought suit for divorce. The decree was granted yesterday in Judge Taft's court and the woman wept for joy. Mrs. Scott told the court her husband said he did not love her and would not live with a cripple.

FOUR CITIES FIGHT BIG BLAZE AT SAN FERNANDO.

Fire from Gas Explosion Destroys Business House in Valley Town.

AN EXPLOSION of gas at the rear of a building occupied by a printing office is believed to have been the cause of a fire which wiped out half a business block in the city of San Fernando late yesterday afternoon.

The fire for a time threatened to destroy the entire city. It caused a property loss of about $15,000, and the fire equipment of four cities was required to bring it under control.

The heroine of the day was Miss Martha Molitz, book-keeper in the office of the San Fernando Democrat. When A. Boehm, a linotype operator, called to her that the rear of the building was burning she ran to the telephone, put in a long-distance call for Mayor Woodman, asked him to send assistance, and then called the Los Angeles fire department. Before she had an opportunity to call the Glendale fire department the fire had gained such headway that the telephone connection was cut off.

According to C. A. Reed, a linotype operator for the San Fernando Democrat, the fire was started by sparks from a trash heap in an alley blowing under the porch at the rear of the Democrat office. There were four Southern California Gas Company meters beneath the porch, and it is alleged that one of them was a trifle leaky. The flames seemed to spread from the meters after an explosion had apparently occurred. Mr. Reed had his right hand badly burned while endeavoring to turn off the gas.

The block which was partially burned out was on the south side of Porter avenue, between Maclay avenue and Grand boulevard. It was known as the Mercantile Block, and was of frame construction. The establishments which were totally destroyed were the Sunlight General store, managed by T. Moto; a news stand and real estate office conducted by Steve Lopez, the Original auto stage ticket office, Smart's barber shop, Jack Land's lunchroom and the Harding shoe store.

A stiff wind from the southeast caught the flames and drove them into the warehouse at the rear of the Sunlight store, almost as soon as the fire alarm was sent in, and within five minutes the fire had jumped across half a block and was blazing on the roof of the San Fernando Hotel. A bucket brigade saved the hotel from destruction.

The two fifty-pound chemical tanks of the San Fernando fire department were exhausted in a few moments, and it looked for a time as though the whole south half of the city would be reduced to ashes, but complete destruction was averted by the quick arrival of fire apparatus from Los Angeles, Glendale, Burbank and Van Nuys. Combination hose and chemical trucks were sent out by each department.

Upon receiving word that San Fernando was threatened by fire Mayor Woodman called upon acting Chief O'Donnell to go to the rescue. With Battalion Chief Casey he rushed apparatus from Hose Company No. 1 to the scene, stopping at Hollywood long enough to pick up additional lengths of hose. Chief A. H. Lampford of Glendale rushed his apparatus to the fire, and the Van Nuys and Burbank fire companies reached the panic-stricken city at about the same time.

Sheriff Cline dispatched two county automobiles to the scene with Deputies Cochran, Dennison, Van Vleit, Nolan, Couts, Rice, Harry Cline, Sepulveda, Reyes, Gard, Wright and Strong, who took charge, established order and protected private property until the fire was under control. An automobile load of detectives went out from the Central Police Station to assist.

QUICKLY SUBDUED.

Although the flames burned ferociously for twenty minutes, they were quickly subdued by the motor-driven fire apparatus which responded to the alarms given by Miss Molitz, and she is given credit for having saved the community from almost certain destruction. In giving the alarm splendid service was rendered by the operators of the Pacific Telephone Company, who remained at their

EIGHTY-FIVE THOUSAND IN THE CITY SCHOOLS.

Gain in Enrollment of Five Thousand Over Last Year—Bond Issue for Improvements is Probable.

WITH a record attendance the schools of Los Angeles opened yesterday for the year's work. The day was spent in enrollment and organization of classes. Regular classwork begins today.

School officials placed the total number of students enrolled at nearly 80,000. This figure probably will be increased 5000 by enrollments during the remainder of this week. Of the 80,000 students, it is estimated that 13,000 will be enrolled in the high schools, 15,000 in the evening high schools, 8000 in the intermediate and the remainder in the elementary.

The enrollment for this year shows a gain of about 5000 over that of last year.

The department began its work for the year confronted with a number of financial problems, according to Dr. Albert Shiels, superintendent. More schools must be built and school lands improved from the funds of the department. The purchase price of all improvements must thus be saved from the running expenses of the Board of Education.

"We are short of high schools," declared Dr. Shiels. "Enrollment today indicated that the existing high schools will be filled to overflowing. We also have a number of old school buildings that must be improved and several tracts of land on which buildings must be constructed. There also has been an increase in the cost of school supplies, due to war prices.

"How we shall pay for these improvements is a grave problem. The only money available is the fund raised by taxes. The last bond issue was exhausted several years ago and it may be necessary to call for a new one."

At the headquarters of the Board of Education, in the Security Building, a mass of administrative work was on hand. A number of teachers were assigned to posts made vacant at the last minute by the absence of the teachers originally selected for the work. Some of the absentees were male teachers who have joined the army; others have resigned, and still others applied at the last minute for leaves of absence.

IN SPECIAL COURSES.

The heads of the special departments of instruction, such as music, drawing, nature study, etc., met and outlined their plans to their assistants. Domestic science teachers gathered at the Grand-avenue school to supervise the work of cutting material from huge bolts of cloth for their students to use next semester in sewing classes.

A long line of youthful artisans applied to E. J. Lickley, director of compulsory education, for work permits. Many school students are applying for permits to work during the day and to attend school at night. This condition is due largely to the fact that in a number of instances members of their family have been drafted for war duty and the family's income has been materially decreased.

The junior colleges, a comparative innovation in the school system, had a total enrollment of about 700. Junior colleges now have been established at the Hollywood, Manual Arts, Los Angeles and Polytechnic high schools.

The new Los Angeles High School enrolled nearly 2800 students. The staff of ninety teachers, under Principal W. H. Housh, was kept busy until late last night in registration work.

The transportation problem is serious for the new Los Angeles High School, as the terminus of the cars is quite a distance from the school buildings. Dr. Shiels and other school department officials are trying to adjust this problem. Between the terminus of the car lines and the school grounds are a number of privately-owned lots which prevent the traction company extending its lines. Satisfactory arrangement may later be made with the property owners for better car service.

Another problem at the Los Angeles High School is the establishment of a cafeteria for the students. This has been solved tentatively by the installation of a temporary plant which later will be removed to make way for a first-class cafe.

WILL MOVE BUNGALOWS.

The Hollywood High School is so congested that a number of bungalows, formerly used by various elementary schools, will be moved to the Hollywood High School grounds. These buildings will be grouped around the existing structures on the campus and will provide classrooms for a large number of students who could not be otherwise accommodated.

Manual Arts High School reported its enrollment as 1910. There are several new teachers at this school and a special assembly of the students was called in order that the latter might be introduced to them. Hubert Baty, president of the student body, presided, and short talks were made by him and Dr. Albert E. Wilson, principal of the High School.

At Lincoln High School an attendance of 1040 was recorded. The students there will present a community play for the residents of the neighborhood next Monday night. The production is entitled "Penelope." No admission will be charged.

A number of innovations in the way of class studies have been planned for this year, the most interesting of which deal with war problems. Classes in agriculture and home gardening will be organized under the direction of Clayton F. Palmer, supervisor of agriculture, and J. B. Lillard, principal of the Gardena Agricultural High School. Mr. Lillard spoke at several schools yesterday on the contemplated home garden work. It is planned to teach the students to make the most of every available inch of ground for agricultural purposes. A list of vacant lots in the district served by each school will be prepared and the pupils will be urged to plant gardens thereon. Then, to supplement the agricultural work, the domestic science classes will be instructed how to prepare various menus designed to get the greatest food value out of the minimum of raw material. Food conservation will be emphasized wherever possible. Red Cross classes also will be conducted in the schools.

UNIVERSITY IS LOWER.

The University of Southern California also began its year's work yesterday, and the curriculum of the college of liberal arts was featured by several new courses of instruction in military work. Nearly 250 students of the university have joined various military organizations and the registration this year fell short of that of last year by about 100. The total enrollment was placed at 1100.

The university has adopted a policy of preparing the students for military service and all freshmen and sophomore men must drill two hours a week, at 10:40 o'clock on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Simultaneously, freshman and sophomore women students will take lessons in Red Cross work.

Courses in military engineering have been organized by the engineering department. Prof. C. W. Cook plans to have a complete trench system laid out in Exposition Park by student engineers. The men under military training also will use these trenches for training in the actual conditions of war service. The trench layout will include all the means of defense and obstacles necessary for an enemy to overcome before the ditch can be captured. More than an acre of ground will be devoted to the trench system. In the economics department, special courses designed to fit men for the commissary department of the navy have been organized.

ATTACKS INDICTMENT.

Henry Uyttenhove Fails in Plan to Secure Liberty Through Legal Technicality.

Claiming that the amended indictment now pending against him is unconstitutional because it was altered by the District Attorney, and not in conformity with the law, Henry Uyttenhove, charged with stealing his two young daughters and fleeing with them to Canada, made a motion before Superior Judge Willis yesterday to set aside the indictment. The motion was denied.

Judge Willis ruled that the District Attorney has the power to amend an indictment returned by the grand jury, and particularly an indictment embracing such charges as were preferred against Mr. Uyttenhove.

The trial was set for October 26 and will be heard before Judge Willis, in Department Seventeen. Attorney W. J. Ford is now representing the defendant.

PICKFORD SUES.

Jack Pickford, motion-picture actor, and brother of Mary Pickford, filed suit in the Superior Court yesterday for $650 damages against Raymond Holt, alleging that the latter, while driving an automobile across Jefferson and Main streets without lights or lamps, collided with Mr. Pickford's automobile, damaging it badly.

HIS RECORD TO GO WITH HIM.

Personal Data Hereafter to Accompany All Men Who are Prison-bound.

Percy W. Vaughan, charged with stealing an automobile from W. E. Bamesberger, was sentenced to serve from one to ten years at San Quentin by Superior Judge Willis yesterday.

The papers which will accompany the prisoner to the penitentiary are the first of their kind to be issued in Los Angeles county. A record of the man's character, past court proceedings, earning capacity and business ability, as well as family history, is attached to the commitment. All future persons sentenced to the State penitentiary from this county also will be accompanied by such reports.

The new order and blanks were received at the Courthouse yesterday and apply on the new statute of the Penal Code under the indeterminate sentence law.

Native Daughter.

PIONEER'S FUNERAL TO BE HELD TODAY.

LAST RITES FOR CHARITABLE SOUTHLAND WOMAN.

Prominent Angelenos will Aid at Services for Widow of First Los Angeles Winery Owner, Who Expired Sunday After Short Illness at Lordsburg.

Funeral services for Mrs. Trinidad M. Valla, who was born in Los Angeles seventy-one years ago and who died suddenly in Lordsburg last Sunday, will be conducted this morning at 9 o'clock at the residence of her son, Dr. A. Z. Valla, No. 211 South Boyle avenue. Solemn requiem mass will be held over the body at St. Mary's Church at 9:30 o'clock, and burial will be in Calvary Cemetery.

Mrs. Valla was the widow of the late Antonio Valla, who owned the first winery in Los Angeles. She was very charitable, giving much money to Catholic institutions. One of the memorial windows in the old Plaza Church is her gift.

Mrs. Valla lived here all her life until three years ago when she went to live with her daughter, Mrs. P. J. Yorba, at whose home she died. Besides the daughter, she leaves three sons, Dr. A. Z. Valla, Louis and Norbert Valla.

Honorary pallbearers will be Judge A. W. Hutton, William H. Workman, J. M. Schneider, George Williams, Louis Sentous, Jr., Robert E. Wirsching, Joseph Mesmer, J. A. Bernal, Charles Prudhomme and J. H. Heidt. The pallbearers will be August Wackerbarth, D. Ferario, John Amestoy, M. J. Hanifan, Edward Gibbs and A. B. Moreno.

STATE AGAIN LOSER.

Son Escapes Big Inheritance Tax Payment When Judge Rules Property was His, not Father's.

J. C. H. Ivins will not have to pay an inheritance tax on property valued at $250,000, as Judge Rives of the Probate Court held yesterday that the property is his own and had not been deeded to him by his father, Jacob Ivins, in 1910, in contemplation of death. This decision frustrates the attempt of the State to lay an inheritance tax on the property, on the ground that it belonged to the elder Ivins.

A letter written by Jacob Ivins in 1896 was the principal factor in deciding the case for the son. This letter stated that the father did not want the son to go into the navy, and put on record the fact that the son's money had bought certain property and that he retained it for him.

The property was bought in 1880, and since that date it has increased in value. It includes, among other holdings, the Ivins Hotel at Tenth and Figueroa streets. Attorney C. L. Chandler represented J. C. H. Ivins in the legal contest.

HORSE THEFT ALLEGED.

Frank Collie, charged with grand larceny, was lodged in the County Jail yesterday by Deputy Sheriffs Wright and Strong, who say he attempted to dispose of one of three horses stolen from the Fontana Land and Water Company.

PRISON FOR NEGLECTING THE GIRL HE BETRAYED.

THE ire and spirit of right in Superior Judge McCormick were aroused yesterday during the trial of Andrew J. Ruiz, a wealthy resident of No. 1844 Seventeenth street, Santa Monica, charged with having mistreated Maude Olivera. After the fact was established that Ruiz maintained two separate homes, one with his wife and seven children and the other with Miss Olivera and her two children, both of which Ruiz acknowledged were his own, the matter of providing for the separate families was approached.

It was shown that Ruiz provided automobiles and other luxuries for his wife and family, while conditions were directly the reverse with the other women. It was shown that at the time of the birth of the first child to Miss Olivera, Ruiz did nothing toward caring for the child and mother, not even providing garments for the babe.

It was this instance that caused Judge McCormick to refuse to consider probation for Ruiz and sentenced him to serve from one to fifty years at San Quentin.

Miss Olivera, who is only 17 years old, lived on Colorado street, Santa Monica, with her children. Judge McCormick ordered Ruiz to dispose of one of his automobiles and allow the girl the proceeds for the maintenance of the children.

I.W.W. LITERATURE IS FOUND HARMLESS.

The correspondence and other memoranda of the I.W.W. crowd, captured when the headquarters of the organization were raided by United States Marshal T. C. Walton and a posse of assistants and city police last week, will probably be returned to the localities where the capture was made.

Roy Samson, special agent of the Department of Justice, to whom the stuff was turned over by Marshal Walton, said yesterday that a thorough survey had been made of the mass of letters, and correspondence, and several of the letters were sent to the Department of Justice for further inquiry, possibly. Mr. Samson states that nothing was found that required any attention or action on the part of the Federal authorities.

If the proper authorization is received from Washington, the loot will be returned to the local unions of the I.W.W.

CITY NOW CONTROLS ALL WATER SYSTEMS.

The Public Service Commission yesterday accepted the offer of the Jeffries estate made in connection with its private water system. The estate offered the system for $3500 and the commission agreed to take over the property.

This action marks the transfer of the last of the privately-owned water properties to the city, the commission now being in control of every system within the boundaries of the municipality.

Nature's Help for Constipation

"It Lubricates"

Your doctor will tell you that constipation is responsible for the beginning and progress of a great percentage of all diseases. He will no doubt tell you that AMEROIL (pure, highly-refined Paraffine oil—a nature product) is the best in even the most stubborn cases of constipation. It lubricates rather than stimulates aiding elimination without discomfort or harmful after effects.

Frank Rahe Co
420-2 S. BROADWAY
GOOD FVRNITVRE SHOP

We want you to come and see the new FVRNITVRE SHOP which has been opened by the Frank Rahe Co., "pronounced Ray," 420 South Broadway,—opposite Broadway Department Store.

It will be several days before we will be completely "togged" up as some of our fixtures seem to be lost on the way. However, we have a pretty good portion of our stock in, and we shall be pleased to have you come in and see some of the prettiest and most stunning things ever brought to the Pacific Coast, and we believe you will find the prices just as attractive. We expect to feature strictly period furniture and of the more exclusive type. A good portion of the designs are exclusive and will not be found anywhere else in this community.

We will also have an Interior Decorating Department with equally attractive things in floor coverings, draperies and wall coverings, most of the things made especially to go with the furniture we have to show.

Mr. N. B. Dahl, formerly of the California Decorating Company of this city, will be in charge of this department. Mr. Dahl is a very competent man, has been in this line of work practically all his life, and has just returned from the East, where he has made extensive purchases and all of them 1918 patterns and styles.

Mr. Frank J. Rahe, the principal owner of this firm, has been in the furniture business with one of the largest firms in Indiana continuously twenty-three years, starting when he was thirteen years old and has a record of not missing a day other than his legitimate vacations. For the past thirteen years he has been its buyer, manager and treasurer. The new FVRNITVRE SHOP will have but one price, a cash price, and it also will be the right price.

We hope to do principally a cash business, however, anyone worthy of credit can receive a reasonable amount. We have made arrangements with our bank to loan to such customers the necessary money with our endorsment, but the business is transacted by us and the payments made to us.

You will find no "pretend" sale or "direct from factory to consumer" buncombe or the like in our advertisements. Neither will you find the grade of goods usually handled by such firms in our establishment.

In the new FVRNITVRE SHOP we want your money to be worth just as much one day as it will the next.

We were only able to get a single store room on the first floor, perhaps it's just as well as it keeps our rent expense down, however, we have all of the upper floors and all of the basement of the whole building, which gives us ample floor space to show a wonderful collection of beautiful artistic furniture.

On the second floor the interior decorating department with the floor coverings, draperies, wall coverings and upholstered goods on this floor we have the new daylight lighting system, so as to show the true colors of the fabrics.

The third floor you will find a beautiful collection of bedroom and dining room suites, etc.

On the fourth floor we have two model suites, one a rather modest one and the other one more elaborate. These suites designed principally from a furniture man's point of view and we particularly want to show the proper spacing of windows, doors, etc., as to provide for the essential pieces of furniture. Also the proper locations of lights. We haven't been able to carry out this proposition because of the limited amount of space, also because of the rigid fire ordinances. These suites will not be finished for a few days, but we will announce it when they are.

ON THE RADIANT RIALTO

IN AND OUT OF OUR BRILLIANT MARTS OF FASHION.

By Olive Gray.

Now is the time to buy:

Furs. It will be decidedly a furry season, and prices are likely to increase as time goes on.

All things pertaining to knittery. Yarns are continuously advancing because of the higher cost of wool.

The newest fairyland book for children. It is just out and is one of their best-beloved kind.

What a joy it is to have some spot where you absolutely relax, if even for but a few moments during a day! Some place where you can drop down for a little chat which takes your mind off from the cares and worries which seem, sometimes, to fill the world! If it is but to hear or to repeat a bit of verse, or to smile over some quaint saying. Whatever takes the thought away from its accustomed grind, is a boon. Especially, during such stressful times as those of now, is such relaxation needed. Let us not criticise as frivolous, anything which brings such wholesome diversion; for diversion is as necessary as food—possibly more so to some.

Tailoring?

To apply tails to a coat—would you call that tailoring? I mean fur tails, of course. And did you know—by the way—that you can purchase tailing by the yard? Fur tails set at intervals along a band of fur! This is the latest home coat-making convenience.

Into the Jaws of Sleep.

The Balaklava sleeping cap is one of the truly practical things to be knitted for soldiers. Full directions are given in a recent book which makes a specialty of knits and their how.

Carryalls.

Carryalls, indeed, are some of the latest bags! I saw one recently so big and so strong that, truly, I believe a house and lit — almost — could have been carried home in it! It measured fully one yard across the bottom and that lower story was reinforced with black oil cloth painted in flowers and scrolls, the second "story" being of cretonne. Yes, it was a handsome bag and it was practical—there's no denying that. Shortly after, I chanced into that gifty shop where the girls always have something novel and there was another bag being born into the modish world! It was—but I promised not to tell until after it had made its debut—a really, truly debut, it will make!

Staying in Fairyland.

Some concern has been expressed, by a recent writer, lest royalty be banished from fairyland, when the world becomes wholly democratic. Perhaps the apprehension of this is what made that wizard supreme of all things wonderful and Ozish, hasten to write another fairyland story, to delight the hearts of childhood. He has written such a story and it is caught between the covers of a book, for I saw it in the Book Nook, where it has just arrived. Hurry, children!

A Touch of Sweetness.

"I always sprinkle a few grains of that wonderful sachet down my neck," said Evelyn as I watched her dress, and as she performed the sachet rite, she told me of this marvelously sweet, dainty and yet not overpowering sachet which she has for long obtained at a certain place. Certainly Evelyn's sweetness is not to be gainsaid.

A Clever Trick.

I use the term by way of slang, perhaps, and yet—of all the clever little tricks, in the way of outdoor suits, that of the aviatrix is the most striking and neat.

New Jappery.

Our old friend, the Basket Shop, has not only removed to more commodious quarters, but has increased in size and extended in stock until it is now a regular store, instead of a shop. It is a handsome store, too—well lighted, well arranged and tasteful, of course, as everything Japanese is bound to be. And I noticed there a novel sort of folding table. Similar in shape to those of brown basketry, which we have cherished heretofore, these are of lacquer. The folding stand is of lacquer and so also are the trays, two large ones affording ample room for luncheon, tea or for playing cards. These tables are far more handsome and more substantial than the ones formerly popular and equally as convenient.

Sequined Cloth.

My attention was attracted by a bolt of novelty cloth upon a trimming counter in that store not seventh in popularity, and at first I thought it a cloth encrusted with sequins, but upon closer examination I discovered it to be of tinsel warp with black, so woven as to give a sequined effect. It was really very pretty and would be stunning when used with net or tulle for evening dresses.

Wondrous Ribbons.

Ribbons so woven as to seem embroidered, and that embroidery a hand work of truest art — that is what those new ribbons seemed like.

Chinese scenes were woven thereon — or therein — whichever you would say. Figures in native Chinese attire, scenes and those always-interesting characters which by reason of their upward and downwardness, as well as by their shape, so interest us, always. It may be that they remark in their square, picturesque fashion—simply "good morning," or "I hope you're well"—but they leave all to our imagination and are by that the more interesting. These new and beautiful ribbons may be used for many purposes. A single scene might be inset, upon a girdle or used to enrich a blouse. The colorings are most tasteful.

A Boudoir Broke Loose.

"It looks as though a boudoir had broken loose there," exclaimed my companion, as we meandered along the broad aisle of a popular store.

And sure enough, it did look that way, for a large glass case was filled to overflowing with the most novel, dainty and wantable articles of intimate wear. Posied garters, posies for the front of corsets, wee floral bits for attaching to the hems of chemises and for elsewhere in that intimate feminine world which pauses at no adorable frivol, when it comes to underlings of silk, satin and crepe de chine. It was truly a joy, just to look upon that concourse of prettiness.

Fashion's Intimations.

Pocketbooks are being made of ribbon.

All sorts and sizes of hats will be worn.

Deer brown is one of the pretty new shades.

We will trim our winter suits with buttons.

Checks may be bought to match plain fabrics.

A novelty wool velour is known as wool brocade.

Separate skirts are pleated and made of satin.

Crystal fastenings are fashionable on gloves.

Semi-fitting waists seem to dominate all styles.

Wool embroideries are done in Chinese designs.

Many new blouses have sleeves above the elbow.

Sleeves must fit the arm from armhole to wrist.

Children's frocks generally follow straight lines.

The new fur-trimmed coats have huge square collars.

Some navy blue dresses have a touch of American Beauty.

GENERAL REVIEWS.

Burbank.

You never saw such a perfect resemblance as Francis Ford is to himself in "Who Was the Other Man?" He was the other man, of course, but how were the secret service departments of two great nations to know that?

It is one of these stern-visaged, haircutless men of the world who never wear the same style of collar twice in succession, who is always picked for government intrigues. If he carries the plans for the fortifications in his breast pocket instead of hiring a safety deposit box for two bucks per annum, you can't blame the first lady spy who catches him alone for "lifting" them.

Powell is a nice old hocus-pocuser whose legerdemain is puzzling, although strangely familiar; "& Co.," is the bobbing, grave, little woman who does the marvelous "disappearance" at the finish. Five Spanish troubardours serenade Morpheus with strumming melodies that are hard to resist. Arnold and Robinson, the "two hickory" (because it is tough) "nuts" can make a sparkle and a giggle grow in many places where crowsfeet and grouches flourished before. Paul E. Williams is a smiling sailor lad with a message of muscle and agility, as well as patriotism, to deliver.

GOING TO FRANCE.

Dr. Helen Woodroffe of Santa Monica received a telegram from Red Cross headquarters in Washington yesterday, ordering her to hold herself in readiness to leave for France within three weeks. Dr. Woodroffe was for some time secretary of the Santa Monica Red Cross chapter.

SEX DRAMA OUT.

LIGHT PLAYS WILL HOLD THE SPOTLIGHT.

By Grace Kingsley.

Sex drama may go hang during the coming season, judging from the prospectus issued by the various producing companies both of the stage and the film worlds. Either the dramatists have given up trying to solve sex problems, or else the public fails to be impressed or amused by such plays, due to some subtle underlying cause.

In the West, Oliver Morosco has "Amarilly of Clothes Line Alley," and other comedies in view for production; Klaw & Erlanger have "The Adorable Pest" and still other light plays on hand; while in the East the Shuberts will produce more musical comedies than ever before, and A. H. Woods is producing romances, comedies and musical shows.

Both Oliver Morosco and Mark Klaw told me a few weeks ago that the war was responsible for the falling off of interest in fanciful psychological problems, because other and bigger problems are taking their place. When a man is expecting to go to war, or is considering how he may be able to provide for his family during a year of war prices, he isn't apt to stop and analyze his feelings to see whether he may be falling in love with his grandmother or not.

Three forms of stage entertainment, viz., the musical comedy, the comedy, and seething melodrama will be the favorite forms of entertainment.

Likewise the plays of sensational and risque situation, the dialogue of double entendre, seem dead. The trend seems all toward clean, bright comedy, and thrilling melodrama. This Mr. Morosco stated.

The picture producers are taking the same tone. Col. Brady, head of the scenario department at Universal City, sounded the note a few weeks ago, when he stated Universal would produce no sex dramas and no war plays. The crop of war plays in other studios seems in fair way to be a big one, however. Naturally interest will be on tip-toe when David Griffith returns to this country, and announcement is made as to what he means to do with the scenes he has taken on the battle fronts of Europe. Of course, a large part of this will be shown by the allied governments in the interests of patriotism and as a matter of war record; but it is quite conceivable Mr. Griffith will return with a vast deal of information and film which he will make use of on his own account.

Corbett is Overcome.

James J. Corbett, heavyweight pugilist of the world, who has recently shone in pictures and on the stage, is now asked to meet a woman pugilist, said to be the ring champion of her sex.

Corbett hasn't accepted yet, and in answering explained that, "though married, he had never yet hit a woman."

Miss Bryson Departs.

Winifred Bryson has gone to New York to play a role in "Lombardi, Ltd." Miss Bryson was formerly a great favorite at the Burbank Theater, then, her health failing, she retired for a season. But Mr. Morosco has such great faith in her ability that he is sending her to New York.

Others who have lately been engaged for the cast are Marion Abbott, Judy Lewis, H. J. Cavill and Ina Rorke. The play will open in New York on September 17.

Jack Conway Hurt.

Jack Conway, the Triangle director, narrowly escaped death yesterday morning when his machine plunged over an embankment on the Malibu road along the Santa Monica coast, and, turning turtle, pinned him under the wreckage. He was on his way to the Culver City studios, but was picked up by other motorists and taken to a Santa Monica hospital. Later in the day he was able to leave, but will be unable to work for a few days.

Mason Will Light Up.

The Mason Operahouse will reopen next Monday night after four weeks of darkness and gathering cobwebs.

"The Knife" will be the attraction. This play, dealing with a physician who dissects criminals as he would guinea pigs or rabbits, was one of the sensations of last year in New York. In the cast are Norman Mackett, May Buckley, Eva Benton, Clifford Stork, Cordelia MacDonald, Robert Barrat, Frank Wood and Franklin George.

Fame Note.

Two additional Los Angeles actors are to have their names in electrics this fall in New York. They are Ann Andrews, the lovely girl who made her debut here in Cissip Dymow's "Nju," at the Little Theater, and Courtenay Foote, who made a tremendous hit in New York in "Upstairs and Down." Both have been engaged by Daniel Frohman to play the leading roles in the English melodrama, "Seven Days' Leave."

Championship Item.

Henry McRae, a manager of production at Universal City, now emulates the man in the poem for "carrying a message to Garcia." Mr. McRae holds the long-distance high-speed championship in the sport of hustling an automobile from here to San Diego and back. He makes the average motor maniac look like a sick snail on an up-grade.

It wasn't that anybody was chasing him, either. The reason for his quick trip was merely that he was needed in two places at once. He was needed in Universal City, as a matter of course, and he was needed in San Diego by President Carl Laemmle, who wanted to look over some eighteen reels of finished pictures. Mr. Laemmle asked that they be sent him by express, but when McRae came to figure out the time it would take to send them, and the risk also, he decided to go himself, just like that. No sooner thought than executed. The film was placed in McRae's machine at 7 o'clock in the evening, and accompanied by W. Sistrom, personal representative of Mr. Laemmle, McRae started on the 140-mile trip to Coronado, reaching there a few minutes after 11 p.m. President Laemmle was awaiting the travelers, and took the films to the Coronado Beach Theater, where they were viewed by U's president and a few invited guests. After viewing the pictures and a couple of hours' sleep following thereupon, McRae started on the return dash, arriving at Universal City at 9:30 o'clock the next morning. The films were on their way to New York the same afternoon.

Critics, Look Out.

The critics had best sharpen up their pencils for the Orpheum next week. Constance Crawley and Arthur Maude are to take a whack at the dramatic critics. Arthur Maude will assume some of the physical characteristics and idiosyncracies of certain well-known local d.c.'s.

Will Plunk in Trenches.

There is a new banjo player in the Maryland Singers, at the Orpheum this week. The former plunky artist received his call to join the selective army while in San Francisco, and this week he hies himself back to Des Moines, Iowa, his home town, to join his contingent.

If permitted to take his banjo into the trenches, he promises that the Germans won't be able to make their feet behave.

And Now Can't Golf.

Charles Olcott, the ten-minute comic opera man at the Orpheum, is a golf fiend.

Some thoughtless or malicious person en route from station to theater, threw a lighted cigarette into the lively canvas bag in which he carried not only his golf clubs, but a natty set of flannel trousers, a silk shirt and rubber-soled canvas shoes.

Of course, the golf sticks were only scorched, but as easily play without them as without the golf "scenery." All of which is the reason Mr. Olcott is eschewing the sport until he can replenish his wardrobe.

All for Art.

You who sit in cushioned seats at the Rialto this week and watch the huge elephants from the Hippodrome work in "Polly of the Circus," probably imagine the beasts going comfortably through their regular routine of tricks. Such is not the case, however. Not only did they learn new tricks for "Polly," but they were not comfortable while doing them.

For high-power lights under which they were compelled to work made the poor creatures blind. The blindness did not come on suddenly, but gradually, the elephants meanwhile suffering so much with their eyes that following the taking of the scenes at night they could not sleep, huge tears rolling down their cheeks. Bucketsfull of eye wash were used, but the animals finally became unmanagable and it was not for several days that peace was restored among them.

The whole company, including Mae Marsh, suffered greatly from eye-strain on account of use of the Kleigs, which were the most powerful ever used in taking night scenes.

Humble in His Greatness.

Betty Compson, pretty little star of Christie Comedies, is now the proud possessor of "Billy," the champion toy Spitz dog, which was recently brought to this country by Baron Matsubayashi, a member of the Japanese mission to the United States, and sent by him to the Christie studio in Hollywood. Accompanying the dog were fourteen blue ribbons won at various shows in Japan during the past eleven months.

At first Miss Compson was troubled as to doggie's diet. He spurned raw meat, though occasionally being persuaded to take a dainty bit of fish, if cooked to his liking. Miss Compson tried him on turkey, pate de foi gras, ice cream, angels' food—all to no avail. "Mikado" seemed about to die of starvation.

Then one terrible day—Miss Compson shudders every time she thinks of it—she discovered her high-bred little dog out in the alley back of the studio, licking up some rice powder that had been spilled. Ah, now, it was plain "Mikado" liked cosmetics. She tried him on cocoa butter. Nothing doing. Finally she had a brilliant inspiration. If rice powder, why not rice? And just plain rice, that's what his lordship lives on.

Off Again, On Again.

After a season of rest, Douglas Gerrard, the lively young actor-director, has been persuaded by President Carl Laemmle of Universal to readjust his temperament to Universal temperature, and Gerrard has been engaged to direct Grace Cunard in a five-reel Bluebird feature. Gerrard was formerly leading man with Anna Pavlowa, with Mary Pickford and other stars, and is well known.

THANKS.

M. M. Freeman, a member of the Chicago Board of Trade, says that Los Angeles is the best city on the Pacific Coast. Los Angeles knew that long before Mr. Freeman discovered it. Moreover, we're all heard the same comment before and expect to hear it again many, many times in the very near future from the lips of thousands of other happy visitors—but we're much obliged to Mr. Freeman, just the same, ever so much obliged.

"THE MOST STUPENDOUS," ETC!

There have been better circus parades than the one that went through Los Angeles Monday morning; nevertheless everybody who could find a place in a window or on the jammed sidewalks stood craning their necks and straining their ears from the moment the long line of horses, elephants, clowns and brightly-costumed women came into view until it passed out of sight and hearing. A circus parade, however poor, is one of the irresistible temptations of life.

DIRTY-FACED KANSANS.

In Kansas City 700 workers in the soap manufactory struck for higher wages and lessened hours of labor, whereupon 3000 packing-plant workers and teamsters and freight-handlers struck. The latter strikers had no grievance, but they had in mind the saying that "cleanliness is next to godliness;" they viewed with alarm the prospect of an insufficiency of soap for their cuticles, and out they went. An embargo necessarily followed upon all shipments of a perishable nature, and the pregnant inquiry today of the 91,558 inhabitants of Kansas City as, with soiled hands and dirty faces, they walk the streets is, "How are you off for soap?"

APT QUOTATIONS.

To strikers: "Do violence to no man and be content with your wages."—Luke iii:14.

To those who oppose wheatless days: "Man shall not live by bread alone."—Luke iv:4.

When La Follette travels: "Then cometh the devil."—Luke viii:12.

To ex-Senator Works and Senators Stone and Vardaman: "Against whom do you sport yourselves? Against whom make ye a wide mouth and draw out the tongue? Are ye not children of transgression, a seed of falsehood?"—Isaiah lvii:4.

Of Me und Gott: "I will no more trust him when he leers than I will a serpent when he hisses; he will spend his mouth and promise like Brabler the hound; but when he performs astronomers foretell it; it is prodigious; there will come some change; the sun borrows of the moon when he keeps his word."—[Shakespeare.

NEGOTIATING WITH WILHELM.

Perhaps, after all, the Allies should "negotiate" with Germany for peace as Grant "negotiated" with Lee—"unconditional surrender," failing which—"I propose to move immediately upon your works."

The Confederacy obtained better terms by unconditional surrender than it could possibly have procured by "negotiation." The plan of Thaddeus Stevens was to obliterate State governments, State names and State lines in the eleven Confederate States, divide them on new lines into territories to be named Grant, Sherman, Sheridan and Farragut, govern them as territories and in due time admit them into the Union as States with their new boundaries. And this plan might have been adopted if the Confederacy had fought for another year.

The way to negotiate with Germany is to say to her: "Disband and disperse your armies," and to say to "Me und Gott" what the Yreka man said to the burglar as he poked the muzzle of a revolver into his face—"You git!"

THE HOPE OF THE WORLD.

One spectator was killed and three others were injured when a gang of anarchists attempted to break up a patriotic meeting at Milwaukee. The philosophy of anarchism, which, according to its most enthusiastic exponents, means "individualism multiplied indefinitely," might be all right if every individual had only the welfare of his fellow beings at heart, but so long as selfishness rules the hearts of even a minority of the members of society anarchy is a serpent whose head the heel of government must ever seek to crush. Anarchy is unpopular because the evil effects of its doctrines are so apparent. Socialism has more disciples because it is more subtle in its appeal to humanity, although it is no less dangerous than its brother, anarchy. Anarchy openly advocates the doctrine of every man for himself, regardless of the general good, while Socialism comes seemingly nearer to the ideal with its glossy appeal of "each for all and all for each." Anarchy means no government, which, being contrary to all order, is unthinkable, while Socialism, which would establish a government without head or heart, would be equally destructive in its effect. Monarchy is the common father of both anarchy and Socialism, either of which is impossible, but, happily for the human race, between the two extremes stands the angel of democracy, the harbinger of freedom and the

RELIGION AND THE WAR.

Every American realizes the trials and hardships willingly endured by his fellow-citizens, the sacrifices and self-denials cheerfully undergone since our country actively intervened against those attempting to undermine our present laboriously-constructed system of Christian civilization. Personal thoughts of home and family, hopes of business and educational preferment, desires for ease and comfort have at the clarion call of the country been temporarily laid aside that the mightier enterprise might be hastened to a victorious conclusion.

Of the hardships necessarily inflicted by the draft, of the financial burdens voted by the people's representatives, of the unquestioning heroism of wives and mothers and sisters, much has been said and much has been written. But these are not the sole nor the most vital victories won by the soldier-civilians of America. Another struggle, another fight, of which the country in general has heard little, has been carried on with heart searchings and hesitation, with prayers for strength and guidance and clear-sightedness by those on whose verdict rests the final victory in the war. A spiritual conflict has been waged of transcendent importance, the warriors being the Christian ministers and teachers of Christian America. In their secret souls these good men and true have wrestled earnestly with the problem of how to reconcile their preconceived ideas of a religion founded on love with the awful facts of today.

The struggle was cruel and exhausting. The decision should be heartening to every true patriot. No section of the community has stood more resolutely behind the President in the war than the accredited advocates of the Gospel of Peace. The indorsement of these noble and righteous men is a justification, better than which the American people could not ask, for facing a duty however repulsive and using so terrible a means for attaining so justifiable an end.

On the face of it the idea of war—war in the concrete—a cold, calculating business depending on superior engines of destruction and a capacity for providing limitless material to be destroyed—appears wholly irreconcilable with the scriptural teaching of the New Testament and the doctrines of the Sermon on the Mount. Indeed, in the case of any war carried on for material betterment alone, though it promised the highest earthly rewards as a recompense for the suffering, a conscientious Christian minister could take no part.

Nothing has justified America's entry into the great war so clearly in the eyes of all right-thinking men as the almost unanimous approval of the leading spirits in all branches of the great Christian church.

From one end of the land to the other the Catholics, through their priests and bishops, have pledged loyalty to the Stars and Stripes. In Episcopal churches the flag is carried along with the cross in the choral processions. Christian Scientists, long before the United States declared itself, almost openly espoused the cause of the Allies. Presbyterian ministers have volunteered for the front; Methodist and Baptist preachers and Jewish leaders have given up comfortable homes to share the perils of the fighting men while ministering to the wounded on the firing line. The Young Men's Christian Association's offerings in men and work and money to aid the armies of our country form one of the most inspiring features of the co-operation of all religious bodies with the efforts of the President in calling our citizenry to the colors.

From the days when Cardinal Mercier, writing among the ruins of Belgium, published his Lenten pastoral and dared the rage of Gen. Von Bissing, to the hour when Billy Sunday, from the peaceful platform of a Los Angeles auditorium, as the newest evangel, consigned the Kaiser to the flame unquenchable, Christian believers of all views and sentiments and opinions, through their recognized leaders, have not only acquiesced in, but, vigorously supported, the cause represented by the arms of the eighteen allied nations.

What does this portend? What is its inner significance? To what conclusion does it force us? War is a barbarism. The present war has been rendered more barbarous than those waged by Attila, Marius or Darius—through the studied application of the laws of frightfulness. But Greek civilization threw back the Persian forces of tyranny; the triumphs of Marius and Attila advanced no cause and left only bitterness in their wake.

In all crises and all conflicts, what is the only sure reliance of a nation or a race? Not careful preparation alone—not precise organization—not mathematics or science or the law of probabilities—not new engineering and mechanical marvels beyond the concepts of other nations—not material wealth or a great throng of fighting men. These may be employed in an unworthy cause and against the eternal rock of righteousness they will beat themselves to pieces.

No, a cause to prosper and endure must be deep-rooted in the fertile ground of religion. War for its own sake has never reached the goal it aimed at, however cunning the hand that directed it and however deadly the bolt it launched. But religion! Why, religion has given us every advantage, every joy, every privilege we possess. It has built our hospitals and our best homes; it has created the social spirit; it has made our streets safe; it has sweetened and strengthened existence so that men can meet their fellow-men with a pleasant smile instead of a savage snarl; it has made life livable. Religion alone has differentiated modern society based on mutual respect and forbearance from the tribal gatherings of the cavemen where each eyed the other with fear, suspicion and veiled malice. It has been the fundament of every true and lasting civilization in the world's checkered history.

Losing His Equilibrium.

THE MAN IN THE RANKS.

In an interview with an American correspondent Gen. Von Hindenburg is reported to have said: "The foreign press, even the papers of our enemies, have paid me many undeserved compliments, but I tell you now that our victories are due entirely to the intelligence and to the devotion to duty of the German soldier."

And whether it is Hindenburg of Germany, the late Lord Kitchener of England or Pershing of the United States, every general well knows victories are indeed due entirely to the intelligence and to the devotion to duty of the man in the ranks.

We erect monuments to our great generals; we cover their breasts with beribboned medals; but it is the man in the ranks that wins the world's battles, shoulders the world's burdens, carries on the world's great industries, makes the world's progress possible. And it is the man in the ranks that suffers the big sacrifices; the man in the ranks that is greater than his own self!

The generals give their brains and their knowledge; yes—but the man in the ranks gives all he has, his intelligence, his faithful devotion to duty, his very life; and but for the implicit faith that his country can place in him, the amazing assurance of loyalty, fidelity and courage that every country expects and receives from the man in the ranks, all the brilliant tactics, all the dazzling strategies, all the dashing offensives and defensives of the generals would count for naught.

Genius in our generals is so rare that every country enshrines the memory of such a one in its Hall of Fame, and he is handed down through history as a monumental hero. But courage and fidelity, amazing endurance and strong-hearted thoroughness are so common in the ranks that it is only on the rare occasions, when the reverse is suspected in one of their comrades, that any comment arises.

We do not marvel that armies can be raised overnight and men flock to the defense of their countries at the cost of their very lives; we only marvel when there are slackers; our wonder is reserved for any individual men who hold back.

Yet for the great general there is assured glory; assured appreciation; assured reward. The man in the ranks who takes up his country's burden so valiantly has meager hope of individual reward. Indeed, as Capt. Knyvett of Australia recently assured us, bravery and self-sacrifice were so common that the authorities in Europe had long since ceased to award medals—every man in the armies would be entitled to one. Only the coward is unique; only the malingerer is unusual; only the slacker holds the limelight today. If this means the failure of Christian civilization, then it is a noble failure indeed, for, if the war has done nothing else, it has proved that the man in the ranks is still of heroic mould To quote Capt. Knyvett again: "The deeds of our ancestors pale into insignificance beside the deeds that our men are doing every day. They are performing unheard-of feats of courage—and would blush to be called heroes."

It is the man in the ranks who has won freedom for the world and who is rushing to its defense today. Unostentatiously, with that grim devotion to duty, that absolute selfishness, he is standing up in his millions to once again assert the world's best principles, and at the cost of his life, if need be.

God be praised for the fine integrity, the great average nobility, the unswerving courage and steadfastness of the man in the ranks!

POINTING OUT.

We have a steamed contemporary whose motto is: "Whosoever tooteth not his own horn the same shall not be tooted." Our cotem is the little Jack Horner of journalism:

"Who sat in a corner
Eating a Christmas pie.
He put in his thumb
And pulled out a plum
And said 'What a great boy am I.'"

Our cotem prides itself on having "pointed out" to our statesmen the paths they should pursue. It is no setter gnawing a bone in his kennel. It is a pointer with nose directed to where the quail hides in the tall grass. It pointed out to President Wilson every wise thing he has done and pointed him away from the unwise things which he avoided doing. Just now it is pointing out to him that if he embargoes exportation of food and munitions to Sweden which Sweden will turn over to Germany, then Sweden will join Germany and will make war upon us in conjunction with the other Scandinavian nations.

Our steamed cotem says:

We can imagine no greater single disaster that could occur to the cause of the Allies and to our American cause than the resolve of the Scandinavian kingdoms to array themselves in active military alliance with Germany. Such an alliance, if consummated, would add more trained and highly efficient soldiers to Germany's array than we could possibly land in Europe in time for the campaign of 1918, if there is to be such a campaign. Judging the probabilities from a military standpoint, such an alliance would make the crushing defeat of the Allies inevitable before we could possibly come to their rescue with sufficient aid.

Just imagine Sweden, Norway and Denmark, with armies aggregating 106,980 men and a total population of less than twelve millions, arrayed against Uncle Sam, with his pitiful million of troops and one hundred millions of people! Would not your uncle regret that he had not pursued the course "pointed out" by our sagacious steamed cotem and allowed Germany to receive our grain and meat via Stockholm?

LIVING THEIR RELIGION.

Another prominent clergyman in New York has requested the War Department's permission to join the ranks and work and fight for his country. It is good to note that the majority of the religious leaders of the United States consider themselves no whit better than the thousands of young men who belong to their churches but who have left home and church to serve in the army that will work and fight for the safety of both church and home. The ministers of the country are neither weaklings nor slackers. Those of them who join the army, to serve as chaplains or in any other capacity, will continue to carry the gospel of righteousness and good cheer to those with whom they come in daily contact, while those who remain in charge of their churches will preach courage and freedom and brotherly love to the end that democracy may breathe more freely and that the meaning of sacrifice may be made clearer to those who are giving their loved ones to the cause of justice and truth.

With alfalfa starting out at $30 a ton the Southern California ranchers ought to enjoy the ending of quite a number of perfect days.

STREAKS OF WIT.

Choosing a Name.

[Editor and Publisher:] Speaking on color in every day life, a recent speaker before the Rochester Advertising Club told a colored story to illustrate a point. Here's the story:

A tourist was sitting on a bench in Tennessee. On the same bench was seated an old colored man. A boy passed by and the colored man called out: "Fertilizer, come heah!"

"Ain't got no time," answered the boy. "Tse goin' over in the garden to work."

"How did you happen to name that boy Fertilizer?" asked the tourist.

"Mah name's Ferdinand and mah wife's name is 'Liza, so we done called the boy Fertilizer."

The Merry Milkman.

[Washington Star:] A milk dealer in New York was consulted in his early days by a friend in the milk trade.

"I've been roped in for two tickets to a masquerade ball," the friend grumbled, "but I don't think I'll go."

"Why not?" asked the dealer.

"Oh, such things aren't in my line," said the friend. "A milkman at a fancy dress ball! No, no—most inappropriate."

"Inappropriate nothing," said the dealer. "Put on a pair of pumps, man, and go as a waterfall."

Prepared for Prohibition.

[Washington Star:] "I understand that Crimson Gulch is making municipal improvements."

"Yep," replied Broncho Bob. "So long as there ain't goin' to be anything else to drink we've decided we want about as fine a water supply as there is to be had."

The Mutual Division.

[Baltimore American:] "That poor woman hasn't been married any time, and already she is taking in washing."

"What is her husband doing?"

"Oh, he's taking in the proceeds."

The Boy's Clever.

[Chicago Herald:] Teacher: "Willie, who was that who prompted you? I distinctly heard some one whisper that date."

Willie: "Excuse me, miss, but I expect that it was history repeating itself again."

Still One More Task.

[Detroit Free Press:] "So your long day's work is done."

"Not yet. I've finished as far as the office is concerned, but as soon as I get home and eat my supper I've got to go with my wife to some moving picture show."

Would Give Him the Lie.

[Boston Transcript:] Rounder: This gas bill is only 20 cents.

Clerk: Well, sir?

Rounder: Better make it $4.20. My wife keeps the bills and I've been writing her that during her absence I've spent all my evenings at home.

Mark Twain's Repentance.

[Chicago News:] Mark Twain was called upon to speak at a club dinner and took for his theme "Honesty." He said when he was a boy at home he one day saw a cartful of melons. He was only a boy—and he was tempted; besides, he liked melons.

The opportunity was there; there was little or no risk.

"I sneaked up to that cart," said Mark, "and I stole a melon. I went into a passage to demolish it. But I had no sooner set my teeth in it than I paused; a strange feeling came over me. I came to a quick resolution. Firmly I walked up to that cart, placed the stolen melon where I got it from and—took a ripe one!"

A Strategist.

[Boston Transcript:] An Englishman was run down and the doctor told him he needed a tonic, recommending a glass of stout after each meal. The patient said he had a barrel of it in his cellar, but unfortunately his wife insisted on all members of the household being teetotalers during the war.

"Since your health is concerned you must find some way to overcome her prejudices," said the doctor, and the patient departed.

A few days afterwards the doctor received a visit from the man's wife.

"Doctor," she said, "I'm so worried about my husband. I'm afraid he's going to have a nervous breakdown. He's developed a perfect dread of Zeppelins lately and keeps running down and hiding in the cellar."

Hoover Please Notice.

[New York Sun:] Old Mother Hubbard went to the cupboard
To get her poor dog a bone;
But when she got there—
She found that the bone had been used by Miss Hubbard, her daughter, in making a tasty dish from yesterday's left-overs.

RIPPLING RHYMES.

OLD AND NEW.

In olden times the hardy knight went forth with lance and mace to fight.
He rode upon his foaming steed and hoped to do some goodly deed.
And in the fray it often chanced that he was shot or slugged or lanced, and he would lie upon the field, incumbered by his arms and shield, and die for weary days on end, without a surgeon or a friend.
Oh, dying was a painful stunt for old-time soldiers at the front. But when the modern soldier falls, struck down by shrapnel, shells or balls, he wakes up—if he hasn't died—with Red Cross nurses at his side. They tend his hurts and soothe his pain and make him think of home again; sweet sympathy is in their eyes; they are so gentle, patient, wise, the stricken soldier pities those who are not shot up by the foes. War is the most atrocious thing e'er sprung by an ambitious king, and it would be so much the worse, but for the gentle Red Cross nurse, who strokes the sick boy's tangled hair and brings him hope who knew despair.

WALT MASON.

THE OBSERVATIONS OF A VETERAN.

BY TOM FITCH.

Can a Gold Embargo be Enforced?

Bankers and business men are discussing the wisdom of President Wilson's embargo on the exportation of gold and asking how he is going to enforce it? Bullion and coin sent by express or post may be stopped, but surely the government cannot stop and search the baggage of travelers. A thousand dollars in gold weighs about four pounds, and a traveler could carry in a couple of hand valises enough gold to purchase ten thousand bushels of wheat. There would be nothing to prevent banks or other gold exporters from sending any quantity of gold to Buffalo or Detroit or Seattle, where it could be packed in valises and carried by their clerks into Niagara or Windsor or Vancouver, and there is no embargo law in Canada to prevent its shipment to London or Paris or Rome or Madrid.

Seventy years ago the commerce of the world was hungering for gold. There had been no new supply for two centuries. Civilization had stripped the temples and palaces of India of gold, and Cortez and Pizzaro had seized and sent to Spain the golden treasures of the Aztecs and the Incas. The entire gold coinage of the United States, which last year was $423,967,375, was in 1848 less than $30,000,000.

Said Albion W. Tourgee, in describing the conditions which existed before the discovery of gold in California: "The world was base and man was greedy. For a hundred years the supply of the precious metals had steadily diminished. Commerce had increased meanwhile a thousandfold. The accepted basis of exchange had grown less and less sufficient for the world's need. Already the human mind was busy devising substitutes. Gold! gold! was the cry of the world. It was generally believed that the earth was virtually exhausted of precious minerals, and no one supposed that the supply would ever be materially enhanced."

In 1835 a Congressional report said: "No man will, after a moment's reflection, suppose that the country beyond the sandy prairies in the North and West can ever become members of this Union. They are scarcely less distant than the coast of Africa and are separated from us by a breadth of continent requiring more time and expense to traverse than the ocean itself." A noted politician said, in a public speech, upon the acquisition of California, holding a well-worn pencil up before his auditors, "I would not give that pencil-stub for all the gold that will ever be found there," and his sapient hearers applauded the prophecy of the ass.

Said Tourgee: "The world woke with amazement when golden plains and silver mountains outspread themselves before its famished eyes. All Christendom felt the throb of an insatiable greed. The lust of sudden wealth thrilled peer and pauper. The desert that lay between was robbed of fear. The tropic sun blazed down in vain upon the reckless wayfarers. The glint of gold outshone the stars. Distance could not dim it. Difficulty could not quench desire. A grain of yellow dust inflamed a hundred hearts. A single nugget fired a thousand souls to new exertion. Men who would have died clods lived to be envied of princes through the lust born of a gold-streaked lump of quartz which shone in a shop window. Thousands failed. Thousands died. The highways to California became endless charnels. Dead men's bones pointed the way to those who came after. The sharks of the southern seas grew fat on frequent corpses; yet over the dead more greedily pressed the living. For every one that went to California there were a hundred that sought to go. For every one that came back laden there were a thousand who dreamed that they might some time know a like good fortune, and because of this dream, wrought more earnestly, saved more persistently and so achieved more richly than they otherwise would have done. Thus science and greed stirred the world into new life."

There are octogenarian Argonauts now living in Los Angeles who will remember how gold flowed through the world like water in comparison with the dearth that had been. Half a decade yielded more than half a century had given before. "Dust" and "nuggets" grew familiar to all eyes. The slang of the mining camps crept into the world's speech. Hands that had only known dimes were gladdened with dollars. The child leaped from his cradle to join in the struggle for gold. The mechanic's heart grew big and his arm waxed strong as he saw a possibility that he might be a capitalist. Mammon gave his right hand to democracy. The highways of power were open to the humblest feet. The doors of mansions were unbarred, and unwashed feet poured through the sanctuaries of power. Miracles were multiplied. Where one had risen a step before a thousand were to reach the top thereafter. Manhood was magnified. Those above were not dragged down, but those below were forced upward. The world was started on a race which grew more fierce and headlong as the years went by. The past was swept away as with a burning besom, and the future bloomed with hope.

If gold had not been discovered by Marshall Los Angeles might now be a pueblo of 500 inhabitants.

Not an Essential.

[Boston Transcript:] "Upon what grounds do you claim exemption from the draft?"

"Whu-whu-why, I stuh-stuh-stuh—I stuh-stutter sus-sus-sus—I stuh-stutter sus-so thuh-that——"

"Great grief, man, they want you to shoot a gun, not shoot off your mouth."

Appropriating a Dream.

[Princeton Tiger:] "I dreamed last night that I proposed to a beautiful girl," he confided.

"And what did I say?" she queried breathlessly.

The Fashion Art League has decreed that milady will be limited to one wear half-hose, to the end that the supply of silk may be conserved. This will give the silkworms and the toiling Chinese and now our neighbors a half-holiday. The innovation will be a success—and we hope it will.

THE DESERT NIGHT.

I come to you, savage desert,
Here in the silent night;
I sink to rest on your dim, cool breast,
A-weary of toil and fight.
The gold stars gleam above me,
Like ghosts the shadows creep,
Soft breezes stir, the night whir,
And I lie in your arms and sleep.

Tired I am of the cities,
Tired of the are lights' glare,
Of the heartless crowd, with laughter loud,
Of the glitter, the din, the fare.
Beautiful savage desert,
Here in the velvet night,
While the gold stars gleam, in arms I dream,
Forgetful of toil and fight.

Hatters' Plush Sailors From "Vogue" — The Season's Rage

Hatters' plush, always high in favor, is this Autumn enjoying even greater popularity than usual; and the models we have just received from the famous house of "Vogue" are marvelously attractive in shape and coloring.

Trimmings are simple—just a plain banded sailor, or a pleated frill of grosgrain ribbon; possibly a smart cravat bow, tied at one side of the crown's top. Ribbon effects are much in evidence throughout Autumn millinery; made into tiny buckles, ornaments, etc., all of pronounced simplicity, however, but perfect in contour.

Blends of two self-tones—one light, the other dark—many contrasting two-tone combinations in myriads of colorings, are featured.

Beige, army blue, taupe, brown, navy, purple and black are leading shades for Autumn; while the drooping, rolling, flat and saucer sailors are most favored, with many small-brim models. Hatters' plush riding hats also make their initial appearance.

Is your Will "up-to-date?"

Thousands of people are today thoughtlessly depending upon Wills that are too old to properly provide for conditions as they now exist.

Careful business men not only make Wills as early in life as possible—but they also redraw them from time to time, as new and changed conditions require.

Preparedness in the matter of your Will is a vital duty that you owe your heirs. It is the ounce of prevention that may forestall family quarrels, hatred, jealousy and wasteful litigation.

Successful men know the advantages of Trust Company Executorship. If your Will does not name a Trust Company, as Executor, you can correct it now by a codicil. In naming this Company you give your Estate the advantages afforded by our broad experience, financial responsibility, specialized personal service, and efficient business methods.

Come and talk confidentially with our Trust Officers.

Invitation to Sinners Expected at Tonight's Servic

PULPIT FLAYED BY EVANGELIST.

Sunday Lets the Chips Fall Where They May.

Weakness of Pastors Bared in Torrid Sermon.

Tabernacle Also, by the Way, had its Own Heat.

The meeting at the Billy Sunday tabernacle yesterday afternoon was considered a sort of "test" as to the real impression the evangelistic campaign is making on the city. It was a torrid afternoon, and the tabernacle temperature reminded one of the quarters which Daniel once occupied, where it was heated "seven times hotter than it was wont to be heated."

Ringling's circus was in town, giving a performance at the same hour, and only a few blocks away. There had been an interim of a day since the spirited meetings of Sunday, and there was the usual reaction and hold-over of "Blue Monday" for the ministers and active church workers. Yet the tabernacle was nearly half full of people. That would have been a notable crowd in a smaller building, but 16,000 people can be crowded into this great shed.

The mammoth choir did not appear. It is scheduled only for the night meetings. But Homer Rodeheaver led the assemblage in a spirited song service before Mr. Sunday appeared. The favorite song, "Brighten the Corner Where You Are," was sung, this part by this corner, and that part by that corner, here and there and yonder, and then altogether, until the folk got into the full spirit of the thing. Then they "whooped her up," Billy Sunday himself might have expressed it, and went in for songs of praise and triumph.

Rev. C. B. Allen of the Bairdstown Methodist Church gave the invocation, and Mr. Rodeheaver and S. R. Donaldson presented a saxophone duet, "O the Home of the Soul."

Then Mr. Sunday, refreshed by his day of rest, literally sprang out onto the platform and gave his sermon on "Why Could Not We Cast Out Devils." His text was Mark ix:28.

With skillful word picturing he gave the story of the boy who was tormented by evil spirits, and the father's visit to Jesus with the plea that the boy be healed. He told of the healing and then the question of the disciples as to why they had been unable to perform this service.

This was the base for a searching application to the church and its membership. Its failures to win people to Christ were laid bare, and the reasons therefor were unflinchingly depicted. The sermon was a searching arraignment of the indifferent Christian, and earnest admonition and entreaty for an awakening. In this sermon the preachers were not spared. Their weaknesses and foibles were strongly pointed out. And then the folk in the pew got theirs. It was a soul-searching discourse, very free from the eccentricities that have marked some of the Sunday sermons, but one that was gripping in its message, and that held the people in closest attention. Very frequently the Methodistic tinge was given the meeting, through shouts of approval and hearty "Amens," especially from the preachers' section.

Immediately following the afternoon sermon, Miss Grace Saxe conducted a Bible class in the choir section, and at least 2000 people attended.

Chicago Negro Regiment Ready.

[Chicago Post:] "When the Germans see this bunch going over the top they'll think it's night, sure enough."

This is the way Col. Franklin A. Denison today predicted the arrival on the European battlefields of the Eighth Illinois Infantry, the colored regiment which first won fame in the Spanish-American War and later in the border maneuvers of last summer.

The colonel looked with pride over the seething mass in the armory at Thirty-fifth street and Forest avenue, black-faced, slouching, eager, "hell raisers," ready to fight until the last man is killed, answering the call to mobilization.

"Do you want to fight?" he asked them. The answer was a shout that shook the roof.

"Sure, we want to go to France," said one negro guard as he played with his rifle. They ain't nuthing doin' here. We want to raise a little hell."

Evidently quite a large percentage of Chicago's negroes want to "raise a little hell," for the regiment has been recruited way over its strength and today men were being turned away. On the rolls already are 2308 men and fifty officers.

Negro troops will be a new experience to the Germans, and if the actual fighting spirit shown at the armory today survives the two months' training at Camp Logan, the "Huns" are in for it. The Kaiser's men have faced South African troops, the "Turcos" from Algiers, Madagascar contingents, and other dark-skinned fighters, but not the American negro.

"My men'll be better fighters than those troops," declared Col. Denison. "They have been trained by regular United States Army officers and they know how to fight."

BILLY SUNDAY'S HIGH BALLS.

I tell you, there's mighty little hope for the fellow who's bean is so swelled up that he thinks he can get along without God.

I wouldn't give 10 cents for the biggest bunch of people on earth if no devils were cast out. Some of the preachers are as crazy after sensations as the yellowest journal you can find, and that is one reason why the ministry is degraded by a lot of as nonsensical clap-trap as exists outside of the insane asylum. If all the preachers would preach the truth, the devil would have to work harder than he does for what he gets.

With all our money and with all our numbers, it's a crying disgrace that we get so few conversions in our churches. Every Christian ought to hang his head when he reads that in 7500 churches of America last year there were reported "no conversions."

Gosh! I think you've got a lot of ... church pillows here instead of church pillars—and there may be a ... "piller-shama." You've no family prayer and you've no Bible ... in the home, and no regular time for devotion to Christian work.

If the angels in heaven can see what's going on down here on earth, they must marvel and wonder at the patience of God with the people on earth. And I want to say right here that, of all things that smell of hell, it's a church quarrel. Pough! I've got more respect for an old booze-hister than a church member who puffs himself up and won't speak to some other member.

It's as impossible to pray right when you live wrong as it is to run an automobile with dish water.

I say a man that will keep his store open on Sunday is, in my opinion, an anarchist, and he can't have a dollar of my money. He's trampled God's law beneath his feet.

If you get to playing tag with the devil in his own dooryard, he will whack you on the back and say, "Tag, you're it." You won't put it over on him, take it from me.

There's a lot of church members who have the foot-and-mouth disease. They run around the neighborhood and windjam about their neighbors.

Some of you folks did amount to something before you came to Los Angeles, but now you're nothing but rotten codfish. All right, come back to God and be some of the Lord's speckled trout and not the devil's codfish.

Sin is sexless. It makes no difference to God whether the one that sins wears a plug hat and a coat or hairpins and a petticoat. What is wrong for a woman to do is wrong for a man to do. A woman has just as good a right to spit out vile oaths as you have.

Excoriation.

BILLY SUNDAY PANS THE BACKSLIDERS SAVAGELY.

instructions, why, after while the undertaker arrives. You've got to have more claims on heaven than that your mother is there or that your wife is on the road. What you lose easily you regain painfully. The road to hell has seemed greased for a lot of you, but you've simply got to climb back. Peter was a backslider, but he 'came back,' and was a wonder in his work for Christ; Judas was a backslider, and you all know what became of him."

"BACKSLIDERS."

In the course of his evening sermon Mr. Sunday said:

When you leave the world you leave something more than an epitaph on a tombstone. You leave regrets in the hearts of people whom you have lifted toward God because you yourself had known something of the Lord.

A little girl was asked why she fell out of bed and she said: "I went to sleep too close to where I crawled in."

We don't get far enough away from the things of the world.

A friend of mine was preaching in a southern city and in the middle of the sermon he asked: "How many of you people once knew God, had any experience, and now don't pray and have grown careless in your life? Are you willing to admit it?"

Forty or fifty people arose and in that mute way acknowledged their neglect and their carelessness, and as they sat down he said:

"Now are you willing to go a step further? Will you tell us what caused you to lose your touch with God and why you left the gospel train?"

One man said: "Well, I thought I could keep my store open on Sunday morning to accommodate a few straggling customers and then close in time to get around to the church."

Nothing doing. You can't cut the week up into seven parts and spiritualize the secular by trotting out to church on Sunday morning and looking a little more pious than you did on Saturday. Not on your life. I say a man that will keep his store open on Sunday, in my opinion, is an anarchist, and he can't have a dollar of my money. Not a dollar!

He mightn't go into bankruptcy if he didn't get my trade, but he can't have it, he trampled God's law 'neath his feet.

APING OTHERS.

Presently a young lady arose and she said: "Well, a young lady friend of mine gave a card party and I thought I had to give a bridge in return, and among those I invited was a young man I didn't know, and when he arrived at my house he felt chagrined and horrified to imagine that I thought he'd stoop to do that, and he took his coat and hat and left the house, and I made up my mind that as long as I did that I was not worthy to be a member of the church. That is why I drifted away, trying to ape other people."

Another fellow said: "I backslid when I voted a whisky ticket."

You bet your life he backslid before he voted or he never would have voted for that dirty, lowdown business, and in my opinion, a man can't stand sponsor to that dirty business and keep his manhood ten minutes. Make up your mind! The saloon is the bitterest enemy to virtue, to home, to education, to childhood there is on God Almighty's dirt. Don't you lift your hand and look a decent man in the face when you stand sponsor for the most damnable institution that ever wriggled its carcass out of hell—the liquor traffic.

It is one thing to be a member of a church, another to be a member of the body of Jesus Christ; although they ought to be synonymous, but they are not. There are thousands of members of the visible church—the Methodist, Lutheran, Presbyterian, Congregationalist—they are members of the visible church, but not members of the body of Jesus Christ, for they have never been born again. There will be lots of church members in hell. Lots of Protestants in hell, lots of Catholics in hell—they never were converted, they never had a change of life, never were born again.

You can't beat the devil. He has been preying on this old world for 6000 years; he never has rheumatism or appendicitis or peritonitis. If you get to playing tag with the devil in his dooryard he will hit you on the back and say, "tag; you're it." You can't put it over on him.

Some church members have the hoof and mouth disease, they run around the neighborhod and windjam about their neighbors and talk about them.

WOULD PROTECT VIRTUE.

I preach against certain amusements, you will be aware of this fact before I leave this city. I don't do it to arouse your antagonism, I am not a crank. You can come here and sit and listen to me, and I am not a crank about anything, and my warfare is for the interest and virtue and morals of men and women. I don't care three whoops who I have to antagonize or what institution or corporation I have to fight to make it easier for men to get to heaven and harder for men to get to hell.

I find more people in the church that are kept out from communion with God, and more people kept outside than are coming in. If you live wrong you can't die right, so make up your mind what you want to do.

I tell you, life is chuck full of half-done things. Things started and never finished; trades begun, then abandoned; education started, then stopped, until eight million boys drop out of school in this country at the end of the eighth grade. Foundations laid, buildings never built on them; church going begun, then dropped. Life is chuck full of half-done things and there are multitudes of things in the life of every one that were intended to be done that haven't been finished to this day; although your hair is gray and you can look back twenty years and see what you intended to do and never did it.

Religion is not for time, not for money, it is not for business, it is not for society, it is not for politics. It is for God, it is for life and death, for better or for worse; to be carefully considered before you can take a step and set your face like a flint and never deviate from the path that God lays down for you to walk in. It will end in apostasy if you don't return.

Peter denied Jesus; he returned with tears of repentance. Old Judas denied him and he went out and committed suicide, and he died an apostate. They both denied Jesus, but one came back and the other didn't.

GOD HONORS HONESTY.

In business life there are unforeseen hard times, the war has gotten all business out of joint, many a man has found it hard work to weather the blast. There are unforeseen hard times. You may be able to overdraw your account at the bank. You may not. The banks may know you too well.

But no draft has ever been made from an honest heart on the bank window of heaven that God Almighty ever refused to honor and I don't care who you are or what your condition is now, if, out of a sinner's heart, you ask God for Christ's sake to forgive and forget the past God Almighty will blot it out as a cloud, and if you will shove in at the bank window of heaven a confession of the fact that you are a sinner God will pass you back salvation in exchange for your sins. In other words, he will give you good money for counterfeit.

Somebody asked me: "What is the heinous to sin?"

I will tell you. It is to be untrue. There is no man or woman that I so delight to honor as a true man or a true woman; there is no one I so despise and abhor as a contemptible snake in the grass, an untrue man or an untrue woman. Oh, one whose word is as weak as a rope of sand and whose honor is as unenduring as a cloud of smoke or of vapor.

You may differ from me in politics, in business, you may differ from me in religion, if I know that your ideals are wrong I will work hard to convince you of your errors, clarify your vision, let you catch a glimpse of Jesus Christ, but all the time I will admire you and respect you if you are living up to your highest ideal of what you believe to be true. But if I know what you believe to be true is erroneous I will work hard to lend you into the light, but all the time I am doing it—I say I will admire you, although I may differ from you, if you are living up to your highest ideal.

ARE MEN FOR SALE?

So you admire a true man, a true woman, although you may differ from them. Sir, all men will not sell out. Oh, but I am ashamed and humiliated to say that with some men it is merely a matter of price. Some men you can buy them to vote on election day for a few beers; some men will sell their franchise and their honor. There are men you can buy; there are men that are subsidized through fear; there are men that are afraid to open their shops to let speakers in because the whisky gang have given them notice not to do it. I despise a dirty dog like that! That is my answer to you, you dirty, bull-necked imps, the whisky bunch, you wait till I get at you! You know what is coming.

I am ashamed to say there are men whose honor hangs like meat in a butcher shop and you can buy it for so much a pound, so much a head, my friend, but thank God! they are in the minority. Oh! most men are honest, there are millions and millions and millions of men and women that will not sell out to the devil and will not be subsidized from doing the thing that is right for fear of sneering criticism. No, sir.

Oh, to discover a fault in yourself gives you an opportunity to add a new line of beauty and attraction to your character; to find out where you are weak and then rectify it, that gives you a chance to build a new character and make a new name. I love to see a true man.

Oh! True to every emanation of truth and yet untrue to Jesus Christ, the source of truth.

Tell me why a man will be true to business, true to the lodge, true to his wife, and yet he will be false to Jesus Christ?

Make up your mind and go to fight your way through this old world and live as God tells you.

A SINGLE STANDARD.

What about a woman? God almighty marked out the same path for men and women. Sin is sexless. What is wrong for a woman to do is wrong for a man to do, and the crying need of America today is the single standard for men and women. A fallen man is as truly an adulterer as a fallen woman is an adulteress. It makes no difference to God whether the one that sins wears a plug hat or hair pins, a coat or a petticoat. Sin is sexless.

There is many a man that stoops and does the thing that he wouldn't want his wife to do. No. And he says, "She is my wife, or she is my sister, or she is my sweetheart, or she is going to be my wife."

And yet your wife has just as good a right to walk down and sit around with a gang and fill her hide up with booze as you have, and then stagger home vomiting and spewing, as you have.

Just as good a right to sit around and spit out oaths as you have; just as good a right to walk down the street squirting tobacco juice on the sidewalk as you have. But neither of you have.

Untrue to the emanations of truth, untrue to Jesus Christ, the source of all truth!

Oh, I can imagine a man being untrue in business. I can imagine with a vast stretch of imagination a man untrue in politics. And I can imagine by a vast, vast stretch of imagination, unthinkable as it is and ought to be, I can imagine a man being untrue to his marriage vow. I can, as unthinkable as it is, I can imagine it because it is so.

But be true to God and He will be true to you. Untrue to God, He will turn His back on you. True to God, he will stand by you through life and death.

I pray God my words may ring true on your ears and you—that may be standing upon the very brink of the precipice, about to say good-by to God—may return with all your heart and all your soul to do the will of the Lord.

AUTO LEAPS FROM ROAD, KILLS MAN.

DOVE HUNTER IS SLAIN AS MOTOR CAR TURTLES.

Angeleno in Fatal Accident on Bridge Near Pacoima when He Loses Control of Machine, Which Plunges into River Bed.

A man supposed to be Edwin R. Hunter of Kensington drive, who operates an automobile parking place at Twelfth and Flower streets, was killed last night when his machine ran off the Pacoima bridge, on the outskirts of San Fernando.

According to a report given the Sheriff's office, Mr. Hunter was en route to San Fernando to shoot doves. About the middle of the Pacoima bridge he encountered a two-horse wagon which was on the wrong side of the bridge.

In an effort to drive to the left of the wagon Mr. Hunter is thought to have lost control of his machine, which went over the bridge, turned turtle and pinned him under it, killing him instantly. His head was crushed, his left leg broken and several ribs were fractured. The body is at the parlors of Will G. Noble Company, San Fernando.

Deputy sheriffs are searching for the man who drove the team. It is expected that the identity of the man will be firmly established today. The dead man is a member of Elks' Lodge No. 26 of Kansas City.

ASSAULT CHARGED.

Two Negroes Arrested After Chase by Officers are Said to Have Robbed Pedestrian.

Two negroes were arrested last night at Sacramento street and Santa Fe avenue by Officer W. W. Smith and Special Deputy Sheriff J. R. Robinson on suspicion of having attempted to beat up and rob Arasio Aldregro of No. 2205 Hunter street. The assault is said to have occurred at Seventh and Mateo streets.

Police say the two men, who gave the names of Clarence B. Ware and Ralph H. Britt, were beating Aldregro, who screamed for help. The two officers ran to his assistance and the suspects broke away and ran into an alley. The officers searched the neighborhood and later caught the men.

It is thought by the police that the two suspects are the negroes who earlier in the evening knocked down and robbed George Johnson of $20 at Tenth street and Central avenue.

HAS RESIGNED.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Sept. 11.—Charles H. Dickey, Jr., has resigned as district agent for the Southern Counties Gas Company. His jurisdiction covered San Pedro and Wilmington. The territory has been consolidated with that of the Long Beach office and J. A. Somers, agent for the latter city, will hereafter have the entire territory. Mr. Dickey's father is vice-president of the company and one of the largest stockholders. Mr. Dickey will probably go to San Francisco.

In the meantime, the government had entered into an agreement with the city of Los Angeles allowing the latter to use the Owens River, Owens River gorge and Rock Creek for its water supply. In this agreement the question of hydro-electric rights did not enter.

A compromise was reached whereby the Silver Lake Power and Irrigation Company waived all irrigation rights, leaving the matter of hydro-electric rights to be settled by the courts. A decision of the lower court vested these rights in the power company, and the city of Los Angeles appealed.

The Supreme Court, in reversing the judgment of the Mono court ruled that at the time the districts were withdrawn from entry the predecessors of the power company had failed to establish a perfect claim to the hydro-electric rights, whereas the government's waiver of the land to Los Angeles included such rights.

BUILDERS FIRM FOR OPEN SHOP.

Carpenters' Demands, in Part, Sure of Rejection.

Union Fails to Serve Their Promised Ultimatum.

High-grade Workmen Oppose the Strike Plans.

C. L. Peck, president of the Master Builders' Association, said late last night that he has not received from the Carpenters' Union of this city their promised demand for eight hours, $5 a day and a closed shop.

The builders expected such action yesterday, because the carpenters on Monday night decided to make a formal demand, which, if ignored by the builders, would be the signal for a strike meeting Friday night.

Whatever the carpenters decide to do, it is certain the Master Builders' Association will stand pat in regard to the closed-shop proposition.

"The builders absolutely will not consider the closed shop," said Mr. Peck. "We are employing lots of union men and paying them good wages. When it comes to running a closed shop, we positively refuse. If any other demands are made which seem reasonable, I presume that the Master Builders, in their meeting tomorrow afternoon, will be willing to consider them, but when it comes to closed shop — nothing doing!"

Mr. Peck says that there are very few high-grade workmen agitating for a strike. This, he thinks, is because good workmen are in such demand that they are drawing satisfactory wages and are not favorable to walking out in order to satisfy the whims of malcontents.

After the meeting of the Carpenters' Union Monday night several carpenters who carry one or two union cards each were heard to remark that they were going to pack their tool chests and leave for Seattle, Denver and other points before Sunday. They declared that carpenter work here is not brisk enough.

switchboards and continued to make connections long after the wall of the building in which they were housed began to burn, and they did not leave their posts until ordered to do so by the chief operator. Some of the telephone lines were temporarily demoralized by the fire, but service was quickly resumed after the conflagration was brought under control.

The heaviest loss falls upon the Sunlight Mercantile Company, which lost a large stock of general merchandise. It is understood, however, that practically everything which was destroyed was protected by a fair amount of insurance, so the loss will not run as high as the ruins might indicate.

One of the features of the blaze was the incessant popping of cans of fruit and vegetables on the shelves in the grocery department of the Sunlight store while the fire was in progress. These small explosions sounded not unlike cannon firecrackers being fired at stated intervals. Scores of sacks of beans and about 200 sacks of flour in the grocery warehouse were left charred and ruined, but only partially destroyed.

ENTRANCE BLOCKED TO MALIBU RANCH.

TWO EXCAVATIONS SAID TO BE DUE TO DYNAMITE.

Damage to Roads Forces Ranchers to Travel by Way of San Fernando Valley Unless They Come on Horseback, in Which Event They Can Use Coast Route.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 11.—Two excavations, one at the entrance to Las Flores Canyon, gate of the Rindge ranch in the Malibu, and one in Carbon Canyon, block the entrance to the big ranch, according to reports from that district today. The excavation at the mouth of Carbon Canyon was said to have been made by dynamite, and stops travel across the ranch. According to the small ranchers the damage to the two roads shuts them off from coming through the Rindge ranch to connect with the coast road leading to Santa Monica. This, they say, forces them to get out or in the district by the road leading to San Fernando Valley.

Over the excavation at Carbon Canyon a huge sign has been erected, bearing the inscription: "Remember the Lusitania. This is the way they celebrate Admission Day in this section. An admission that prevents admission." Two American flags were also placed on the sign.

Several ranchers from the district reached Santa Monica today, coming by horseback. Among them was Hippolito Biendo, whose ranch is back of the Rindge estate, and who has about 2500 pounds of beans to bring to market, and Emile O'Dou, who says he is in the same predicament. These men were surprised to hear of the death of a number of valuable sheep on the Rindge ranch, apparently by poison of some kind. They say the deaths were probably due to poison in mudholes. Several months ago, at a time when the small ranchers were demanding a road across the Rindge ranch, several pigs died in somewhat the same manner, and the ranchers say this was due to the same cause.

VICTIM OF CROUP.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

COLTON, Sept. 11.—A victim of spasmodic croup, Harold Clem Sharon, 5-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Sharon of San Diego, died and was buried in less than forty-eight hours following the arrival of Mrs. Sharon and two children in Colton, called by the critical illness of her mother, Mrs. J. I. Clem. The child was put to bed at 8 o'clock apparently in the best of health. At 11 o'clock he was dead, the father, who had come up for over Sunday, arriving just as the little boy was dying. The funeral was held yesterday morning, Boy Scouts acting as pallbearers.

THROUGH the perspective of fifty years we see a Lincoln staggering under a burden of responsibility almost too great to bear.

Years and history bring those things clear to us now, as they were not clear to many Americans of the early sixties.

Today another President, struggling with as mighty a task as the devoted Lincoln, calls upon the people to save wheat that our soldier sons and allies may have food to sustain them in their fight for liberty.

Shall we hesitate or falter in the smaller things while our leaders engage in greater and more arduous duties?

You Are Asked to Eat Corn Instead of Wheat

When you eat

you are eating the best of selected corn—a food perfected to a deliciousness far surpassing many of the best wheat products. These bubbled flakes have a substance that gets them away from the usual conception of old style corn flakes—thin and wispy. They are a substantial all-year food, not a soggy confection.

And when you eat Post Toasties you have the satisfaction not only of doing full duty to your appetite but the higher satisfaction of helping the men who guide the nation.

Honor Minister.

CHOOSE PASTOR FOR WAR WORK.

Council of Y.M.C.A. Selects Angeleno for Big Job.

Presbyterian Preacher Given Charge in Southland.

Divine will Promote Religion Among Soldiers.

Rev. Thomas H. Walker, No. 132 North Chicago street, who is pastor of the Boyle Heights Presbyterian Church, has been appointed organizer of the religious war work forces for Los Angeles and vicinity, and religious work director if the Y.M.C.A. camps around Los Angeles, by the national war work council of the Y.M.C.A.

He has already taken up the work. The appointment was conferred upon him officially late yesterday, after a conference of war work council members in San Francisco, but it was practically decided some time ago that he was to take up the work, and he has been actively engaged in it for the past three days.

The work is not altogether new to Mr. Walker, because he has done considerable Y.M.C.A. work in recent years, although not in the army camps. The new appointment will claim practically all of his attention. He expects to continue to preach in the Boyle Heights Presbyterian Church until arrangements can be made to grant him a temporary leave of absence.

CAFE CASES TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT.

Charges of misconduct of business were heard by the Police Commission yesterday in the cases of the Louvre and Oyster Ocean cafes. The commission took the matter under advisement.

In the case of the Louvre, Harry B. Winters, head waiter, asserted he had seen no irregularities, and he had instructed his waiters to conform with the city ordinances. He added that he is married and has two children.

INJURED WOMAN SUES.

Lora Julian, alleging that she was struck and seriously injured by a jitney bus while she was walking on Central avenue at Forty-seventh street, seeks $25,000 damages in a suit filed in the Superior Court yesterday against Joseph Seiler, driver of the auto, and Roy McCollum, owner of the machine.

Film Star to Adopt Whole Battalion.

'A token from foster mother to soldier son.

Miss Mary Pickford presenting her miniature to Sergt. Charles R. Fullweiler of Battery E, First California Field Artillery, one of 600 that she will present to members of the Second Battalion.

"THE Little Mother of the Second Battalion" is to be Mary Pickford's title hereafter, for the popular little motion-picture star has taken every "Sammy" in the Second Battalion of the First Regiment, California Field Artillery, under her special care.

Within a few months, when the battalion accompanies the rest of the regiment to France, each man in "Mary's Six Hundred" will wear a locket about his neck containing a miniature of his petite protector.

The formal adoption will take place at 2 p.m.. next Tuesday, at Camp Arcadia, when Col. Fred Petersen will order out the entire battalion for the ceremony. The battalion is made up of Battery F of Los Angeles, Battery E of Oakland and Battery D of San Diego.

"I shall take each of my 600 sons under my wing," said Miss Pickford, yesterday, in announcing her intention of mothering the battalion, "and I intend to see to it that the boys receive plenty of cigarettes and candy."

Miss Pickford also gave her approval to the recruiting campaign to be opened Thursday for one week, when an attempt will be made to recruit the Federalized California National Guard to its war strength. Fifteen hundred new men are needed, and Los Angeles will be asked to supply at least one-half of this number.

"Paul Revere Week," as it will be known, will afford an opportunity for young men between the ages of 18 and 40 years, and those subject to draft, who have not yet been summoned by their district boards, to choose their particular branches of military service and volunteer.

Recruiting offices for the week have been opened in the San Fernando Building, Fourth and Main streets, under the direction of Lieut.-Col. W. E. Purviance, Lieut. Harry J. L. Atwood, Lieut. F. S. Swanson and Corp. Ivan Kahn.

MOTORCYCLIST HURT IN AUTO COLLISION.

While riding his motorcycle at Twenty-second street and Griffith avenue last night, F. P. McDermott, 23 years old, a mechanic, collided with the automobile of R. S. Kessler of No. 1139 East Twenty-second street, and received a fracture of the skull and internal injuries. He may die.

He was given emergency treatment by Chief Surgeon Gilmer and Assistant Surgeons Beggs and Crossan at the Receiving Hospital. Later McDermott was removed to the County Hospital. The police will investigate the accident today to decide whether or not to hold Kessler on a technical charge.

DADY NICOTINE'S FOE.

Dr. B. M. Lawrence, founder of the Boys' Anti-cigarette Club and the Ladies' Anti-nicotine Club, will celebrate his eighty-ninth birthday at Pisgah Home, Sixty-first avenue and Echo street, tomorrow at the meeting of the Monthly Birthday Club, which he organized. Dr. Lawrence has not been ill for seventy years. Members of the Birthday Club have pledged themselves not to smoke cigarettes, drink, swear or bet.

SOLDIERS CHASTISE CYNICAL INDIAN.

REDLANDS FIGHTERS PURSUE REDMAN WHO HOOTED.

Genuine "American" is Chased and Punished by Two Hundred Members of Seventh Regiment for His Remarks on the Street. Then Lands in Station.

Two hundred Redlands members of the Seventh Regiment passed First and Main streets yesterday, stepping high and proudly. Clifford Johnson, a genuine "American," stood upon the corner and watched. Clifford is an American Indian, and he was dressed in white pants.

As the soldiers passed him, Clifford jeered: "Yah-ah, that's all you're good for, to walk in the streets!" Then Clifford had to run, for the two companies of men broke ranks and started for him.

Down Main street to Second Johnson ran, with his long hair, the traditional hirsute adornment of his race, standing almost straight up. At Second street the 200 men caught up with the original "American," and the latter was worse for the encounter.

Detective Sergeant Rico, who saw the crowd running, hurried to the scene of the struggle and found what looked like 200 men seated in divers positions on the various portions of Johnson. "I'm an officer," said Sergt. Rico, "give me that man!" "There isn't anything left to give," said a bystander.

After a few minutes of hard work, pulling angry soldiers from the mass formation, Officer Rico found Johnson prone on his stomach, with his nose broken and his face and body a huge bruise. At Central Station the detective booked his prisoner on a charge of drunkenness.

BOX FALLS; SIX HURT.

Sextette Injured as Packing Case is Dislodged from Truck Onto Crowded Sidewalk.

The worst hurt were Mrs. Mary Dunne of No. 514 South Figueroa street, her 5-year-old daughter, Marguerite, and Miss Ruth Edwards of No. 2613 North Broadway. They were bruised badly about the body. Miss Callie Andrews of Watts had her right ankle bruised. The truck belongs to Shattuck & Nimmo. The injured persons were treated at the Receiving Hospital.

CAFETERIA WAITRESS GETS JAIL SENTENCE.

Ruth Slauson, cafeteria waitress, 18 years old, was sentenced by Police Judge White yesterday to serve ninety days in jail, and she was refused the alternative of paying a fine. The young woman was found guilty of having frequented an alleged disorderly house at No. 432½ Commercial street.

Miss Slauson is one of four young women who were arrested recently at the Commercial-street roominghouse and charged with having consorted with Mexicans and Japanese. Judge White, in passing sentence upon Miss Slauson, declared that he intends to break up the practice of white women receiving the attentions of Japanese, if it is possible to do so.

REDLANDS FIGHTERS PURSUE REDMAN WHO HOOTED.

Genuine "American" is Chased and Punished by Two Hundred Members of Seventh Regiment for His Remarks on the Street. Then Lands in Station.

Two hundred Redlands members of the Seventh Regiment passed First and Main streets yesterday, stepping high and proudly. Clifford Johnson, a genuine "American," stood upon the corner and watched. Clifford is an American Indian, and he was dressed in white pants.

As the soldiers passed him, Clifford jeered: "Yah-ah, that's all you're good for, to walk in the streets!" Then Clifford had to run, for the two companies of men broke ranks and started for him.

Down Main street to Second Johnson ran, with his long hair, the traditional hirsute adornment of his race, standing almost straight up. At Second street the 200 men caught up with the original "American," and the latter was worse for the encounter.

Detective Sergeant Rico, who saw the crowd running, hurried to the scene of the struggle and found what looked like 200 men seated in divers positions on the various portions of Johnson. "I'm an officer," said Sergt. Rico, "give me that man!" "There isn't anything left to give," said a bystander.

After a few minutes of hard work, pulling angry soldiers from the mass formation, Officer Rico found Johnson prone on his stomach, with his nose broken and his face and body a huge bruise. At Central Station the detective booked his prisoner on a charge of drunkenness.

BOX FALLS; SIX HURT.

Sextette Injured as Packing Case is Dislodged from Truck Onto Crowded Sidewalk.

A packing case fell from an auto truck that was backing up to the curb at Sixth and Broadway late yesterday and injured half a dozen people on the crowded sidewalk.

CAFETERIA WAITRESS GETS JAIL SENTENCE.

Ruth Slauson, cafeteria waitress, 18 years old, was sentenced by Police Judge White yesterday to serve ninety days in jail, and she was refused the alternative of paying a fine. The young woman was found guilty of having frequented an alleged disorderly house at No. 432½ Commercial street.

Miss Slauson is one of four young women who were arrested recently at the Commercial-street roominghouse and charged with having consorted with Mexicans and Japanese. Judge White, in passing sentence upon Miss Slauson, declared that he intends to break up the practice of white women receiving the attentions of Japanese, if it is possible to do so.

AMUSEMENTS FOR SAMMY.

Camp Lewis Men to be Given Clean Entertainment.

See Sun on Mt. Rainier for the First Time Yesterday.

Keen Interest Taken in the Long Hours of Drill.

periods of rest between the drill, exercise and other duties incident to camp life.

Col. Clark, commanding the Three Hundred and Sixty-fourth Regiment, stated today that the men will be supplied with uniforms in a few days. For the time being outside entertainments are superfluous, as the men are too busy and too interested to care much for diversion. They like their work, their quarters, their officers and their food, and they are accustomed in surroundings that for natural beauty and scenic splendor are hard to equal.

There are scribes in plenty in the never liberty army. Capt. Austin Richeson of Portland, Oregon, Three Hundred and Sixty-fourth Infantry, is an Oregonian man, and states that his paper has contributed over 100 men to the new army. He joined all branches of the service. Col. Ralph S. Granger, formerly depot quartermaster at Los Angeles, is now commanding the Three Hundred and Forty-seventh Field Artillery at Camp Lewis. The men are forming the skeleton organizations that are to become the basis upon which the permanent regimental and other units will be erected in due season.

TO STAY TOGETHER.

The men are being assigned to the present according to their special qualifications, but to the present knows just where he will be when the final organization is completed. Col. Clark stated today that it was the intention to keep men from the same districts together, and, while this will be done as far as possible, some one man's peculiar qualifications may be the means of separating him from his fellows. Work of rolling the camp is now under way and in short order there will be fine driveways over the big cantonment. This process of buildings, as yet scattered and still littered with all sorts of waste material, will soon be in apple-pie shape order. At present the camp is something awful during the early hours of the day. The big guns roars constantly, biting machine teeth into the plain and hauling that pass in whole and sections of boards.

The lighting system is now complete and will be operative throughout the camp in a few days. The camp is a wonderful example of what a great people can do when spurred to action. Three months ago all was primeval land. Today over this glacial plain hundreds of men, mules and motor cars pass to and fro. The hum of activity is that of a great hive. The spirit that underlies it all is the American spirit that quickly transmutes the idea into a concrete fact.

MEXICANS ARRESTED FOR DESERTING JOB

Charged with having deserted from the band with which they were brought to Southern California from Mexico for labor in the beet fields, six Mexicans were placed in the County Jail last night. The men were arrested by Federal Agents Richardson and Blackman, and gave the names of Terencio Prate, Delores Prate, Manuel Flores, Francisco Rodriguez, Carlos Mendoza and Ramon Gonzales.

According to the officers, the men came to this country from Mexico under contract to work in the beet fields. On arriving in California the men refused to live up to their agreement and work in the beet fields.

ARREST REMITTANCE MAN AS A BURGLAR

J. Lowry-Diffley, who claims to be a remittance man with wealthy relatives in England, was arrested yesterday by Detectives Thomas O'Brien while standing on a street corner waiting for his wife, who was doing some shopping.

He is suspected of having committed burglary. The police believe that he knows something of the disappearance of a quantity of tobacco from a store worth of tobacco from a store at No. 720 South Hill street last night. His fashionable appearance and well Eighth street probably will be searched for evidence.

CITY JAIL SCHOOL IS OPENED.

The City Jail school opened last night for its second term under the direction of Principal J. S. Slauson. The school is conducted by the Board of Education, and is for the benefit of all men who are serving time in the jail.

A short speech was made by Chairman Olsen, who told the students that he was doing his best to get them out of jail.

The "Harmony Girls," Misses Erma Lacy, Violet Shaw and Emma Davies, of the Pantages Theater, sang a number of songs.

SHOOTS WOMAN, CHARGE.

"For the second time in three months, R. M. Anderson, 1214 Maple avenue, attempted to kill Mildred Richeson, also colored. Yesterday afternoon, according to the police, Anderson went to her home at No. 1214 Maple street and shot twice at her, she alleged. She then ran into the kitchen of the house and fired two of the bullets, which had gone through the door, entered her left arm. She was removed at the Receiving Hospital by Police Surgeon Cressman. Anderson, who is still at large, escaped after the shooting. Police searching for Anderson, who escaped after the shooting. It is said Richeson shot twice at him, but after he had entered the house and she missed him both times.

PTOMAINE POISONING.

Three members of the family of Brown family, at No. 1219 Maple avenue, were poisoned yesterday afternoon by ptomaine poisoning. Mrs. Lydia Brown, Minnie Brown, 12 years old, and Prentice Brown, 7 years old, were taken to the Receiving Hospital after a hearty noonday meal. They were treated at the Receiving Hospital and their recovery is probable.

SCHOOL COACH LAX IN DUTY.

Coach Instructor Fails to Report to Board.

Of His Marriage Comes from Canadian Town.

Case is Turned Over to the Federal Agents.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BEACH, Sept. 11.—Springtime in local school and before the exemption board today, Los Angeles county clerk this afternoon made public a list of men who failed to appear for examination in the last call for men, among the nine being Carl Kiesbolx, athletic coach and director of the physical training department of the Long Beach Polytechnic High School for the past year. Kiesbolx, who is a University of Oregon graduate and former athletic star, becomes automatically a slacker, and his case was today referred by Federal authorities for action on the charge of endeavoring to evade the conscription law.

Kiesbolx left Long Beach shortly after registration day, for his father's ranch near Ontario. He was re-elected instructor for the coming year by the Board of Education, but his name has not put in appearance at school.

TO WED IN LONG BEACH.

Carl Kiesbolx had married Miss Jane Painter of Ontario, on September 1. This will not exempt him the draft board of Education today, but it will have to look for a physical training teacher for the school this year. Kiesbolx is scheduled to appear for examination August 29. Under conscription law a man failing to appear, even though he does not receive mailed notice, is automatically declared and certified as a slacker as he is located.

Eight men who failed to appear on this are now being sought by the Federal authorities. West, Kenneth Harnham, C. L. Cobrey, Lawrence Chambers, Ernest and Julian Djilion.

HONEY BEES GO ON FOOD STRIKE.

Butterflies Rob 'Em, so They Quit Work in the Fresno District.

[BY A. P. CORRESPONDENCE.]

FRESNO, Sept. 11.—Butterflies have become so greedy in Fresno county that honey bees have gone on a strike, according to C. R. Snyder, bee inspector for this district.

The butterflies have been robbing the bees of the nectar in flowers and finally the honey-makers became discouraged, and recently the bees have virtually been doing no work at all.

Inspector Snyder says there has been but little feed because of the lack of spring rains. Alkali weeds, burr clover and blue curl are scarcer this year than ordinarily as main honey-producing plants for the fall of the year.

Ontario Citrus Fruit Association Experiences Good Year—Board of Directors Re-elected.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

ONTARIO, Sept. 11.—The Ontario Citrus Fruit Association, one of the largest members of the Ontario-Cucamonga, or O. K. Exchange, shipped 454 cars of oranges, and its members received $327,906.95 for their fruit during the season just closed, according to the report presented yesterday by Manager N. H. Garrison at the annual meeting of the association.

This is a gain over last season of 153 cars and $111,732.80, a total of 301 cars the preceding year bringing $216,174.15. The total numbers of boxes shipped during the season 1915-16 was 119,806, while during the season 1916-17 the total was 161,812 boxes.

The old board of directors was re-elected and organized the same as formerly, with H. E. Swan, president, A. T. Hamilton vice-president, W. L. Cook, J. P. Ensley, William H. Lindley, H. I. Ross and J. F. Warren.

K. D. Blaikie was retained as secretary, and during the coming season will be in entire charge of the association, it being decided to dispense with the services of manager at present in anticipation of a decidedly light crop of navel oranges due to the heavy drop following the unusual hot wave in June.

EACH SAYS OTHER MURDERED SISTER.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Sept. 11.—With Mrs. Belen Madrigal dead from a stab with a pocket knife, her husband is accusing her sister, Miss Ambrosia Quintero, of the act, and the sister is accusing the husband. The woman was killed at Delhi after midnight last night. Neither the husband nor the sister says that the other was seen to do the stabbing, but each says no one else was present.

Jose Madrigal says his wife took $65 from her sister so that she would not spend it, and the sister, while intoxicated, must have done the stabbing. Madrigal was tying up a dog in the yard, he says, when it happened. The sister says she was asleep when Madrigal did it.

The officers found a blood-spotted silk waist hidden behind a trunk. It fits the sister. Madrigal, a native of Mexico, works in the beet fields.

CALL FORTY-SEVEN IN REDLANDS DISTRICT.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

REDLANDS, Sept. 11.—The second district of this county, including Colton, Redlands, Highland and Yucaipa, will be called on to furnish forty-seven men in the second contingent of the drafted army. The men will be taken according to their call numbers, although the board can send men out of their turn if the men make request to go.

These men will leave Redlands in four sections of nine men each, and one section of eleven men. The first group will go on September 19 and the last on September 23. The men will be kept at a hotel in this city twenty-four hours before leaving.

The district board has certified back only twenty-five of the men for the second quota so far, but it is expected that the others will be certified back this week.

SANTA MONICA WOMAN TO BE BURIED TODAY.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA MONICA, Sept. 11.—Mrs. Emma B. Norris, 77 years old, of No. 1014 Santa Monica boulevard, whose husband was President Lincoln's private telegraph operator, died today at her home. Her husband died a few days ago.

Mrs. Norris knew her husband when she was 16 years old, but on account of the demands of the Civil War lost track of him until about fifteen years ago. They then met at Chattanooga, Tenn., and were married. They came to California, settling in Santa Monica five years ago. Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at the chapel of Bresee Bros. & Todd, Rev. W. N. Pierson officiating.

MONROVIA TO GET HISTORIC PLANTS.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

MONROVIA, Sept. 11.—Park Superintendent Harry Hendriksen has received from his daughter, Mrs. Stanley Goode, who is visiting in the East, plants from the English ivy growing upon Washington's tomb, sent to Mt. Vernon by the late Queen Victoria, and a bush of box from the hedge planted around Martha Washington's garden by the father of his country. The historic plants will be set out in Monrovia city park.

WILLIS REPORT IS UNEARTHED.

Document is Found After Two Years' Burial Somewhere.

Venice Street Department is Severely Criticised.

Officer Saves a Woman from Committing Suicide.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

VENICE, Sept. 11. — After two years, what is known as the "celebrated Willis report," an audit of the books of the city, was brought to light today and filed with the Board of Trustees by Mayor J. J. Lewis. Taking all by surprise, Mayor Lewis said: "I have managed to unearth the celebrated Willis report and now file it with the board."

The report was made out September 18, 1915, by Auditor W. T. Willis, and severely criticises the method of handling the books in the street department at the time. Mr. Willis said that the books were filled with erasures and changes and that "it was impossible to get any reliable information as there were a great many clerical errors."

The report also specifies divers sums, amounting to more than $1000, which the auditor says were not accounted for, and also mentions a shortage of $217.13 in certain pay rolls.

The report has been sought ever since it was made out. A political faction opposed to the city administration obtained a copy and read excerpts before a mass meeting some time ago. Mayor Lewis did not explain where the report was during the time it was sought by the opponents of the city officials.

SEEKS SUICIDE.

Disrobing at the end of the Windward avenue pier and placing her clothes in a neat pile on the edge, Mrs. Ada Manus, 30 years old, who gave her address as No. 717 West First street, attempted to end her life this morning. She was rescued by Officer McAlpine, who dove from the pier with uniform on and brought her ashore.

After being revived at the Emergency Hospital the woman said she has three small children and cannot support them. It was told the police that she had come to the beach the night before with a man and that she had quarreled with him and walked the beach until morning. The police allowed her to go home.

CELEBRATE THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BRYN MAWR, Sept. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fuller, orange growers, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary yesterday, and the members of Mr. Fuller's class in the First Methodist Sunday-school at Redlands assisted. All but nine years of their married life have been spent in California.

Henry Fuller and Miss Helen Day were married at Valcour, N. Y., near Plattsburg, September 10, 1867. They lived in Vermont for nine years and then came to California. They were at San Dimas for a time, and then went to Los Angeles, where he was the owner of a furniture store until 1890. At that time they came to Bryn Mawr and have lived here since.

The children of the union were Percy E. Fuller, who now lives in Chicago; Harry E. Fuller, who died about two years ago in Winnipeg, Can.; Leslie E. Fuller, professor at Northwestern University, and Charles E. Fuller of Placentia, manager of the Exchange packing-house there.

DRAFT CUTS INTO HOSPITAL STAFF.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

HIGHLAND, Sept. 11.—John L. Kline, one of the cooks at the State Hospital at Patton, believes that thirteen is a lucky number. He was the thirteenth man called before the exemption board in district No. 2 of this county today, and passed. "I am ready for service whenever Uncle Sam crooks his finger at me," he said. His serial number was 713. The draft has cut deep into the staff at the hospital, for G. F. Heiner, J. J. Kent, A. E. Buchanan and C. L. Wade have been taken.

William B. Goodfellow of Redlands is an alien, but he refused to exercise that right for exemption, and passed the examination, and will go when called. When asked whether he wanted to enter the British army, as he is a Scotchman, he said: "America is good enough to live in and good enough to fight for."

FARMERS' CROPS ARE DESTROYED.

VINEYARDIST MAKES REPORT TO FEDERAL AGENT.

Because Hotbed of I.W.W.'s is Discovered in Central California the Federal Government Appoints Special Investigator—Twenty-six Agitators in Jail.

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

FRESNO, Sept. 11.—Because of the hotbed of I.W.W. discovered in Central California, and the fact that crops have been maliciously destroyed, the bureau of investigation for the United States Department of Justice has opened an office in Fresno, with William Freeman, special investigator, in charge. Farmers having labor trouble and whose crops are threatened will report directly to the local office.

The bureau was opened this morning and one of the first reports was from W. Flanders Setchel, a grape grower, who said that grape pickers had thrown the grapes on the ground and then trampled on them.

Twenty-six I.W.W. arrested in the government raid last week are still held in jail.

LARGE CREWS AT WORK.

The 800-ton raisin crop on the Keanrey farm, the property of the University of California, is now being harvested by large crews and a special effort is being made to gather the crop before the fall rains. Thompson seedless are already on the trays and men are now picking the muscats. There has been a great shortage of labor, but the situation is somewhat improved this week.

That's the Way German Prisoners Refer to War, Writes Santa Ana Man to His Mother.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SANTA ANA, Sept. 11.—Malcolm Tedford, Stanford student, who is driving an ambulance for the French government, in a letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Hedford, tells of an interview that he had with some German prisoners. Some said they had not seen a German paper for thirteen months, and did not even know that America had entered the war. At first they were inclined to decry the likelihood that America could take any part in the war. They said the submarines would prevent any landing. When told that 100,000 Americans were already in France and preparations were being made to send 2,000,000 more, Tedford says the Germans "took water."

"They then told us that this war business was all foolishness," writes Tedford; "that it was brought on by German capitalists, and they (the prisoners) wished the war would end, for they have had enough."

DOUBLE WEDDING.

Two El Monte Sisters are Married at the Same Time at the Home of Their Parents.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

EL MONTE, Sept. 9.—Two sisters became brides at a double wedding solemnized on Sunday evening at the Hall ranch near here. Miss Lucile M. Hall, 24 years old, was married to De Los D. Wilbur, 24, of Burbank, and Miss Margaret E. Hall, 20, was married to George C. Gidley, 21, of Lancaster. Rev. S. J. Munger of Los Angeles performed the double ceremony. About fifty relatives and friends were present. Miss Alevra Hall was bridesmaid for her sister, Miss Lucile. Miss Pearl King, a cousin, was bridesmaid for Miss Margaret E. Hall. Frank Hall was best man for Mr. Wilbur and Elliott Babbitt for Mr. Gidley.

STAGE HELD UP IN NARROW DEFILE.

EL CENTRO, Sept. 11.—Five passengers and driver, Charles McDonald of the S. D. and A. automobile stage, were held up just east of Campo last evening, and deputy sheriffs are scouring the mountain passes for two masked men who secured over $300 in cash and jewelry in the daring robbery. Railroad camps are being searched for the men.

On arriving in El Centro the men who were held up reported the affair to Constable Toney, who, in turn, notified Sheriff Applestill. The Sheriff has six men out on the hunt for the perpetrators. The hold-up occurred in a narrow defile shortly after dark. Only one of the men was armed.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

PASADENA, Sept. 12.—"The Forestry Service has just succeeded in extinguishing the most unusual series of fires in recent years in the mountains back of Pasadena," Chief Ranger Thomas W. Sloan declared yesterday afternoon when he returned home after a strenuous week. "There is some mystery about the origin of several of the fires, and we are conducting an investigation. Not until this morning was the last of the fires placed completely under control. The soldiers from Arcadia did valiant service in assisting my corps in combating the flames. They deserve much credit."

When the fire on Mt. Wilson was in progress Mr. Sloan went without sleep for two days and nights. The fire fighters under him were more fortunate, however. He worked the men in twelve-hour shifts.

TRIAL DAY SET.

After Earl Gobel, janitor at the Nazarene Church, was arraigned yesterday in Judge McDonald's court on the charge of mistreating the young daughter of H. B. Chapin, and his trial set for the 14th inst., the prisoner confessed to members of the police force, according to the statement of Chief McIntyre. He will be bound over to the Superior Court for trial.

SMALL FIRE.

Fire, started from an unknown cause, damaged the home of J. L. Motherhead at No. 721 St. John avenue yesterday afternoon. Firemen arrived in time to confine the flames to the roof.

The City Commission is planning to establish safety zones in the downtown district to protect pedestrians from motor cars. The adoption of new penal ordinances was taken under consideration yesterday. Besides the establishment of the safety zones an amendment to the traffic ordinance, relating to headlights on motor cars, will be proposed. The rules are to be made more stringent.

COMPTON SCHOOLS OPEN.

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

COMPTON, Sept. 11.—Excepting the principal, J. A. Bevington, and the third-grade teacher, Miss Nellie Chellis, the faculty of the grammar school, which renewed activities this morning, is the same as it has been for several years. Compton Union High School will open Monday, September 17.

BANKING HOSPITALITY

You will find little of the cold and formal about the "Guaranty."

EASIER CONDITIONS RULE NEW YORK MONEY MARKET

Call Loans Fail to Rise Above Five Per Cent.—Bonds are Heavy.

NEW YORK, Sept. 11. — The course of the stock market was governed largely today by the pronounced weakness of a comparatively small group of specialties and low-priced railroad shares. Speculative sentiment appeared to be confused. Total sales were 455,000.

The motor and motor accessories stocks were especially heavy. General Motors was sold steadily and lost more than seven points, only a small part of which was recovered. Maxwell, Studebaker, Chandler, rubber and Goodrich broke sharply. Pullman continued its decline and marked weakness appeared in Sears' Roebuck, and Agricultural Chemical. In the railroad list the weak point was again New Haven, which slumped three points, to a new low record of 21¼.

The drop in rubles continued today, under the influence of the disturbed political situation in Russia. The rate fell 3 cents, to a new low record at 13¾. On the curb Russian 6½ per cent. bonds broke three points to a new low at 75 and the 5½'s fell three, to 66.

Somewhat easier conditions prevailed in the money market. Call money did not rise above 5 per cent, and time funds were loaned at 5½ for all dates.

Bonds were heavy. Total sales, par value, $3,850,000.

Liberty bonds were easier, selling from 99.96 down to 99.86. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

PRODUCE MARKET.

Los Angeles market was exceptionally quiet yesterday and there was nothing in the way of new prices one way or the other, with the exception of potatoes and onions. Quotations for all of which were advanced on the account that there is a scarcity here due to the northern crop is now being rushed to it and other sections to admit of a free movement to this and other markets. However, the big shippers are unable to hold up values by making statements to have markets flooded with shipments to those points a plentiful supply, and with a view of operations, if maintained, no doubt cause an unsettled condition in the case.

Green vegetables, including wax, string beans and Lima beans, were moved freely, while Chinese Wonders, were moved freely at 4½ cents a pound. The demand for the same is expected to exhaust local supplies. Tomatoes, on the other hand, are plentiful and another decline is anticipated before the week is brought to a close. Vegetables remain unchanged, and it is not expected that there will be any fluctuations, one way or the other, for some time to come.

Following is information from the Department of Agriculture, kraut cabbage crop of the country have been planted to 9400 acres of cabbage, as compared with 8700 acres last year, an increase of about 26 per cent. It is thought that the crop will be a much larger acreage than reported as under contract, but will be cut. The high prices that have made farmers rush their crop to contract even at the rate of $15 a ton, and manufacturers have not made the usual contracts for large contract acreage, as mentioned. In 1915 it is estimated that the produce of 9400 acres of cabbage was cut for kraut, but since prices are favorable it is probable that the area will not exceed this year.

Owing to the meeting of the Board of Supervisors' session of the Citizens' Market Commission was uneventful. There was no change in prices was a slight decrease in the amount eggs to 44 cents a dozen. The receipts totaled 136,800 pounds of potatoes, 10,000 pounds of cheese, 10,000 sacks of onions, 1800 sacks of beans and 1000 sacks of apples.

REVIEW OF GAS CASE SOUGHT.

City Files Plea with State Rail Commission.

Recent Rate Decision Called Discriminatory.

Demand for a Natural Supply Soon to be Made.

City Attorney Stephens yesterday filed with the local office of the State Railroad Commission an application for a rehearing of the gas-rate problem. The general grounds are that the recent decision of the commission was discriminatory in that it divided the city into districts and fixed a different rate for illuminating and fuel gas in each district.

In his petition the City Attorney asserted that the city has prepared to adopt an ordinance requiring the various gas companies to furnish a natural supply for both domestic and industrial consumption, and pointed out the fact that in the near future the commission will be asked to fix the rate for natural gas. In fact, the proposed new ordinance probably will be completed today and presented to the Council tomorrow.

The petition further states that at the recent hearing no testimony was taken directly in reference to districting the city, and the matter was not discussed or considered, either in the taking of testimony or in arguments; that the city has had no opportunity to cross-examine the engineering reports before the commission upon which the districting was based, with the issue of districting the city before it; that the officer of the city who verifies this petition is the president of the Board of Public Utilities, and that, after a study of the districts as prescribed by the commission, states that he believes changes should be made in the lines of several of the said districts; also, that if a rehearing should be granted he would be able to point out these suggested changes with very little delay, but that he has not been able to prepare such suggestions in the short time that has elapsed since the rendering of the decisions.

TO COMBAT TRAITORS.

Loyal Leagues Formed of Campaign Against I.W.W., Pro-Germans in the Southland.

For the purpose of educating the residents of Southern California as to the object of the entry of the United States into the world war and to urge support of the government during the conflict, the California Loyal League was organized at No. 227 Coulter Building yesterday.

Maj. A. F. Judson was elected chairman of the league and assisting him will be Capt. Charles A. Phelps, vice-chairman; Peter Young, treasurer, and E. A. Somner, secretary. The Organization Committee consists of J. B. Woods, chairman; Judge Frederick G. Henlig, Hugh Evans, Capt. Joseph Davis and Capt. John Curtin. John H. Osborn was chosen chairman of the Finance Committee; he will be assisted by Elliott H. Barrett and A. K. Lindley, while John L. Richardson was elected chairman of the speakers' bureau.

The plans of the league call for an aggressive campaign to combat the menace of the I.W.W., pro-Germans and others who attempt to hinder the nation.

In a statement issued by Maj. A. F. Judson, head of the organization, the danger of traitors in the United States was enlarged upon and a call for every loyal citizen to support the government was issued.

ANTHRAX KILLS SHEEP.

Official Report Allays Suspicion that Rindge Animals Were Poisoned by Ranchers.

The official report of the cause of death of 200 sheep on the Malibu ranch is that it was anthrax, a fatal cattle disease. When the rapid deaths of the Shropshire and Merino sheep was reported to the Rindge company, Dr. Ward Rowland, deputy State Veterinarian, and Dr. L. M. Hurt, County Live Stock Inspector, were notified, and went to the Malibu ranch. There they tested the blood of a dying sheep and discovered that instead of poison it was afflicted with anthrax. The remaining sheep will be isolated and vaccinated.

The official report allays the suspicion that the sheep had been poisoned by some person with a grievance against the Rindges, growing out of the closing of the road used by settlers in the Santa Monica Mountains.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday authorized the County Counsel to prepare an ordinance regulating the use and sale of anthrax vaccine.

ASKS MEDICINE TALK.

Public Service Board has a Plan to End Trouble Over City Power Pole System.

Upon the suggestion of its attorney, W. B. Mathews, the Public Service Commission yesterday decided to send a communication to the Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation suggesting a conference at which the matter of stringing power lines and erection of poles may be adjusted. The city and the company have been at loggerheads over the matter for some time and Attorney Mathews said he believes they can reach an agreement.

LIED TO ENLIST.

Edward Jacob, a mentally-unbalanced Hungarian, charged with having made a false statement before the registration officials, was discharged by United States Commissioner Hammack yesterday. Jacob, a tailor, thought if he got into the army he would win a job making clothes for the soldiers. He had given his age as 30 years, so that he might enlist, when, as a matter of fact, he is about 45.

NO CEMETERY, SAYS OFFICIAL.

Needles' Hope of Acquiring One by Federal Grant is Dealt Fell Blow.

Needles does not get the forty acres of land it sought for cemetery purposes, according to a decision of Commissioner Tallman of the General Land Office, which was received here yesterday. His decision affirms the previous ruling of Register Roche and Receiver Mitchell of the local Land Office.

In the original opinion, the Federal officials found that the land in question had been withdrawn from every form of public entry, September 12, 1903, under the Reclamation Act, and is, therefore, not open to appropriation by the Needles city authorities.

The commissioner also finds that the application of the city is fatally defective from the fact that there is nothing in the record to show that the City Council of Needles ever authorized City Attorney Bailey to secure the land, and the suggestion is made that if further appeal is to be taken to the Secretary of the Interior that the papers be amended in that regard.

Domestic Annals.

MARRIED LIFE WAS SHORT AND PEPPERY

HUSBAND SAYS HE HAD TO COOK OWN BREAKFAST.

Displeased, She Cut Back Out of His Coat, Husband Says in Divorce Proceedings—Climax was Reached when She Threatens to Knife Him, Following Quarrel.

S. G. Seeley evidently had a breezy time with his wife, Violet Seeley. In Judge Hewitt's court yesterday, where he sought and obtained a decree of divorce, he testified that he cooked breakfast for himself every morning during his short married life, except once.

"She told me she would not get breakfast for me or the best blank man living," he said. He further testified that she told him that it was none of his blank business what she did and that she was going to do as she pleased, and that, further, she put a knife under her pillow and told him she would stick it into him if he "didn't shut up."

Mr. Seeley also accused his wife of throwing gravy on his clothes on another occasion. Again, he stated, when she asked him for money to go to one of the beaches and he refused, she took an article from the library table, threw it on the floor and screamed. Then, rushing into the bedroom, he asserted, she cut the back out of his coat.

One day, Mr. Seeley continued, she came home with the front of her skirt cut out. In a fit of temper she told her husband, he stated, that she had flirted with a man and he took her to the beach. As he was intoxicated and couldn't drive the automobile well she tried it and fared worse, driving the machine into another party. Then, when she was threatened with arrest, she loudly screamed that if she was arrested she would kill herself.

"AS LAW DIRECTS."

Thus Did a Former Council Member Dispose, in His Will, of His Moderate Estate.

"As the law directs" was the only specific term used in the will of the late John W. Snowden, former Councilman and live-stock dealer, for the disposition of his estate valued at $20,920. The will was filed for probate in the Superior Court yesterday.

The petition was filed by Mrs. Alice M. Snowden, the widow. Other heirs mentioned are Earl F. Snowden and Mildred F. Snowden, a son and daughter.

Mr. Snowden died at his home, No. 2856 Budlong avenue, on the 1st inst. The will filed was dated in 1906.

ORPHANS' HOME AIDED.

Superior Judge Orders Portion of Big Estate to be Given to Children's Institution.

A partial distribution of the $158,000 estate of the late Mrs. Arminta Bernice McGarvin to the Los Angeles Orphans' Home was ordered by Superior Judge Houser yesterday when the case was heard again. The distribution was in accordance with a provision in the will.

Mrs. McGarvin provided that the proceeds from the sale of her home and household furniture on West Pico street be turned over to the home.

BETKOUSKI CLEAR.

Civil Action Seeking to Oust Him from Council Dismissed for Very Good Reasons.

Machinery was set in motion yesterday to dismiss the proceedings against Martin Betkouski, former president of the City Council. It was charged in an action seeking his removal from office that he had sold and bought property in connection with the site for the Los Angeles Union Terminal Company, which was in violation of his oath of office and as a member of the Council.

Mr. Betkouski's term of office expired before the cases could be brought to trial. Yesterday, after consultation with Dist.-Atty. Woolwine, it was decided to file a motion dismissing the accusation in view of the fact that Mr. Betkouski is now out of office. The civil action was dropped.

MASSIVE ARCH EQUAL TO TEST.

Concrete Span Sustains More than Million Pounds.

Settles Only a Quarter Inch Under Terrific Load.

City Declares Unique Support Safe in All Respects.

Buried almost out of sight by a test load of hundreds of tons of bricks, sand, steel bars and sacks of cement and plaster, the massive gallery of the Stability Building Company's new theater at Third and Broadway, concerning the reinforced concrete arch support of which there has been much speculation and discussion in engineering and architectural circles, was yesterday inspected by the board of Public Works and Chief Building Inspector Backus and pronounced entirely "safe." The test, declared to have been the severest ever applied to structural work in Los Angeles, was demanded by the authorities on account of the unusual character of the construction, and has attracted wide attention.

Nearly a week was occupied by the contractor, R. H. Arnold, in piling the test load onto the gallery, as it was necessary to convey everything in wheelbarrows up a specially built incline from the street level. The load consisted entirely of building materials being used in finishing the huge combined office and theater building and had a total weight of approximately 1,300,000 pounds. Throughout the loading process, A. C. Martin, architect and engineer of the building and designer of the 104-foot arch which forms the formerly much-mooted gallery support, was an interested spectator.

The inspection of the gallery and its load occupied less than an hour. Measurements were made to determine the deflection of the arch and its supporting foundations and, as the result of these, it was ascertained that the huge span had settled under the load only a quarter of an inch and that its lateral expansion had been only an eight of an inch at each end. These computations made, the city officials left and the huge task began of conveying all the materials from the gallery back to the street level. Several days will be occupied in this work.

The city building ordinances require that galleries in theaters have a carrying capacity of 125 pounds to the square foot, or about five times the calculated weight of the persons using them. The load piled on the unique gallery of the new Broadway playhouse amounted to 250 pounds to the square foot.

WEST ADAMS WILL STAY ON OUTSIDE.

The Council yesterday afternoon, at a meeting of the Committee of the Whole, refused to reconsider the question of annexation of the West Adams district. Ten days ago it decided to postpone action ninety days and yesterday some of the property owners who had voted in favor of annexation, requested the Council to rescind its action.

Victor G. Kleinberger urged the members not to reconsider their action, declaring that a majority of the property owners oppose annexation, and if the territory be formally taken into the city at the present time it will interfere with plans for drainage.

WOMAN PROVES TRUE PATRIOT.

Husband Ran Down Country, so She Refused Any Alimony from Him.

Mrs. Mary E. Gracia waived alimony from Henry Gracia, who is also known as Albert E. Garcia, in Judge Valentine's court yesterday, because, she said: "He is always running down this country, and I don't want anything from that kind of a man."

Mrs. Gracia testified in divorce proceedings that her husband blamed the government because he could not get a living, and so failed to support her.

On June 10, 1915, Gracia wrote his wife from San Diego that he would leave that city the next day for Mexico. "You perhaps have the idea that I am a revolutionist," he wrote. "I just had to be in order to exist while I am not killing any one. It is my lot to look after many things rather difficult." His business, it appears, was very secret.

Disagreement Looms.

DISLIKE PLAN FOR NEGRO FIRE HOUSE.

COMMISSION MAY REFUSE TO HEED COUNCIL'S PROPOSAL.

Board Takes Stand that City Heads Have no Authority to Dictate How Stations are to be Operated—Defer Action on the Matter.

That the Fire Commission will refuse to heed the recommendation made by the Council that the fire station at Fourteenth street and Central avenue be used exclusively by negro firemen was a well-founded rumor at the City Hall yesterday. This determination has been reached after careful consideration and the commission takes the stand that the Council has no authority to dictate as to how any station shall be operated.

There were rumors, also, to the effect that the white firemen throughout the city would go on a strike if the Fire Commission took the action proposed by the Council. This caused members of the Council and other city officials to hesitate about demanding immediate action.

That the Fire Commission may instruct the Civil Service Commission to erase from its list of eligibles all names of men who have passed former examinations is considered more than probable. If such action is taken an attempt will be made to fill the eligible list with white men.

ACTION OVER JEWELS.

All legal obstacles in the case of Mrs. Dorothy Green against the Provident Pledge Corporation were cleared away by Superior Judge Monroe yesterday when he overruled a demurrer filed by Mrs. Green's attorneys to the answer of the defendant.

Mrs. Green seeks the recovery of jewels valued at $3500 which she pawned with the Provident concern to obtain a loan of $850. The answer alleges the jewels were sold at auction in default of interest.

COUNCIL RECOMMENDS CAR LINE EXTENSION.

STEPS TAKEN TO ACCOMMODATE MANY CITIZENS.

Board of Public Utilities Given Instructions to Place Matter Before Los Angeles Railway Company—South Park Avenue and West Jefferson Lines Affected.

The Public Utilities Committee of the Council yesterday recommended that the Los Angeles Railway Company extend its lines on South Park avenue from Slauson avenue to Manchester, and on West Jefferson street from its present terminus to Ninth avenue. The matter was referred to the Board of Public Utilities Committee with instructions to carry out the recommendation.

The Council committee made a thorough investigation of the petitions which were filed by interested citizens and reported that the pleas for car-line extensions were well grounded. If the lines are extended several hundred people will be accommodated, according to the report.

For Better Service.

A communication from the San Pedro Chamber of Commerce complaining that business is seriously handicapped in the harbor district because of inadequate telephone service was referred by the Council yesterday to the Board of Public Utilities, and a copy will be sent to the Southern California Telephone Company. The Council agreed that the facilities should be improved, and recomended that the company comply with the request.

Improvements Ordered.

The Council yesterday adopted ordinances for the improvement of Reseda avenue between Devonshire street and Ventura boulevard, and Wilton drive, from a line 75.36 feet south of First street, to a point 66.67 feet north of Second street, and a portion of Wilton place.

More Details Demanded.

The Board of Public Works yesterday asked the Council for permission to purchase a supply of road oil for the city's rock crushers. The Council indicated its willingness to buy the material, but in the absence of information as to how much oil will be needed, instructed the board to furnish the facts.

City Hall Briefs.

The Public Service Commission yesterday reported collections from the Southern California Edison Company for aqueduct power as follows: September 7, $1927; Sept. 6, $1665.

The Council yesterday fixed the compensation for election officials who served at the special election on the 5th inst at $4.

The petition of the Figueroa-boulevard Christian Church for cancellation of city taxes was denied yesterday by the Council.

Councilman Reeves was asked yesterday by the Council to investigate the plan recently proposed for saving money in the employment of janitors at the City Hall under the contract basis.

DIVORCES WIFE; WILL LEAVE FOR FRANCE.

DIDN'T LOVE AND ADMITTED IT, HE TESTIFIES.

Son of Former Supervisor has Case Advanced on Calendar, Because He will Shortly Enter Service with Ambulance Corps. Property Settlement Made.

Having his suit for divorce against Blanche I. Butler advanced because he expects to leave soon for France as a member of the Ambulance Corps, Sidney T. Butler obtained a decree in Judge Valentine's court yesterday on the ground of desertion.

A story of unrequited love was told. Mrs. Butler often told her husband, he asserted, that she did not love him. His mother, the widow of Sidney A. Butler, a former Supervisor, corroborated her son's story, detailing conversations on this subject with her daughter-in-law.

About a year ago Mrs. Butler filed a separate-maintenance suit against her husband. He testified at that time that his father's $163,000 estate was entirely under the control of his mother, and that he only received an allowance of $50 a month from her. The wife, on the other hand, testified that she had been accustomed to use from $150 to $200 a month for living expenses. She was made a temporary allowance of $30 a month at that trial.

It was testified yesterday that there had been a property settlement.

WOULD DELAY DRY PETITION.

Council may Ask that it be Filed in November

To Allow Election on Sewer Bonds Month Later.

Two Campaigns Might Prove Unwise Procedure.

For the purpose of avoiding two special elections, members of the City Council yesterday were considering the advisability of requesting the Anti-Saloon League leaders to defer the filing of their petition until November 6. If the request be not denied, it will be possible for the Council to place upon the ballot at an election to be called for December 6 the proposition of a bond issue to make extensive improvements to the outfall sewer system at Hyperion.

It was not definitely decided yesterday by the Councilmen what action they will take, nor what recommendations they will make to the Anti-Saloon Leaguers. However, they expressed the opinion that it will be necessary to call an election to decide the bond issue and they felt that the citizens would object to two of them.

When the petition is filed with the Council, demanding an election under initiative proceedings, the Council must set the date after thirty days and not longer than sixty days. An election on a similar bond proposition was held last spring and another cannot be held within six months. As a result, the earliest date for a sewer-bond election would be December 6.

It is estimated that the "wet" and "dry" election will cost the city $40,000.

GELCICH IN COURT, GETS CONTINUANCE.

Pleadings of Vincent G. Gelcich will be heard before Superior Judge Frank R. Willis September 18 in the charges brought against him by the grand jury, which indicted him on two counts recently. He is charged with having passed worthless checks.

Mr. Gelcich was called for arraignment yesterday, but because he was not ready for the hearing, Judge Willis granted the motion of Attorney E. W. Schraeder for a continuance.

EVEN CHARITY COMES HIGHER.

Welfare Commission Seeks Added Appropriation to Buy Milk.

At the expense of an additional $1.50 a month, each, 1100 children may have a glass or two of milk a day. A plea for the appropriation was made the Board of Supervisors yesterday by the Public Welfare Commission and referred to Supervisor Dodge.

These 1100 children are in the care of private families and institutions. The county allows $11 a month for each child. But the high cost of living eats a hole in this appropriation, and an increase is deemed necessary.

VAGRANT A DESERTER.

Sailor, Recently Sent up for Six Months, is Paroled to the Navy Department.

Frank MacChiaroli, a deserter from the navy, was paroled to a Federal officer by Dist.-Atty. Woolwine yesterday, to be taken to Mare Island for trial. MacChiaroli was born in Los Angeles nineteen years ago. He was arrested as a vagrant at Huntington Park last August 27 and sentenced by Justice Cassiday to 180 days in jail.

Meantime, a telegram was received from the Navy Department stating that MacChiaroli, a second-class seaman, was a deserter and asking that he be sent north for trial.

OIL VS. HOMESTEAD CONTESTS UNDER WAY.

The interesting question of the priority of a mineral over a homestead entry is being threshed out in the local Land Office before Register Roche and Receiver Mitchell.

The Santa Paula Oil Company is the complainant, and Andrew J. Jump and Elisha O. Coates are the contestees. The land involved lies south of Santa Paula, and the complainants have two flowing wells on the property, developed last year.

Under the law the mineral claim has precedence over any other, but in these cases it is a question whether oil was discovered in commercial quantities previous to the homestead location of Jump and Coates.

New Styles in FURS

Quality Is Better Here Than Ever

Let there be no misunderstanding on this—Obrikat furs both in quality and in workmanship surpass those shown here in previous years—that means, the best on the Coast in every respect. It is indeed remarkable that while most of the furs shown now are not as good as in previous seasons, owing to market conditions, we have not only maintained the quality which has characterized our productions, but distinctly bettered them. Buying power and importing counts.

Here you are just as welcome whether you come to look or to buy—we give equal attention and the same courtesy to all.
